MEDIATORS IN RECESS.

May Never Again Reassemble.

Carranza's Delay Evidently a Deathblow to the Peace Negotiations.

Boast Is that They Averted War Between the United States and Mexico.

Supreme Chief Picks Likely Ground for a Battle With Villa.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

VERA CRUZ, June 30.—The departure of the French cruiser Conde for Puerto Mexico, and the sailing of the German cruiser Dresden, presumably for the same port, gave rise to the suggestion here today that President Huerta's family, and perhaps he himself would be afforded refuge on one of the warships. Several weeks ago a room was prepared on the Conde for some one who never arrived, and it was current gossip aboard the vessel that President Huerta was to occupy the quarters.

NIAGARA FALLS (Ont.) June 30.—An indefinite recess of mediation was decided upon today by Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil and Ministers Suanez and Naon of Chile and Argentina, respectively.

This action followed the receipt of a note from Gen. Carranza expressing an inclination to participate in informal conferences with Huesta delegates for the solution of Mexico's internal problems, but asking for more time in which to consult his subordinate generals.

In the meantime, Ambassador Da Gama, who returned here today after a week's vacation, announced that he would leave again tomorrow for his summer home in Long Branch, N. J. Minister Naon will depart tomorrow night for Washington, where he may talk further with Luis Cabrera, one of the Constitutionalist agents, and Washington government officials. Minister Suarez said tonight he would leave here on Thursday for Washington.

The Huerta delegates will decide tomorrow whether they will wait here for the Constitutionalist delegates or go to some summer resort in the United States for the interval. The American delegates will be the last to leave.

MEDIATORS EXPLAIN.

The mediaters explained tonight that the mediation conference had not adjourned, but that perhaps the last formal meeting had been held. Communication hereafter will be carried on by telegraph from the respective homes of the mediators and delegates. Ambassador Da Gama pointed out that the mediation of a boundary dispute between Ecuador and Peru, in which the United States and Brazil had tendered their good offices in 1910, was still in progress. A mediation board, he explained, is not like an international conference with a definite time for meeting and adjourning, and

AIRSHIP ABOUT "RIGHT" FOR FLIGHT TO EUROPE.

Final Test of the "America" Scheduled in Hammondsport for Today.

Departure for St. Johns, N. F., Where the Great Craft Will Be Launched on the Undertaking to Cross the Atlantic Ocean May Be Made Before the Fourth of July. Extraordinary Hopes and Achievements.

BY LIEUT. JOHN CYRIL PORTE, R.N.

HAMMONDSPORT (N. Y.) June 30.—By moonlight tonight we put the America through her paces and reached the conclusion that she is about right. We shall try her again in the morning to make sure, but tonight it seemed practically certain that her planing surfaces will meet the requirements for lifting her load off the water.

I hope to complete tomorrow the testing of her lifting power and the trial of the Olmstead propellers, which were shipped from Buffalo this afternoon. If nothing new happens, I shall be able to call it a finished job and leave Hammondsport tomorrow night for New York to pack up for sailing Friday afternoon for St. Johns.

The wind kept us from an early trial this morning, but I must say this much for the weather man, that he at last gave us a clear, beautiful day, and by noon it was perfect flying weather. This evening it was too lifeless for our purpose, since we do not expect to get off the water without the assistance of some head wind when we have on the full load.

The first trial today was made with the planing surfaces as they were last night when we carried ten passengers. We took on something more than 600 pounds of gasoline, 933 pounds of men and 200 pounds of sand. The result was not satisfactory, so we brought the America back to dock and planned another extension of the planing boards. After a conference among Mr. Curtiss, Lieut. Towers of the American navy and myself, we agreed upon a lateral extension of the dorsal fins that had been grafted upon the sides of the "whale." The extensions amounted to four square feet on each side.

This new grafting operation was completed in time to take the America out again at 7:30. We had aboard seven men, including Commodore Charles R. Van Voorhis of the Rochester Yacht Club, but his 230 pounds proved to be too much ballast, so we dropped him overboard, into a rowboat, among two other passengers.

The planing with the new surface was easy to attain, but, not entirely to my surprise, we found the America porpoising in a most drunken and ridiculous manner. Mr. Curtiss, skimming around us in his scooter, reached the conclusion that the back step on the planing surface, which we grafted on in our experiments today, should come off.

A hundred willing spectators helped to drag the America ashore for this—we hope—the last alteration. Supperless, and several of them wet to their waists, the Curtiss employees fell to this task of removing the eight

WILSON DODGES SUFFRAGE; SNUBS WOMAN DELEGATION

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 30.—The President informed a delegation of about 500 clubwomen who called at the White House this afternoon to enlist his aid in the interest of the Bristow-Mendell amendment enfranchising women, that he believed the question of woman suffrage should be settled by the State and not by the Federal government.

When he was questioned, after he stated his views in a brief speech to the "Votes for Women" advocate, he indicated his displeasure by departing from the East Room abruptly, leaving many of the women astounded by his action. From one corner came a loud hiss, but there was also a burst of handclapping from members of the delegation who did not interpret the President's departure as an affront to them.

At the White House it was stated that President Wilson meant no of-

WILSON SIGNS BILL FOR BIG NAVAL INCREASE.

Two Superdreadnoughts Provided for and Third Huge Vessel Is Authorized to Be Built from Proceeds of Sale of Idaho and Mississippi to Greece.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 30.—President Wilson's signature to the Naval Appropriation Bill today authorized the construction of two superdreadnoughts and fourteen auxiliary war vessels, and the building of a third huge battleship with proceeds from the sale of the Idaho and Mississippi.

Secretary Daniels, pointing out tonight that the bill carried half a million dollars less than last year's appropriation, said retrenchments had been accomplished "through economies and insistence upon competition."

"The navy is a seagoing institution, and strict adherence to the principle that expenditures ashore should be subordinated to expenditures afloat has given us these great advantages in new building," said Secretary Daniels. "Yet, while the fleet is greatly strengthened, generous provision is made for expenditures ashore that are urgently required for efficiency and future economy.

"There has been a reduction of a million and a half dollars in the appropriation for public works; $400,000 in the bureau of steam engineering and construction and repairs; $700,000 in the bureau of ordnance, and more than $200,000 in the marine corps estimates. It was this same practice that enabled the department to save approximately $1,000,000 on the construction of battleship No. 39."

There will be no direct dealing between the United States and the Greek government involved in the sale of the battleships Idaho and Mississippi. Secretary Daniels said the vessels were to be sold by the Navy Department to private firms which would transfer the title to the Greek government.

OVERT ACT IN ULSTER.

Police and the Regulars Must Now Disarm Thousands or Back Down.

Order to Appear With Full Kit Shapes the Issue for the Authorities.

Sir George Richardson Tells Volunteers to Keep the Rifles Primed.

LONDON, June 30.—The Times Belfast correspondent cables:

"In consequence of two Ulster volunteers, carrying arms and fully uniformed, having been stopped by the police in the street, and their names and addresses taken, General Sir George Richardson, commanding the Ulster volunteer force, has in contemplation the early issue of a general order permitting the Ulster volunteers to carry their rifles in the streets of the city. Hitherto no attempt has been made to carry arms in the open streets. What the result will be no one can foretell."

M'CLURE'S PREDICTION.

S. S. McClure, the American publisher, who is a native of Ballymena, and who is studying the question on the spot, declares:

"If Ulster is not excluded from the home-rule law there will be the worst civil war in history."

CLIMAX HASTENED WITH VOLUNTEERS.

LONDON, June 30.—Affairs are hastening to a climax in Ulster. A Daily Mail dispatch from Belfast says that last night two Ulster volunteers, who were wearing their full kit and carrying rifles, were stopped by policemen, who took their names and addresses and warned them they would be summoned for carrying arms without a license. Nothing more was heard of the incident from the authorities, but it was reported to the Ulster inner council and it is certain that no more Ulster volunteers will be molested.

Sir George Richardson, commander of the Ulster volunteer forces, is issuing a general order permitting Ulster volunteers carrying their rifles in the main streets of Belfast.

This means that if the order is carried out the police will have to reckon with 30,000 armed and trained men who take instructions only from military commanders, and as they form a much stronger force, both the police and regulars will obviously be powerless.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Dwight W. Morrow will become a partner tomorrow in the banking firms of J. P. Morgan & Co., of this city; Drexel & Co. of Philadelphia; Morgan, Grenfell & Co., of London, and Morgan, Harjes of Paris.

Mr. Morrow is on the Executive Committee of the Bar Association of New York and is a member of the State and National Bar Associations. Mr. Morrow aided actively in furthering the legislation which resulted in the workmen's compensation law of New Jersey, and has been serving as one of the counsel defending the constitutionality of that law.

Flickering.

LOOKS LIKE END OF MEDIATION.

Carranza Delays Apparently to Gain More Time.

Protocol With Huerta Now Rumor at Washington.

Widening of Rebel Breach Serious Complication.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—With the Mexican mediation conference at Niagara Falls on the eve of a recess pending the proposed meeting of representatives of Gen. Huerta and the Constitutionalists to discuss the internal affairs of their republic, Gen. Venustiano Carranza, first chief of the Constitutionalists, telegraphed his agents in Washington tonight that he had not yet heard from his associate leaders with regard to the wisdom of participating in such a conference.

Carranza's representatives, who had expected earlier in the day that some definite reply might be received by night, announced later that nothing would be learned until tomorrow at the earliest.

The general belief here was that it would be some time before any decision was reached. In some quarters the feling is persistent that the Constitutionalist leaders will delay replying to the invitation of the mediators to participate in a conference with Huerta's delegates as long as possible, in order to gain time for straightening out their own internal affairs, and to force their military campaign as near as possible to Mexico City.

In the event the Constitutionalists finally refuse to negotiate in any way with Huerta's delegates over the internal affairs of Mexico, it is said, a protocol between the United States and Huerta as to international problems would be completed, but while some form of provisional government might be agreed to, it hardly could be effective so long as the internal revolution continued.

REPORT AS TO HUERTA.

Considerable apprehension was created in official quarters over an unofficial report communicated to the State Department that Gen. Huerta had begun to get his family near the eastern coast of Mexico by sending two of his children toward Puerto Mexico. This led to reports that he was preparing to flee from Mexico in order to save himself and family from falling into the hands of the Constitutionalists.

CARDEN'S ADVICE.

Another disquieting development was the advice to English subjects to leave Mexico, given by Sir Lionel Carden, the British Minister at Mexico City. Although Sir Lionel Carden explained that he feared a famine in food and fuel, his action aroused fears of an uprising in Mexico City or its environs.

Reports continue to reach Washington relating to the widening of the breach between Gens. Villa and Carranza. Should this become more serious the international situation, it is admitted, would be further complicated.

Another of the Constitutionalist representatives to reach Washington today was Francisco Urquidi, who has been acting as consul for the Carranzistas at New York. He has been recalled to Mexico and tarried here to confer with Carranza's Washington agents before proceeding to Monterey.

HUERTA SPURNS REBEL ALLIANCE.

[BY MEXICAN CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BY GEORGE ADDISON HUGHES.

VERA CRUZ, June 30.—Huerta has angrily refused to consider an alliance with Carranza or to accept any treaty offers save through the Niagara Falls mediation delegates. Purported Carranzista envoys have left the capital following Huerta's order that they would be executed if they remained over the short time limit. It is doubtful if they live to escape from Federal territory.

Carranzistas here declare their chief did not send representatives to Huerta, but that the commissioners were self-appointed political agitators who saw an opportunity in Villa's resignation.

Personal letters from Rodriguez to members of his family in Mexico City demonstrate the hopelessness of mediation and the word here from the capital tonight is that conditions there are growing worse daily.

Elizabeth Woods, fiancee of Gen. Jimenez Castro, has resigned her government position and left for Mexico City in an attempt to have her sweetheart return here with her.

TAMPICO, June 29 (Via Laredo, June 30.)—Dangerous conditions in the Panuco oil fields near here, resulting from withdrawal from military protection, were called to the attention of Acting Governor De Lara here today by Rear-Admiral Mayo in a personal visit. De Lara courteously explained that the region affected, being in the State of Vera Cruz, was out of his jurisdiction, but promised to see that ample military protection is provided as quickly as possible.

ZAPATA DEFIES CARRANZA.

Southern Rebel Leader Declares He Will Fight Northern Chieftain "Forever" if Necessary.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, June 30.—News reached Mexico City today that Emiliano Zapata, the southern revolutionary, had published a decree rejecting any allegiance to Venustiano Carranza, and saying that the Constitutionalist chief had refused to accept the "Plan of Ayala," the original agrarian proclamation of the southern leader.

Zapata is said to have declared that he intends to extend his operations along the western coast of Mexico as far as Sonora, and that he will fight Carranza "forever."

The information was brought to Mexico City by persons who arrived from towns under the control of the followers of Zapata in the State of Morelos.

REPORT HUERTA MAY LEAVE.

Mexican President Said to Have Sent His Son and Daughter Toward Puerto Mexico.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Private dispatches received here today from unofficial sources in Mexico City stated that President Huerta had sent his son and daughter toward Puerto Mexico, and was making preparations for his own departure on short notice. The information was conveyed to the State Department.

RABASA DOUBTS REPORT.

NIAGARA FALLS (Ont.) June 30.—Emilio Rabasa, head of the Mexican delegation here, said he doubted very much the report that Gen. Huerta was preparing to leave Mexico City. He said that inasmuch as Gen. Huerta had eight children, four married and four unmarried, the departure of these had no significance.

CARDEN FEARS FAMINE.

Shortage of Supplies in Mexico City Said to Have Prompted Warning to British Citizens.

[BY MEXICAN CABLE AND A. P.]

VERA CRUZ, June 30.—Fear of famine, resulting from the advance of the Constitutionalist army and the cutting of the railway rather than anticipation of disorder in Mexico City, prompted Sir Lionel Carden's warning to British subjects to leave the Federal capital, according to passengers who arrived here today.

The impression was general among the Englishmen, all of whom had come down on business, that few persons would take advantage of the special British refugee train to Puerto Mexico, as most of these now in the capital preferred to remain there.

All who arrived here today agreed that the capital was quiet and there were no visible indications of unrest among the people. No confirmation of the evacuation of Aguascalientes by the Federal forces has reached here, but the railroad passengers said there were many rumors afloat regarding mutinies among the Federal troops in various places to the northward.

One passenger declared a band of revolutionists a few days ago attacked Necataxa, where the light and power plant supplying the capital is located, and it is reported other bands are active in the vicinity of Orizaba.

A report was brought in by passengers that fifty-eight Constitutionalists had been captured and executed near Orizaba last week.

TOO DIGNIFIED TO SEE VILLA.

CARRANZA DECIDES TO PLAY SAFE AND SENDS PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE.

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) June 30.—The definite statement that the proposed trip of Gen. Carranza to meet Gen. Villa in Torreon would be "beneath the dignity of the first chief," and that therefore Carranza had sent personal representatives, was made at Constitutionalist headquarters in Agua Prieta today.

It was also stated that Villa is as much in need of locomotives for his campaign southward as ammunition, and that this was his reason for hurrying northward to Torreon instead of pursuing the whirlwind campaign he had mapped out.

The arrival of nearly 700 soldiers in Agua Prieta since the coming of Col. P. Elias Calles, leader of the military faction in Sonora, gave rise to the report that Calles was merely waiting the outcome of the Carranza-Villa conference before taking the field against Jose Maytorena, Civil Governor of the State. Maytorena recently was nearly overthrown by Calles, but Carranza came to the Governor's rescue.

The report was denied, Constitutionalist leaders stating the troops were brought here for the purpose of equipping them with new khaki uniforms patterned after those of the United States army.

MRS. MADERO REMAINS NEUTRAL.

AGUA PRIETA (Sonora, Mex.) June 30.—Mrs. Francisco I. Madero, widow of the former President of Mexico, will take no part in the Carranza-Villa misunderstanding, according to a letter received from her today by Jorge U. Orozco, one of the Constitutionalist leaders here.

Orozco wrote her recently, asking her to use her influence in healing the breach. In a letter from Asbury Park, N. J., she stated that she would take no steps because of her ignorance of the matters at issue.

"Furthermore, as you are aware," she wrote, "ambitious and unscrupulous politicians are publishing in the press of the country that these troubles are due to machinations of the Madero family; therefore, any communication of mine would not remedy conditions."

COMMENTS OF WOMEN.

The following comments were made tonight regarding the President's attitude:

Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage:

"By his reply to the club women's deputation, the President, as the spokesman of his party, has definitely put his party on record as refusing help to the suffrage cause. The several million enfranchised women cannot fail to remember this fact in deciding upon their party affiliations next November.

"The weakness of his statement that as the leader of the party he still considered himself bound by the party platform is apparent in view of his recent action in forcing the Panama tolls bill through Congress in contradiction to the plank in the Baltimore platform."

Miss Lucy Burns, vice-chairman of the Congressional Union:

"I consider the deputation a very successful one because the President's stand in regard to woman suffrage has been made plain to the women of the country and they can choose their party affiliations accordingly.

"I think the President's statement that he could not properly submit to cross-examination was an extraordinary one. For a disfranchised class seeking political freedom to be informed that they may not question the views of the ruler of their country on the matter of their own political status is really difficult to comprehend. 'I will not submit to cross examination,' is a marvelously strange phrase on the lips of a Democrat President."

Mrs. William Kent, wife of Representative Kent of California:

"My feeling was one of great sadness to think that such a body of women could be received by their President with so little encouragement. I have never felt so keenly the responsibility of the women voters in this cause."

Mrs. Ellis Logan, president of District Federations of Women's Clubs:

"The President was most courteous and his words will be repeated in our home States to hundreds of women constituents who are awaiting his answer to our appeal."

WILSON'S REFUSAL PIQUES WOMEN.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Five hundred members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs marched to the White House today and drew from President Wilson a final refusal to accede to demands that he support the movement for a woman suffrage amendment to the Federal Constitution.

The President reiterated his statement to previous delegations that his party had not embodied this question in its platform and then for the first time announced his personal conviction that the suffrage issue was one for settlement by the States and not by the Federal government.

The women went away plainly disappointed and chagrined, some of them talking of immediate action against the Democratic party. Headed by such leaders as Mrs. Ellis Logan, Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, Mrs. Rheta Childe Dorr and Miss Alice Paul, they had marched to the White House with bands playing and banners flying. They massed themselves in the historic East Room, many carrying babies, who added their share to the unusual scene by cooing or crying accompaniments to the speeches.

Once inside the White House, the women made no demonstrations and allowed their leaders to do all the talking. There was no applause as the President entered the East Room. Mrs. Ellis Logan, president of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs, told the President of the adoption of a suffragist resolution at a recent general convention of her organization in Chicago. She then introduced Mrs. Wiley and Mrs. Dorr.

The latter spoke of the strength of the suffragist movement and said that the situation has changed materially since the Baltimore convention. There was a short pause, and then the President stepped forward and addressed his callers.

"No one could fail to be impressed by this great company of thoughtful women," said the President, "and I want to assure you that it is to me most impressive. I have stated once before the position which, as the leader of a party, I feel obliged to take and I am sure that you will not wish me to state it again. Perhaps it would be more serviceable if I ventured upon the confident conjecture that the Baltimore convention did not embody this very important question in the platform which it adopted because of its conviction that the principles of the Constitution which allotted these questions to the States were well considered principles from which they did not wish to depart.

"You have asked me to state my personal position with regard to the pending measure. It is my conviction that this is a matter for settlement by the States and not by the Federal government, and therefore, that being my personal conviction and it being obvious that there is no ground on your part for discouragement in the progress you are making, and my passion being for local self-government and the determination by the great communities into which this nation is organized of their own policy and life, I can only say that since you turned away from me as a leader of a party and asked me my position as a man, I am obliged to state it very frankly, and I believe that in stating it I am probably in agreement with those who framed the platform to which allusion has been made.

"I think that very few persons, perhaps, realize the difficulty of the dual duty that must be exercised, whether he will or not, by a President of the United States. He is the President of the United States as an executive charged with the administration of the law, but he is the choice of a party as a leader in policy. The policy is determined by the party or else upon unusual and new circumstances by the determination of those who lead this party. This is my situation as an individual. I have told you that I believed that the best way of settling this thing and the best considered principles of the Constitution with regard to it is that it should be settled by the States. I am very obliged to you."

"Is it not a fact that we have very good precedents existing for altering the electorate by the Constitution of the United States?" asked Mrs. Dorr.

"I do not think that that has anything to do with my conviction as to the best way that it can be done," returned the President.

"It does not, but it leaves room for the women of the country to say what they want through the Constitution of the United States."

"Certainly it does. There is good room, but I have stated my conviction and I have no right to criticise the opinion of others who have different convictions, and I certainly would not wish to do so."

MRS. WILEY'S QUESTION.

Mrs. Wiley asked, if it were a State matter, "would it not give the movement an impetus if the resolution pending before Congress were passed?"

"But that resolution is for an amendment to the Constitution," said the President.

"The States would have to pass upon it before it became an amendment. Would it not be a State matter then?" persisted Mrs. Wiley.

"Yes, but by a very different process, for by that process it would be forced upon the minority; they would have to accept it."

"They could reject it if they wished to; three-fourths of the States would have to pass it," interrupted Mrs. Lorr.

"Yes, but the other fourth could not reject it," said the President.

"Mr. President, don't you think that when the Constitution was made it was agreed that when three-fourths of the States wanted a reform that the other fourth would receive it also?" persisted Mrs. Dorr.

"I cannot say what was agreed upon. I can only say that I have tried to answer your question and I do not think it is quite proper that I submit myself to cross-examination," the President continued.

"Thank you, Mr. President, for the courtesy," replied Mrs. Wiley.

"I am very much obliged to you. It has been a pleasant occasion," said Mr. Wilson in parting.

TEACHERS START SALARIES FIGHT.

Women Ask Same Compensation as the Men Receive.

Declare California State Law Is Not Enforced.

Test Case to Be Instituted by the Association.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERKELEY, June 30.—Led by Miss Laura M. Kingsbury, teacher of history in the Eureka High School, women of the California High School Teachers' Association, in convention this afternoon, formally started a fight for salaries equal to those paid to men of the same grades and certification. Convinced that, although there is a State law specifying that there shall be no discrimination for sex, there is a wide difference being made, the women drew up resolutions asking that the State Board of Education enforce that law. These resolutions will be presented to the general session of the teachers' association on Friday.

The drafting of the resolutions is but a preliminary step in the fight for equality of pay checks, according to Miss Kingsbury.

A test case of the existing law and a united demand from the women teachers of the State were tentative lines of campaign mapped out in the brief Berkeley session.

ANGELENO'S VIEW.

"Supply and demand hasn't anything to do with it. It is a habit," declared Miss Gloria Carr of Los Angeles. "If we were to put up a fight for what we should be paid we might get it. I do not know as I blame the school board that doesn't raise the pay of a girl who hasn't the nerve to ask for it."

Before presenting the resolutions for adoption, Miss Kingsbury related her experiences before the Eureka school board, before the State board, and told of having written to the Governor telling of the law and its lack of enforcement. She states that it was everywhere known that there was such a law, but that many held it ineffective, "as if a school teacher has enough money to test a law in the courts," she added.

In a meeting early in June the State Board of Education passed a resolution indorsing the law and agreed to send copies of its action to the various city and county superintendents of the State.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION.

The resolution of the women teachers follows:

"Whereas, the State law states that females employed in the public schools shall in all cases receive the same compensation as male teachers who hold the same grade and certification.

"Whereas, the State Board of Education has recently adopted resolutions declaring that it is the sense of that body that the law be enforced and that this resolution be sent to every county and city superintendent.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that we heartily indorse the act of the State board in general and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction in particular and that we ask them to carry the matter still further and that we ask them to do all that lies in their power to see that the law is enforced."

The resolution received a unanimous vote.

RURAL SCHOOL CONDITIONS.

Discussion of rural school conditions occupied the attention of the general session during the morning. Prof. Olly J. Kern of the State University voiced a plea for consolidated country schools, the removal of shacks, and the building of union schools with modern facilities.

"The consolidated school develops the play instinct and affords healthy competition. It makes for a unified system of finance and hence better housing and equipment," he stated.

Mary Schenk Woolman of Simmons College, Boston, said:

"Girls in the country cook well and sew well because they have to. They do not, however, know anything of food values."

ENJOINS SILENCE ON JAP TREATY.

Bryan Wants Correspondence With Tokio Kept Secret.

Applies to the Pact Which Did Not Go Through.

Hope Said to Be Cherished It May Succeed Yet.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The agreement to withhold from publication the correspondence that has taken place between the United States government and Japan in regard to treaty negotiations, is said here to apply only to the correspondence that has passed since August 26 last in the course of an abortive effort to settle the California alien land law issue by a new treaty. The basis of the projected convention was to be a declaration of the right of Japanese residents in the United States to hold real property. No statement has been made as to the reason for keeping this correspondence secret, but it is understood Secretary Bryan still cherishes a hope that, failing a settlement of the dispute over the land question by ordinary diplomatic negotiations, it still may be possible to find a solution by recourse to the convention planned.

It is not understood that the prohibition against publication applies to the last note in the correspondence between the two governments in regard to the land act, which was withheld when the bulk of the correspondence was published for the reason that the Japanese government had not included it in the printed pamphlet it had prepared for submission to the Diet.

SILENT BY REQUEST.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

TOKIO (Japan) June 30.—Takaaki Kato, the Japanese Foreign Minister, announced today that details of the treaty negotiations between Japan and the United States on the subject of the California alien land ownership legislation would not be published out of deference to a request from the United States government, and also because the publication was deemed unnecessary.

The comment today of the more moderate among the leading newspapers unanimously expresses dissatisfaction with America, but following the cue given by the Foreign Minister, shows a disposition soberly to discuss the subject in the hope of enlightening instead of exciting the public.

The fear is expressed that Japan's case is hopeless and there is evidence of a strong feeling that the time has arrived to fix the status of Japanese subjects living abroad.

Many great corporations do not pay their taxes until the last day of the fiscal year and it is confidently expected that today's collections were unusually heavy.

New Jersey Representative Wants the Company's Financial Deals Investigated by the Interstate Commerce Committee—He Hopes that Looters May Be Punished.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—By resolution in the House today, Representative Townsend of New Jersey asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate the affairs of the Wabash Pittsburgh Terminal Railway Company and made startling charges regarding its financial affairs.

He asked the investigation with a view to ascertaining what physical properties, franchises and other things of value the company has acquired by purchase or otherwise since its organization until the Pennsylvania laws on May 9, 1904.

In a speech he declared that "No other story of high finance, as the alleged facts are presented to me, sets forth such a tangled tale of trickery, shifty dealing, repudiation, denunciation of contracts, and spoliation as this."

He said that his purpose of bringing the matter before Congress was "first, that such investigation may lead to restitution in part, at least, to investors, to punishment of the looters, to re-establishment of this corporation upon a sound, healthy and honest basis, and to rid Wall street of one of the scandals which has brought hundreds of reputable financiers into undeserved rebuke." The resolution was referred to the Rules Committee.

In addition to the President, Secretary Bryan, Secretary McAdoo, Secretary Redfield, Secretary Daniels and members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the House Foreign Affairs Committee, attended the high mass, after which the body was taken to the Washington navy yard with the escort of troops, placed on the gunboat Dolphin and taken to Hampton Roads, to be transferred to the battleship Kansas and taken to Venezuela.

Conference Called Today to Make Final Decision.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—A conference of Democratic Senators for tomorrow was called tonight by Majority Leader Kern to act on a resolution announcing to the country that Congress will stay in Washington until it has disposed of the anti-trust legislation.

The conference will begin tomorrow at 4 o'clock and although leaders are not certain what may develop, they expect the resolution announcing it to be the sense of the party in the Senate to put through trust legislation before adjournment, to be adopted without prolonged discussion. Its adoption will bind Democratic Senators.

Some opposition to the resolution is expected from some Democrats who are known to hold radically different views from those of the President with regard to the needs of the hour for trust legislation.

The adoption of the resolution is expected to expedite closing the session and it is predicted that unless debate on the three trust bills is unusually long, adjournment may be taken before September 1.

CUMMINS'S ARGUMENT.

Senator Cummins of Iowa today began an argument in support of the administration trade commission bill. He devoted his attention particularly to "unfair competition" made illegal by the bill, which has been attacked as vague and uncertain and likely to result in the setting aside of the law by the courts.

He said that his purpose of bringing the matter before Congress was "first, that such investigation may lead to restitution in part, at least, to investors, to punishment of the looters, to re-establishment of this corporation upon a sound, healthy and honest basis, and to rid Wall street of one of the scandals which has brought hundreds of reputable financiers into undeserved rebuke."

A large number of uncertain terms such as "unusual," "unfair," "unfaithful," were quoted by Senator Cummins as used in various statutes and held by the courts to be sufficiently definite for enforcement. He said the courts would have no difficulty in determining what was "unfair competition" and in enforcing the prohibition against it.

Senator Clark interrupted to ask if President Wilson had not spoken against trade commission legislation during his campaign for the Presidency, and quoted from a speech of the President in 1912.

Senator Cummins said that the President now favored a trade commission plan, and declared "it was the right of a wise man to change his mind."

AUTO FOR SPEAKER CLARK.

Vice-President Marshall Also Included in Appropriation Agreed to by Both Houses of Congress.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 30.—After days of parliamentary wrangling, both houses of Congress today agreed to appropriate for automobiles for Vice-President Marshall and Speaker Clark. Each will have a car costing $4500.

Republican Leader Mann, referring to the Baltimore convention, said:

"I think we ought to give him a slight recognition of his great abilities as Speaker, remembering that but for a chance he would now be President, enjoying the privilege of many automobiles. I do not wish to draw comparisons between the Speaker and the President, but if Champ Clark had been nominated and elected President we all would have been proud of him in that position."

HAS A WONDER OF AN AIRSHIP.

CINCINNATI, June 30. — Joseph Ostand, a machinist of this city, will begin an airship in August to carry twenty-four passengers and which, he says, will be absolutely incapable of falling. He predicts that it will revolutionize transportation in the air.

The ship will be forty feet high, supported and driven by inflated bags and powerful propellors and motors so constructed as to permit dynamite hurling in case it is adopted as a government machine.

Ostand believes he will be able to cross the ocean in three days. He has refused an offer of $10,000 for his ideas. It will cost $5000 to build the machine.

A company called the Ostand Aerial Navigation Company, capitalized at $15,000, has been incorporated.

"I worked on the plans eight years," said Ostand today. "I will make the first flight in Cincinnati and I will prove that my ship will do all that I claim."

Students in Vienna Burn Servian Flag Flying in Front of Degation, but Are Dispersed by Gendarmerie—Francis Ferdinand's Life Insured for Twelve Million Dollars.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

VIENNA, June 30.—Owing to the difficulty of finding accommodations and a desire to spare Emperor Francis Joseph the fatigue of entertaining foreign sovereigns, the German Emperor will be the only foreign monarch to attend the funeral of the late Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife, the Duchess of Hohenburg, whose bodies are now on the way to Vienna from Sarayevo. The exception was made in Emperor William's favor because of his close personal friendship with the dead Archduke.

Emperor Francis Joseph continues to bear up bravely under his bereavement and gave several long audiences today.

Anti-Servian demonstrations, which began Sunday in Bosnia, have now extended to Vienna. Three hundred German nationalist students joined in a noisy demonstration here today. They burned the Servian flag, which was flying at halfmast on the Servian Legation. The gendarmerie had much difficulty in dispersing the students.

Similar demonstrations occurred outside the War Office and in other parts of Vienna. The declaration of martial law at Sarayevo has had the desired effect. The city is now quiet but disorders continue in other parts of Bosnia.

News of the death of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and the Duchess of Hohenberg was broken to their children on Sunday evening. The orphans broke down and their aunt, Countess Chotek, fainted.

The Tageblatt today says the late Archduke's life was insured with Dutch companies for $12,000,000, and that of his wife for $6,000,000.

The will of the late Archduke was found and opened by Emperor Francis Joseph this evening. The Archduke's children, it is said, are to inherit their late father's estates in Bohemia and at Salzburg and Artstetten. The remainder of the estates, including the famous Villa Tivoli at Florence, are to go to the new heir to the throne.

THE Fourth is the day when we stop and lift our chins in pride at the flag—what it stands for—what it's stood for—and what each of us is trying to make it stand for.

No wonder part of our thought for the Fourth is directed to our appearance—due to the pride we feel.

The "store with a conscience" has set aside Wednesday, Thursday and Friday to give special attention to your appearance thoughts for the Fourth.

FIVE MEN KILLED IN WEST VIRGINIA.

TOLLING CHURCH BELLS AND MURDER MARK STATE'S EXIT FROM WET COLUMN.

CHARLESTON (W. Va.) June 30.—With the tolling of church bells throughout the State, West Virginia at midnight entered the column of prohibition States. The last day of licensed sale of intoxicants was beclouded by five sudden deaths.

One man was murdered in a Charleston saloon and robbed of 90 cents.

Mingo county had the bloodiest record, as four deaths occurred there.

The Yost prohibition law, which became effective at midnight, closes 1200 saloons in seventy-five cities and towns; closes twelve breweries and one distillery; throws 3000 men out of employment; takes from the revenues of counties, towns and State almost $1,000,000. It is one of the most drastic prohibition measures ever put into effect. It provides that spirituous liquors can be made and sold only for medicinal, mechanical and sacramental purposes.

The law was indorsed by a majority vote of 91,886 in November, 1912.

GIRL'S SALUTE RETURNED.

Young Missouri Man Explains Why He Fired Gun, Which Injured Six on Passing Train.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) June 30.—The shot that wounded six persons seated on the observation platform of an east-bound Burlington train near Liberty, Mo., last night, was an "honor salute" fired for the women on the platform, according to Fred Scudiero, 24 years old, who admitted today he fired the shot. He declared he had no intention of injuring anyone as he fired his shotgun in the air.

Scudiero's arrest followed the arrest of two companions, who, with Scudiero, had been hunting near the scene. Scudiero told the police that in company with three other men, he had spent the afternoon hunting. Returning toward Liberty, according to Scudiero, the four men saw the train approaching. As it whirled by, three women on the observation platform waved their hands at the hunters. His three companions took off their hats and returned the greeting. Then, Scudiero told the police, he decided to "salute" the party in military fashion, so he fired his shotgun into the air above the train.

Scudiero was arraigned at North Kansas City. His bond was placed at $2500 and his preliminary trial set for July 28.

FROST IN JUNE ANGERS POLES.

Freak of Michigan Weather Nearly Causes Murder of Realty Agent.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MENOMINEE (Mich.) June 30.—Anger over a devastating frost in June is now believed to have caused the attempted murder of Josef Kosinski of Wilson, Mich. Kosinski, an agent for an Escanaba Land Company, had located most of the Polish colony about his home. Shortly before the shooting an indignation meeting had been held by the Polish residents, who said Kosinski had sold them worthless land at high prices.

DISSOLVED AS A NATION.

Tribal Funds of the Cherokees to Be Divided; Senator Owen Will Get Fifteen Dollars.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The Cherokee nation, largest of the five civilized tribes, was dissolved as a nation at midnight and the tribal funds, amounting to $600,000, will be divided among its 41,000 members. Commissioner Sells of the Indian Office today called for the resignation of all Cherokee officials.

The dissolution of the tribe is in accordance with the policy of the Indian office.

Under the law it was intended that the five civilized tribes should dissolve as nations in 1906. Congress, however, extended that time in the discretion of the Indian Office. The Seminole nation practically has been dissolved. Senator Owen of Oklahoma is a member of the Cherokee nation and will receive as his portion of the tribal funds about $15.

MOYER SCORES I.W.W.

Declares Present Movement in Butte Is Conspiracy with the Present Socialistic Administration.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HELENA (Mont.) June 30.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, declared tonight that the movement to organize the independent union of miners in Butte was a conspiracy between the Industrial Workers of the World and the present socialistic administration of Butte. He produced figures which he said show that the per capita assessment of members of the Western Federation of Miners had been less in twenty years than in any other union, including the Typographical Union.

Referring to the present administration of Butte, Mr. Moyer said:

"Mayor Duncan is in sympathy with the Industrial Workers of the World because he sees therein a chance to elect another Socialist administration. He will use the new independent union, controlled by the Industrial Workers of the World, as a nucleus around which to build up a Socialist organization. Mayor Duncan is as much to blame for the situation in Butte as any one else."

SUTTER FAMILY QUITS MEXICO.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—Refugees arriving today from Mexico on the Pacific Mail liner City of Peru included several members of the Sutter family, descendants of the late Gen. John A. Sutter of pioneer fame.

Mrs. Nicolasa Vade Sutter, widow of John A. Sutter, Jr., who for years was Consul at Acapulco, brought with her eight grandchildren and her two daughters-in-law, Mrs. Guadelupi Sutter and Mrs. A. N. Sutter.

Mrs. E. N. Link, a daughter of John A. Sutter, Jr., by an earlier marriage, also was in the party. Her husband preceded her on an earlier steamer.

Mrs. Nicolasa Vade Sutter brought with her the consular commission given her husband by President Grant, and bearing his signature and that of Hamilton Fish, then Secretary of State, dated 1870.

Mrs. Link said she could no longer buy food nor the necessaries of life because of the opposition to the Americans.

VOTING TRUST NEAR END.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The Southern Railway Company, which has been controlled by a voting trust agreement since 1894, is to be handed over to the shareholders on July 31, next, according to a statement issued today by the surviving trustees. These are Charles Lanier and George F. Baker, who, with the late J. P. Morgan comprised the voting trust.

Roosevelt Lacks Vigor.

PITTSBURGH, June 30.—Former President Roosevelt made here tonight his first speech of the 1914 campaign. It was apparent as soon as Col. Roosevelt began to speak that he did not possess his former strength and vigor. There was a noticeable change in his manner as compared with that of two years ago when he was engaged in his previous campaign. Col. Roosevelt made the trip to Pittsburgh against the advice of his physician.

MOYER ADVISED TO KEEP AWAY.

Head of New Butte Union Says He's Not Wanted.

Rival Labor Factions Hold Separate Meetings.

Western Federation Afraid to Convene Openly.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BUTTE (Mont.) June 30.—The two factions of the Butte metal miners held separate meetings here tonight. The new union met in the largest hall in Butte, and the loyal members of the Butte local of the Western Federation of Miners in a place announced only to members.

Each meeting had nothing more than routine business on the programme. The old union's officers refused to state the number of miners who have re-enrolled in the union. The new independent organization, which has broken from the federation's jurisdiction had 3157 names on its books.

WARNING TO MOYER.

President M. McDonald of the new union said that it would not be advisable for Moyer and other general officers of the federation to return to Butte. He said the men are not wanted here.

McDonald's statement was made in connection with the request of Gen. Stewart for information from Moyer. Duncan as to whether police protection would be given to Butte miners who are refugees in Helena. The Mayor replied that he knew of no organized conspiracy against any persons, but that "persons responsible for or concerned in the firing from the miners' union hall last Tuesday would best insure peace by remaining away from Butte."

Today the fire department began tearing down the menacing walls of the miners' hall, which was wrecked by dynamite last Tuesday night.

REWARDS OFFERED.

The county commissioners offered rewards totaling $4000 in connection with the miners' riots of the last two weeks. A reward of $1000 was offered for the slayer of Ernest J. Noy, who was killed on the street in front of the miners' union hall a week ago.

A reward of the same amount was posted for the conviction of the men who pushed Alderman Frank Curran from the window of the miners' building on the day of the first riot. Curran's leg and wrist were fractured.

Rewards of $1000 each also were offered for the conviction of men who dynamited the homes of Patrick Sullivan and William O'Neil, officers of the Butte local.

TRIAL POSTPONED.

HOUGHTON (Mich.) June 30.—N. Hilton, attorney for the Western Federation of Miners, agreed today to a postponement of the trials of Charles H. Moyer and other officers and members of the union, it was announced here today. The charges of conspiracy growing out of the recent strike of copper miners were to have been heard in the district court of L'Anse on July 6. Because of the absence of witnesses the prosecution was unwilling to proceed.

I.W.W. ACQUITTED.

PATERSON (N. J.) June 30.—Carlo Tresco, the Industrial Worker of the World leader placed on trial here today for the second time, after the disagreement of the first jury on the charge of inciting listeners to assault the silk mill owners in a speech delivered during the silk workers' strike in 1913, was acquitted by a jury tonight.

PITTSBURGH STRIKE NEARS THE END.

PITTSBURGH, June 30.—The strike of the 10,000 employees of the Westinghouse industries, which has been on since June 5, will be over by the end of this week, according to the Grievance Committee of the strikers, which conferred late today with E. M. Herr, president of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

It is reported that President Herr gave them a signed statement which will be laid before the strikers for approval at a mass meeting tomorrow.

With State troopers patrolling the streets, East Pittsburgh was quiet today than at any time since the strike began.

National Salute of Twenty-one Guns Will Accompany Flag Raising at Exposition on the Fourth.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—The firing of a national salute of twenty-one guns will accompany the raising of the largest American flag in San Francisco July Fourth on the staff tic flagpole presented to the Panama-Pacific Exposition by Astoria, Or., was announced today.

A cablegram from Lisbon, Portugal, was received by President C. Moore of the exposition today, announcing that the Portuguese Senate and House have passed the bill appropriating $100,000 for Portuguese participation.

WOMAN WITCHERY IN DRESS CALLED MENACE TO MEN

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) June 30.—Condemning the so-called feminine movement "because it not only pushes women forward into the vocations and activities of men, but encourages them to imitate their voices and manners and cannot fail to have a deleterious effect upon the public welfare," Dr. Frank C. Richardson of the Boston University, speaking tonight before the convention of the American Institute of Homeopathy, declared the hope of America lies in a "renaissance of home life and the awakening of woman to the grandeur of her mission as a mother." This, he added, would constitute a sociologic influence tending to decrease crime and purify the lot "far more surely than will legislative enactments or women's suffrage."

Dr. Richardson advocated a repressive movement "to protect men from the witchery of modern fashion in dress," which, he asserted, "perverts our civilization and are an indecent assault on common sense."

Legislation prohibiting "this misery to see how far the female form can be publicly disclosed without infringing the law against indecent exposure," he said, "would go further toward social defense than any code that possibly could be drafted. Modern dances, the speaker said, constitute a "social ulcer, which is a dangerous menace to morality and a potent factor in the production of crime.

Dr. Richardson advocated a ... sive movement "to protect men ... the witchery of modern fashions ... dress," which, he asserted, "profanes ... our civilization and are an indecent ... assault on common sense."

Legislation prohibiting "this rivalry to see how far the female form can be publicly disclosed without infringing the law against indecent exposure," he said, "would go further toward social defense than any possible code that possibly could be drafted. Modern dances, the speaker said, constitute a "social ulcer, which is a serious menace to morality and a potent factor in the production of crime."

Fair Sex Change Registration to Republican Column.

Old Guard Increases Lead in Sacramento County.

Voters Complain of Practices of Johnson's Agents.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, June 30.—Nearly ... persons registered early in the ... year as Progressives by political lieutenants of the State administration have changed their registration to Republican this month, according to affidavits on file with the County Registrar.

Many of these who changed their registration did so when the verification deputies of State candidates began the circulation of nomination petitions.

A large percentage of the persons who changed to Republican when they learned they were registered Progressives, were women. A number of these said they have been registered Progressives, at the suggestion of the administration registration agents.

The great number of changes from Progressive to Republican has been a material factor in increasing the Republican registration in the county.

Figures announced today by the County Registrar give Republicans a lead of 756. The total registration for the county is 30,685 divided as follows: Republicans, 11,210; Democrats, 7924; Progressives, 10,454; Socialists, 1033; Prohibitionists, 185; declined to state, 719.

During the first four months of the year the Progressives by reason of their strenuous campaign enjoyed a lead of from 700 to 1400 over Republicans. Republicans overcame this lead in three weeks, when County Clerk Pfund ordered in all deputies after complaints had been made of the practices of Progressive agents.

FREDERICKS CLUBS FOR THE WOMEN.

ORGANIZATION WORK TO BE STARTED TODAY IN NORTHERN CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 30.—Organizations of women's clubs in San Francisco and Northern California to support the candidacy of Capt. John D. Fredericks of Los Angeles for the Republican nomination for Governor will be started tomorrow, according to Robert Sweeney and Walter R. Bacon, campaign managers for Fredericks.

The local Fredericks Finance Committee met this morning and mapped out campaign plans. It was decided to open headquarters in the Westbank building. The committee had a multitude of matters to occupy its attention and the formal opening of headquarters was deferred until tomorrow.

The Fredericks managers want to open up with a whoop tomorrow and wondered they were unprepared to get into the harness today.

Both Sweeney and Bacon say Fredericks's candidacy is gaining in favor rapidly in the north and that real work, when started here, will show immediate results.

SCHUMANN-HEINK DIVORCED.

Judge's Decree, Which Is Granted Singer on Statutory Grounds, Is Finally Entered in Chicago.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 30.—A decree of divorce in favor of Mrs. Ernestine Rapp (Mme. Schumann-Heink,) wife of William Rapp of New York, was granted today by Judge Denis E. Sullivan in the Superior Court. The decree provides that Mrs. Rapp may resume her maiden name, Ernestine Schumann-Heink and that the defendant shall pay the costs of the suit.

It also finds that the statutory charges made against the complainant, Mrs. Rapp, in the defendant's cross-bill answer, were not supported by the evidence introduced, but the decree is granted on statutory charges which it is held she proved against her husband.

No appeal is allowed by the decree unless the defendant's filing a cost bond and bill of exceptions within sixty days.

Mediators in Recess.

a fixed programme. Mediation chiefly offers advice to parties at conflict and devises a means for the composition of international delegates.

The mediators consider that their chief work has been done. They have drawn up a series of protocols setting forth the conditions under which the United States will recognize a new government. When a satisfactory government is established, American forces will be withdrawn and both international and national internal problems solved simultaneously.

DIPLOMATS PLEASED.

Originally the three diplomats tendered their good offices to avert war. This they think has been accomplished. In the acceptance by the United States of their tender of good offices, hope was expressed by Secretary Bryan that the "several elements in Mexico" might be brought together and the country pacified. The three envoys think that in devising the plan for informal conferences between the two factions their own task is ended, and their responsibility for the completion of the peace programme rests on the Mexicans themselves.

The result of these conferences may or may not be protocolized. The belief is general that so far as Niagara Falls is concerned mediation is over. The three mediators tomorrow will give a farewell luncheon to the newspaper correspondents, and the colony will begin to pack trunks.

It is not at all unlikely that when the Constitutionalists and Huerta delegates confer, it will be at some place other than Niagara Falls, to which the Constitutionalists object because they do not care to have it appear in Mexico that they are submitting their internal affairs to the mediators.

The diplomats will not visit the informal conferences unless invited by Huerta or Carranza delegates. They will be ready, however, to render such counsel and advice as may be sought but will not attempt to influence the course of the peace conferences. Whether the American delegates will be present when the informal conference is called is also a matter of uncertainty. Inasmuch as the United States is deeply concerned over the choice of a provisional President whom it can recognize, the question of recognition, it is suggested, might be more expeditiously handled with representatives of the American government on the ground.

REPORT FROM CARRANZA.

News that Gen. Carranza had telegraphed the invitation for informal conferences to all of his generals was regarded as encouraging and there were some who thought the question of sending delegates might be settled in another fortnight. Other observers believe it will require considerable formality to modify the plan of Guadalupe, which provided that Gen. Carranza should become provisional President immediately upon the military conquest of Mexico.

The decision to recess the conferences here without further ceremony leaves untouched the protocol once drafted, relating to the evacuation of Vera Cruz by American forces. The Huerta delegates indicated in their memorandum of June 12, made public in Mexico City today by the Department of Foreign Relations, that the presence of land and sea forces would imply seeming pressure during the conduct of a Presidential election or preparations for it.

WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS.

The Huerta representatives asked that a definite period be fixed within which the American forces would withdraw after the government was formally recognized. This point has been disposed of, the mediators believe, in one of the protocols already signed, which states that on the recognition of the new provisional government diplomatic relations between Mexico and the United States shall be restored. When this occurs, it is considered the withdrawal of American troops can be negotiated promptly through regular diplomatic channels. The Huerta delegates realize, too, that as soon as a new government is established, the American government will not be inclined to prolong its occupation of Vera Cruz.

GEN. CARRANZA IN NO HURRY.

LAREDO (Tex.) June 30.—That several weeks may elapse before Gen. Carranza replies to the proposals of the Niagara Falls mediators who have tendered their good offices in arranging a conference between representatives of Huerta and the Constitutionalists, is the opinion of travelers who arrived at Laredo today from Monterey, headquarters of the Constitutionalists.

No answer will be made until Gen. Carranza has submitted the proposal to all of his generals, and as a number of the commanders in the field are beyond reach of wire communication, the taking of the referendum vote will require some time.

In the meantime, it is said, Villa's victory at Zacatecas has done absolutely nothing to bring the Carranza-Villa factions together. At no place along the line where the division of the northeast is stationed, or at Saltillo or Monterey, was there any demonstration or celebration, such as usually follows a Constitutionalist victory, according to information brought here today.

Great significance is being placed by many in close touch with the situation on the announcement that Carranza will make Monterey his provisional capital. The strategic location of that city is being pointed out in view of the present situation. Monterey, it is said, will be the controlling gateway for available Mexican coal and fuel oil and ammunition. Any party holding it could cut off from Torreon and the west fuel supply necessary to move trains by checking shipments from Tampico and the North Mexican coal fields.

IMPORTANCE OF MONTEREY.

Monterey also is a railroad point of great strategic importance. Troops can be mobilized there quickly or distributed readily to points west and south toward Torreon and San Luis Potosi. The town also presents numerous avenues of retreat, the most available being the railroad lines to Laredo, Brownsville and Tampico, besides offering splendid facilities for withstanding a siege.

According to travelers, persons in close touch with the situation point out that should Villa continue his victorious course south toward Mexico City, and a definite and final break should come with Carranza, the latter, with Gen. Gonzales's force readily available along the line between San Luis Potosi and Monterey, might be in a position to readily cut across Villa's lines of communication to the north, shutting off all supplies south of Torreon and obtaining virtual control of Northern Mexico.—Carranza's headquarters, however, continue to emphasize the statement that the campaign against San Luis Potosi and the South will be pushed immediately.

SUPERIORS OF VILLA.

The announcement Monday that Gen. Pablo Gonzales and Gen. Obregon had been promoted to be generals of divisions is regarded as significant, according to today's arrivals. Gonzales, Obregon and Villa have been in actual command of the divisions of the northeast, northwest and the center, respectively, but none has been entitled to the formal title of general of division. Villa was selected to command the division of the center (then called the division of the north,) by a vote of the seven brigade commanders who composed that body, as they realized that although each was of equal rank, it was necessary to have one directing and responsible head. The promotion of Gonzales and Obregon will make them superior in rank to Villa.

SIR LIONEL'S TIP IS UNPOPULAR.

BUT FEW IN THE BRITISH COLONY WILLING TO LEAVE MEXICO CITY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, June 30.—Members of the British colony here are unwilling to follow the advice of Sir Lionel Carden, the British Minister, that they temporarily leave Mexico. Only forty-two persons so far have signed an agreement to travel on a special train to the coast. More than half of this number are women and children.

Most of the British subjects now residing here have been in Mexico many years, and they declare it to be their intention to remain and take chances with the Mexicans.

The members of the French, German and Italian colonies, at a meeting held today, decided to stay in the capital.

The banks of Aguas Calientes, San Luis Potosi, Guanajauto, Leon, Queretaro and other cities of the Northern States are sending funds to Mexico City. An express company is bringing about 100,000 pesos daily from these places and depositing the currency in the banks here.

FEDERAL GENERAL WOUNDED IN THIGH

TORREON, June 30.—Railroad men brought the information today that Gen. Medina Barron, commander of the Federal garrison, defeated last Tuesday at Zacatecas, had reached Aguas Calientes with only fourteen men. Gen. Barron was wounded in the thigh, they said.

The body of Gen. Olea, another Federal commander, has been found in the position his men occupied on the Zacatecas battlefield, according to reports made to Gen. Villa, who was here today. A son of Gen. Barron, a major, also was killed and his body found and identified.

The only group of Federals which left Zacatecas in any order was one of about 200 men, it has been learned. All others fled panic stricken. So far as it has been possible to ascertain, the Federals who managed to escape the Constitutionalists' fire, numbered no more than 300. The garrison consisted of from 14,000 to 15,000 men. About 5000 men were taken prisoners. The extensive battle ground has made accurate figures difficult to obtain. On the Guadalupe road leading to the city some 2000 Federals died, while more than 400 bodies were found in redoubts and trenches around the hill, El Grillo.

MRS. M'CLAUGHRY WITHHOLDS CASH.

NEW SUIT MAY BE FILED TO FORCE PAYMENT OF PRICE OF DIVORCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 30.—Mrs. Anita Baldwin McClaughry failed to pay her former husband, Hull McClaughry, the second installment of $75,000 for the price of her divorce, when it became due today. Mrs. McClaughry is now in London with her two children, Miss Dextra and Baldwin McClaughry, but friends in this city closely informed of her affairs, stated that she had made no arrangements for any further payments to McClaughry.

It was further said that she had determined not to pay any more money to McClaughry and that this already-famous case will have another chapter in the local courts.

By an agreement entered into before the divorce suit came to trial, Mrs. McClaughry agreed to pay her husband $275,000 in three installments. One hundred thousand dollars was paid on June 30, 1913, ten days before the divorce was granted.

The second installment of $75,000, with interest at 6 per cent., was due today. The total amount due under the contract, principal and interest, is $79,500. The remaining installment of $100,000 is to be paid on June 30, 1915, and is to draw interest at 6 per cent. from June 30, 1913.

People With Thin Blood

Some people have a tendency to become thin-blooded just as others have an inherited tendency to rheumatism, or to nervous disorders. The condition in which the blood becomes so thin that the whole body suffers comes on so gradually and stealthily that anyone with a natural disposition in that direction should watch the symptoms carefully. Bloodlessness, or anaemia, as the medical term is, can be corrected much more easily in the earlier stages than later. It begins with a tired feeling that rest does not overcome, the complexion becomes pale, and breathlessness on slight exertion, such as going up stairs, is noticed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a home remedy that has been most successful in the treatment of diseases caused by thin blood. With pure air and wholesome food these blood-making pills afford the correct treatment when the symptoms described are noticed. A former sufferer from anaemia says: "I was emaciated and did not have a particle of color. I had severe headaches, had no ambition and could just drag around." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills quickly restored appetite, flesh and health. A full statement of this case with directions regarding diet will be found in the booklet, "Building Up the Blood," sent free by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Secretary Daniels's Famous Prohibition Order Goes Into Effect and the Only Officer Left With Any Spirits Is the Ship's Surgeon, and His Are Limited.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Afloat and ashore, today sees the last of the wine mess in the United States navy. Secretary Daniels's famous prohibition order goes into effect at midnight tonight, after which any officer found in possession of alcoholic liquor on board ship or at any naval station is guilty of misconduct. There is only one exception, made in the case of the ship's surgeon, who may keep a limited supply of spirits on hand for medical use only. But admiral or captain is as guilty as the seaman if he keeps a stock of wines or liquors for his own consumption or the refreshment of his guests.

The naval hostess, too, after tonight must give up the punch bowl as a magnet for her guests if the scene of the entertainment be within the naval jurisdiction, as at the Naval Academy, the naval station and the navy yards. This feature appealed strongly to Secretry Daniels, who believed that many young officers could trace their downfall to overindulgence in punch at these social functions.

At midnight tonight the naval regulations which have heretofore allowed wardroom officers to form a wine mess or club for the purchase and use of wines will be stricken out, and these stern words will be substituted:

"The use or introduction for drinking purposes of alcoholic liquors on board any naval vessel, or within any navy yard or station, is strictly prohibited, and commanding officers will be directly responsible for the enforcement of this order."

Since announcing this change some time ago, Secretary Daniels had encouraged expressions of opinions of his action, but the adverse comment from many officers who held it to be an infringement of their personal liberties did not go far toward leading the Secretary from his firm stand in the matter.

The only possibility of modification is said to be special dispensation which may be granted during the exchange of international courtesies, or on such occasion as the gathering of ships of all nations at the opening of the Panama Canal.

The only nation thus far to follow the example set by the United States is Norway, whose Parliament on June 10 passed a resolution making both the army and the navy messes "dry." This was pleasing to Secretary Daniels, and he believes other nations will come to the support of this theory that alcohol and military efficiency do not mix. The German Emperor has lately been insistent upon temperance among the midshipmen, and in Russia, whose naval losses in the Japanese war have been charged largely to liquor, the temperance movement has also gained ground.

WOMAN MURDERED IN DOCTOR'S CHAIR.

ASSASSIN KILLS WIFE OF MANUFACTURER AT FREEPORT, NEW YORK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FREEPORT (N. Y.) June 30.—While seated in a chair in the office of Dr. Edward Carman, a prominent physician, tonight, Mrs. Louise Bailey, wife of William D. Bailey, a Brooklyn manufacturer, was shot and instantly killed. Her assassin broke a window pane with the muzzle of a revolver, thrust a hand through the rent in the glass, pushed aside the curtains and fired the fatal shot. The bullet struck the woman in the left shoulder and traveling downward, penetrated her heart. Mrs. Bailey left her home in Hempstead by trolley tonight and came over to consult Dr. Carman.

The Freeport police immediately surrounded the premises and began a fruitless search for the slayer. Mr. Bailey at the time of the tragedy was at his home in Hempstead.

JEWISH RABBIS HOLD JUBILEE.

Protest Against Laws to Restrict Immigration.

Revision of Hebrew Prayer-book to Be Undertaken.

Use of Bible in Schools to Be One of the Topics.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

DETROIT (Mich.) June 30.—Nearly 100 rabbis, leaders of the Jewish faith in America, representing nearly 2,000,000 members of the race, gathered in Temple Beth-El this evening at the opening session of the silver jubilee of the central conference of American rabbis. Organized here on July 9, 1889, the conference has grown and prospered until today it includes some 200 rabbis.

Rabbi Moses J. Gries, president of the conference, in his annual address sounded the keynote of the session, which is to last ten days, when he protested against legislation which would restrict Jewish emigration to this country.

The programme was opened by Rabbi S. Hecht of Los Angeles, who led in prayer, and Rabbi Samuel Goldenson of Albany, N. Y., who conducted the evening service. Rabbi Leo M. Franklin of Temple Beth-El delivered an address of welcome, to which Rabbi William Rosenau of Baltimore, Md., responded. Several memorials were passed and Rabbi Tobias Schanfarber of Chicago pronounced the benediction.

Rabbi Rosenau was one of the members of the conference when it was organized and he cast some interesting side lights on the meeting called to draw the leaders of the church together. He complimented Detroit on its growth and said the conference had expanded the growth of Jewish teachings, the church progressing as rapidly as the community.

Following the services this evening a reception was tendered by the members of Temple Beth-El.

PROPOSED TOPICS.

Among the subjects which will be discussed are the relations of the synagogue to industrial affairs and social service work in general; the use of the Bible as a text-book and the Bible stories in religious school work; religious work in the universities; the progress of the conf during its twenty-five years, and topics connected with religious cation.

One of the topics which is exp to arouse a great deal of interes discussion in the conference is question of what attitude it shall in the matter of ethical instructio the public schools.

MORGENSTERN'S VIEWS.

"Of course, we are very much posed to anything that smacks of ligious instruction in the pu schools," asserted Rabbi Morgen of Cleveland, Tuesday morning. "The debatable points are as to far it is possible to carry on su instruction without making it ligious, and if it is possible at how best may it be accomplish This question has been before conference three years. UNWRITTEN LAW SAVES WIGGINS.

Jury of Married Men Clears a Texan of Murder.

Phoenix to Have Combined Market and Hotel.

Salt River Project to Be Shown at Exposition.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) June 29.—A jury of married men, most of them farmers, late Saturday night rendered a verdict of not guilty in the case of L. E. Wiggins, charged with the murder of Tap Booth at Tempe, April 8. The trial had consumed about the whole week. It was shown in evidence that Wiggins had come to Arizona from Texas on Booth's trail, had driven from Phoenix to Tempe after midnight, had entered Booth's tent at the break of day, had lighted a match to be sure of his man, and then had slain him without chance of defense.

Yet his attorney claimed self-defense, and sought to show that when Booth was awakened he had reached for a pistol under his pillow. At the bottom of the whole defense, however, was the "unwritten law," backed up by the presence in the courtroom of Wiggins's handsome wife and their little child. Though the young woman was not put upon the witness stand, witnesses from Texas testified that Booth had made efforts to take Mrs. Wiggins from her husband. Some of the arguments of the defense in this connection brought sympathetic tears to the eyes of the jurymen. Most of the witnesses were from Joaquin, Tex., and their testimony had much to do with the previous characters of the defendant and the man slain.

It is evident that the jury in its verdict fully agreed with Attorney Ling when he said, in dramatic argument, "We do not call it a crime to kill poisonous animals, and a man is not deserving of consideration who would act as Booth did and advertise it from end to end of the village." It is told that the first ballot taken by the jury was ten for acquittal and two for second-degree murder and that acquittal was agreed upon at the third ballot.

NEW MARKET-HOTEL.

Phoenix is to have a new market building and hotel, three stories in height and covering the side of a 300-foot block on the Lount property on North First street, between Van Buren and Polk. The improvement is to cost $250,000. The ground floor is to be taken by the Farmers' Union, which will seek to consolidate the sale of farm products, and which expects to operate auto truck lines to bring produce to the market for sale and shipment. The upper stories comprise a modern, fireproof hotel of 175 rooms. A large part of the lower floor will be divided into market stalls for rental to farmers.

IRRIGATION ILLUSTRATED.

The Salt River irrigation project is to have representation at the San Francisco Exposition next year. Statistician C. F. Blanchard of the United States Reclamation Service is now here securing moving-picture films and photographs for slides, illustrating the construction of the irrigation works, their operation and their effect, together with a large number of Indian pictures, showing the development of the red men within Arizona.

BUSINESS BY AUTO.

A business men's automobile tour of Southern Arizona is being planned by the Phoenix Board of Trade, which has appointed a committee, headed by E. P. Conway, to complete details. To be included in the itinerary are Florence, Tucson, Tombstone, Bisbee and Douglas.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS.

The State Board of Health has published data covering the last six months of 1913, in which the births in Arizona exceeded the deaths by 285, this despite the large percentage of deaths due to the incoming of consumptives from other States. It is also known that births very frequently are not reported, while deaths always are. As far as could be learned, the deaths on Indian reservations exceeded the number of births. Pima, Pinal and Santa Cruz counties likewise had more deaths than births, in Pima the ratio being 185 to 108, probably due to an unusual number of afflicted strangers.

PHOENIX JAIL CRITICISED.

Dr. John O'Neil, a veterinary surgeon, has sued the City of Phoenix for $10,000 damages for false imprisonment. He was arrested on the charge of practicing without a license and held in the City Jail for three days. He alleges that the only reason why he did not have a license was because he could not find the proper officials. His criticism of the Phoenix City Jail is that "it is a horrible, filthy place, comparable only to the jails of Mexico."

PRIMARY ELECTION.

The official call for the general primary election September 8 has been issued from the office of the Secretary of State. The officers to be balloted for include United States Senator, Congressman, Governor, three judges of the Supreme Court, Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, Attorney-General, Superintendent of public instruction, mine inspector, three corporation commissioners, two tax commissioners and members of the Legislature. In each county are to be elected a judge of the Superior Court, Sheriff, Superior Court clerk, three Supervisors, Treasurer, Recorder, County Attorney, Assessor and School Superintendent.

ARIZONA NOTES.

Corporation Commissioner F. A. Jones has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election. For months past it has been known that he and his colleagues have been bitterly antagonistic.

Saturday in Phoenix Hans Herlick, for thirty-two years prominent in the business affairs of the city, died at his home of pneumonia, aged 55. A brother, Peter Herlick, lives in San Bernardino, Cal.

VISALIA, June 28.—Officials of Tulare county have been asked to aid in the search for a suitcase containing options on real estate to the value of $37,000 and notes to the value of $2000, stolen from C. A. Whitaker of Los Angeles on the State highway near Madera. Mr. Whitaker's automobile broke down and while he was looking for a farmhouse from which to telephone for assistance, the suitcase was removed from the tonneau of his machine.

BLONDE STRAND BECOMES CABLE.

FOUND CLINGING TO HUSBAND'S NECKTIE, WIFE GETS DIVORCE.

A blonde hair clinging to the necktie of William F. Burbank of the Kay and Burbank Electric Garage, Pasadena, grew into a cable, ultimately dragging him into the divorce court. Through this blonde hair Mrs. Burbank discovered the woman to whom she alleges it belonged. She says she traced her husband and the blonde to a rooming-house in Pasadena and with the aid of the landlady, Mr. Burbank was observed sitting in a chair fondling the woman.

There was other testimony to the effect that Mr. Burbank and the other woman, mentioned during the trial yesterday as Florence Connor, were seen kissing and hugging. Mr. Burbank denied the allegations, but he did not take the stand in his own defense. He was questioned as to his financial standing and stated he owned fifty shares of the stock of the garage corporation. Fifteen shares are held as security by C. H. Kay, his partner.

Judge Monroe granted Mrs. Burbank the decree on the ground of misconduct, gave her the custody of their son, Norman E. Burbank, and $75 a month alimony. He also gave her twenty-five shares of stock, Mr. Burbank to have the option of paying her $2000 cash or giving his note for that amount in lieu of the stock.

The suggestion that Mrs. Burbank intended to visit her parents in Canada resulted in an order being given that the child should not go out of the State.

"When are you going to Canada?" asked the court.

"Well, my health is not good and I believe I will not go," was the reply.

"I was going to say," continued the court, "I would not have this money paid until you come back."

MORE RESTAURANT LICENSES REFUSED.

MAYOR'S PROPOSAL TO INCREASE NUMBER DOWNED BY THE COUNCIL.

The Mayor at yesterday's session of the Police Commission proposed that the commission increase the number of restaurant permits of the second class from sixty-two to sixty-eight, and that this be the limit for the first half of the new fiscal year.

He declared that this fixed limit would eliminate the numerous applications for restaurant permits, do away with needless expense on the part of applicants and conserve the time of the members of the commission.

This plan was opposed by Commissioner Morgan, who declared his belief that the city now has an ample supply of restaurant liquor permits. The Mayor stated that his object was to get an expression of the sentiment of the board.

Commissioner Owen took the grounds that the constantly-expanding growth of the city makes it reasonable to grant an extension on the number of permits of this character issued.

In accordance with the policy of holding the limit down to the present number of sixty-two second-class restaurant permits, the commission then denied the applications of Yick Chung for such a permit for No. 227 East First street, and Farisano & Payno for No. 123 Court street.

The affidavit of W. F. Ireland, alleging improper conduct of business at Gyle's Cafe, No. 851 South Spring street, where a liquor permit is held, was read. This charges that a police officer was in the cafe when the incidents recited occurred. The subject was referred to the Chief of Police for a special report.

The commission cited Richard Matthias, holder of a saloon permit for No. 319 South Main street, and Redman & McGinley, saloon men at No. 143 South Los Angeles street, to appear before it and show cause why their permits should not be revoked for improper conduct of business.

FIGHTS ENDEAVOR TO SAVE HER LIFE.

WOMAN TAKES POISON, TELLS HUSBAND AND EXPIRES AT HOSPITAL.

A desperate scramble at a telephone, a husband battling for the life of his wife, the wife for her own death yesterday preceded the taking of Mrs. Margaret Hitchcock, 35 years of age, to the Receiving Hospital from an apartment-house at No. 317 North Hill street, where she had taken poison. She died at midnight.

When Fred Hitchcock, the woman's husband, secured a position as night clerk at a hotel, their domestic routine was disrupted. The husband asked that the wife sleep in the kitchen that his sleep in the bedroom be not disturbed. This did not please her and added another item to her list of grievances. Yesterday morning she got the poison, looked long at the skull and crossbones on the label and took the contents.

Then she went to the door of her husband's room. She approached on tiptoe through habit, and then, thinking that servility had reached its end, boldly and loudly rapped on the door. The husband awoke and was angry, but when his wife, now defiant, announced that she was going to die, he forgot his anger and began to chide.

"When? Right now? How?" he asked.

"With that poison, if you must know."

"Not that stuff; that's for bugs. Get something man-sized," he joked her.

"It's too late; I've already taken it."

The shock brought the husband out of bed in a jump. He ran to the kitchen and there found the empty can. Immediately he rushed to the telephone and his wife, divining his purpose, dashed after him. She grabbed at the arm which had taken down the receiver.

"Don't call the doctors. Let me die," she pleaded.

She then endeavored to pull him away. The husband secured the Receiving Hospital and in a moment the ambulance was on the way.

IMPROVE ROADS IN OIL FIELDS.

BIG COMPANIES EXPEND MONEY AND EFFORT WITH VERY GOOD RESULTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

M'KITTRICK, June 30.—Interest in the matter of good roads has increased steadily since the beginning of active operations in providing Kern county with better highways. Considerable work on the roads leading from McKittrick to Belridge, Lost Hills, San Luis Obispo, Shale, Fellows, Taft and Maricopa has been done within the past few months, and those in charge of the improvements promise still greater efforts. The city of McKittrick, oldest in the West Side oil fields, now has better means of transportation than at any time in its history. In addition to the daily train service of the Southern Pacific between Bakersfield and this city, an auto stage runs every day between these points, connecting at Fellows with one to Taft, the latter making several trips during the day and night. From Fellows, an auto stage makes a weekly run via McKittrick to Morro, located between San Luis Obispo and Port Harford.

In the conversion of rough roads in certain localities into smooth highways, the oil companies in the various fields have taken an important part, some furnishing not only oil but also men and teams to aid the work of developing the system of good roads. Notable examples of this spirit of progress have been exhibited by concerns whose properties are located in the McKittrick, Belridge, North McKittrick front and Lost Hills districts, as well as in other portions of the county. Serious difficulties have been encountered in the construction of roads over which there is heavy hauling, but the efforts have met gratifying success.

Eighteen-Year-Old Boy at Globe Attempts to Kill Himself at Spot Where His Sister Succeeded.

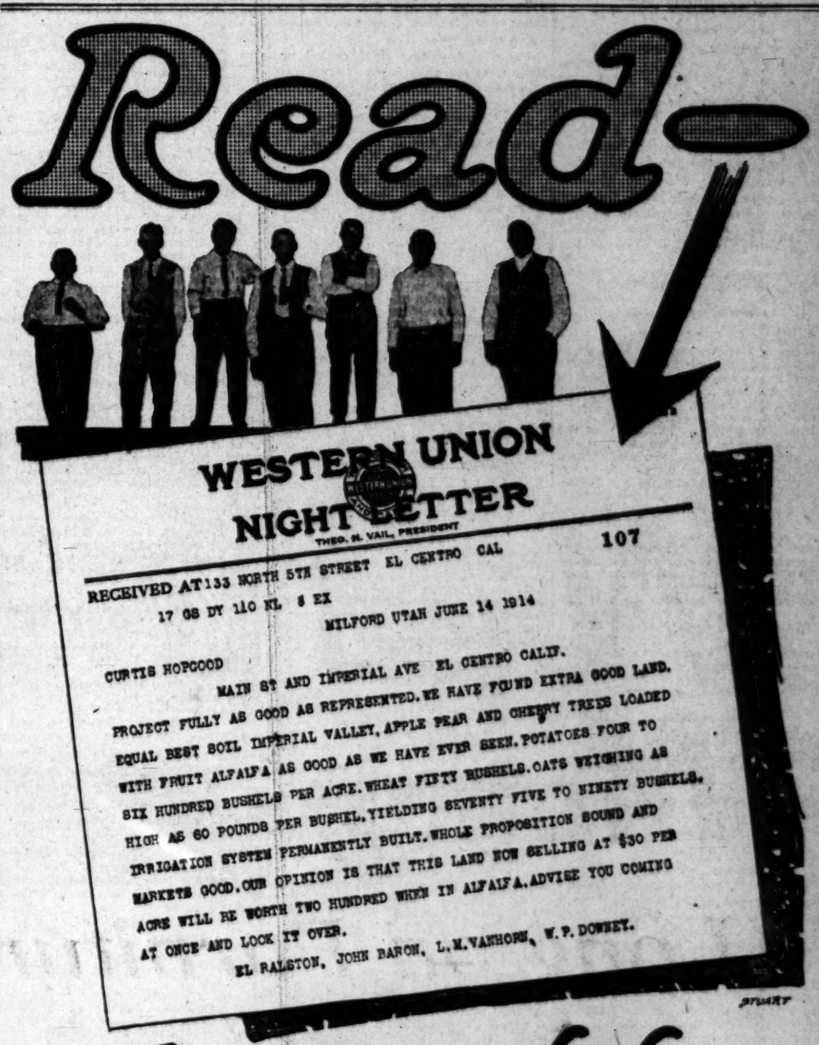
GLOBE (Ariz.) June 30.—Thomas McLane, 18 years old, today attempted suicide in the same spot where his 16-year-old sister Catherine killed herself last night. Her act was prompted by family troubles, according to a note she left.

A guard was placed over Thomas when it seemed that grief might affect his reason, but he evaded his watcher, climbed into the loft where his sister died, and then shot himself. He is not expected to recover.

Cat Captures a Hawk.

[New York Herald:] John Walker, a farmer near Plainfield, Ct., has been bothered for months by hawks, which have swooped down and robbed him of poultry. Complicated traps and ponderous scarecrows had no effect upon the bold hawks, which even pulled the Derby hat off one particularly ferocious dummy. Today, however, the cloud of gloom that had enveloped the Walker hen yard was lifted when McKinley, the family cat, captured one of the biggest hawks ever seen in that section. It measured four feet six inches.

While Mr. Walker and his family were at breakfast they heard a commotion in the hen yard. Members of the family hurried out and saw the cat volplaning to earth on the back of the hawk. The bird had attempted to fly, but found McKinley too heavy a passenger. A shotgun ended the hawk's career. The cat received a three-course meal.



-what successful Imperial Valley ranchers say about

at $30 per acre

A FEW days ago the group of Imperial Valley ranchers pictured above visited the lands of the newly opened Milford Valley irrigation project. They are men who took advantage of the opportunities that existed in Imperial Valley several years ago. They made money. A few weeks ago they heard about Milford Valley of Southern Utah. They went up and made a thorough investigation, as only practical men can do. The Western Union Night Letter reproduced above was sent by them to Curtis Hopgood, an Imperial Valley rancher, who was unable to make the trip to the valley, but requested them to wire him immediately if conditions were absolutely as represented.

These men bought generously of the rich, red, loamy lands of beautiful Milford Valley. They knew that this $30 land (with a perpetual water right at $70 per share, payable in 12 years, if desired) would be easily worth $250 or more an acre when in alfalfa. They appreciated the value of a water maintenance cost that should not exceed 30 cents per acre per annum. They reveled in the glorious mountain air of the valley—elevation 4971 feet. They enthused over the pure, soft, sparkling drinking water. They realized that this was a successful man's land. They knew that land sold on a cash basis would eliminate the homesteader class of settlers. They bought within sight of Milford, a progressive city—an important railroad center. They were alive to the crop possibilities—in alfalfa, potatoes, grain, dairying, hog raising and deciduous fruit culture. They saw another Imperial Valley opportunity in Southern Utah. That they bought land right on the spot is a wonderful tribute, a splendid testimonial to Milford. Imperial Valley men surely know good land.

JAPAN SOCIETY TO URGE AMITY

Will Promote Friendliness Among Other Nations.

Australia and America Are Fields for the Work.

Move to Be Started by Leading Business Men.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

TOKIO, June 20.—The promotion of a better understanding among the nations of the world, especially between Japan and the United States, Canada, New Zealand, and Australia is the aim of a new society that is to be founded here by Baron Shibusawa and other leading Japanese business men. It is explained that the new organization will particularly address itself at present to questions arising in Australia and New Zealand, but an attempt will be made also to do "good work" in the United States and Canada, as well as China.

Mr. Yanai Yarmamoto, the editor of the organ of the Japanese Peace Society, said:

"These days we hear many sinister rumors about Japan circulated in Australia and New Zealand. Some Australians even dream of invasion by Japan and talk of a war between that country and Japan. Nothing can be more foolish and laughable."

The plan of the society includes the creation of a membership as large and as influential as possible, and drawn from all classes of Japanese. Correspondents or committees will be secured in the Australian States and a committee will be appointed in London. The countries will be urged to arrange for exchange visits of students, correct possible misstatements appearing in the press and in a general way by correspondence and publicity try to eliminate all misunderstanding rising between Japan and other countries.

The proposed society is one of the indications in Japan of today that this country desires an opportunity to increase her material welfare by an extension of her commerce and industry which can only come by a period of peace.

LASSEN PEAK AGAIN EXPLODES.

HEIGHT OF COLUMN ESTIMATED AT THREE THOUSAND FEET.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

RED BLUFF, June 30.—Lassen Peak exploded today shortly before noon, in its thirteenth eruption since May 30, with a dense column of black smoke that shot up thousands of feet and then drifted slowly northward. Ten minutes later a smaller column of black smoke fringed with whitish steam ascended more gradually and is still rising. The eruption has lasted longer and has the appearance of being more violent than any that preceded it.

After taking the angle of elevation with a transit, the County Surveyor estimated the height of the first column at 3000 feet. At the end of an hour it had dwindled to 500 feet and the flutings of white in its sides indicated that it was mostly steam. The dense black of the first outburst was undoubtedly due to a heavy freight of volcanic sand, torn loose from the throat of the crater by subterranean explosions.

The spectacle, visible here and in Redding, or, for that matter, as far as the peak itself can be seen, was wonderfully impressive and hundreds gathered on street corners and housetops to watch it.

Counting the eruption of Sunday night, reported today from Mineral, this last is the thirteenth decisive outbreak of Lassen Peak since it first awoke a month ago today.

Grave apprehension exists tonight for the safety of a party of observers who left Warm Springs at 5 o'clock this morning to visit the crater. No word has been received from them since the new outburst of the peak, and it is generally feared that serious injury may have befallen them.

A report is current tonight that a party of forest rangers was near the crest of the peak when the thirteenth eruption began and that harm was done to them by the shower of rocks and volcanic substance. Telephone communication with the points near Lassen Peak is very poor tonight and the report has not been verified.

DILLER'S REPORT.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Reporting today on the activity of Lassen Peak, in California, J. S. Diller, an agent of the United States Geological Survey, declared that "time alone can tell what Lassen is going to do."

"The volcano," he said, "may subside to its former quiescence, but we must not forget that it was only the top of the old Vesuvius that was blown off to make Monte Zomma and the Vesuvius of today. Krakatoa blew up from the very base with tremendous effect. There seems no good reason at present to fear a Krakatoan outbreak at Lassen Peark, but the part of wisdom dictates a close watch."

Diller, who has been at the scene of the eruptions, stated that they began on May 30 with an outburst of steam which formed a crater in the snow-covered summit of Lassen, and that "with successive eruptions, the new crater is enlarging."

When he visited it ten days ago it was 400 feet long and 100 feet wide, with a depth of not more than 100 feet.

That heat recently had arisen in the core of Lassen Peak was evident, Mr. Diller reported. The fact, however, that other hot places about the mountain were not yet perceptibly hotter indicated, he added, that the rise of temperature was local, "and does not, at least as yet, affect the mountain mass."

NATURE STORIES.

When Animals Sleep.

[Our Dumb Animals:] Elephants sleep standing up. When in a herd a certain number will always stand watch while the others sleep, for the big, powerful beasts are timid and cautious at night and will not go to sleep unguarded.

Bats sleep head downward, hanging by their hind claws.

Birds, with few exceptions, sleep with their heads turned tailward over the back and the beak thrust beneath the wing.

Storks, gulls and other long-legged birds sleep standing on one leg.

Ducks sleep on open water. To avoid drifting ashore, they keep paddling with one foot, thus making them move in a circle.

Foxes and wolves sleep curled up, their noses and the soles of their feet together and blanketed by their bushy tail.

Lions, tigers and cat animals stretch themselves out flat upon the side. Their muscles twitch and throb, indicating that they are light and restless sleepers.

Owls, in addition to their eyelids, have a screen that they draw sideways across their eyes to shut out the light, for they sleep in the daytime.

Sparrows Like Music.

[Cleveland Plain-Dealer:] An ingenious person is Charles A. Boyd, manager of works and director of the Wellman-Seaver-Morgan Company. Mechanical and electrical contrivances without number (and without price) adorn and protect his home. Among which is included an automatic burglar alarm, which, on being improperly approached, lights up his entire back yard.

Now he has built a big bird box, to be a home for a swallow family that boards on his place every summer. The swallows are welcome, but the sparrows butt in so much that he has been moved to rig up a sparrow alarm for the swallow people. There is an electric bell that rings whenever an undesirable English immigrant alights on the connection. The bell is supposed to act as a sort of scare-sparrow.

It doesn't work, however. The sparrows seem to like the bell, and after experimenting with it awhile, they go out and tell their friends about it. So many sparrows are flocking to that back yard for musical amusement this spring that there won't be any room whatever for the swallows.

Strength of Baby Bisons.

[Philadelphia Record:] Col. Harry C. Trexler is being congratulated over the advent of three baby buffaloes, all born within three hours yesterday afternoon, in his game park, near Schnecksville, ten miles north of Allentown, Pa.

Immediately after birth they went through the meadows and across the creeks into the hills. There was no weakness at all in the sturdy young creatures, which at birth were as strong as a calf is at the age of a month.

Sportsmen are as much pleased as is Col. Trexler over the success of his attempt to propagate the buffalo in Pennsylvania. Three years ago five buffaloes were planted on the range, and with the three that arrived yesterday, the herd now consists of sixteen buffaloes. Two have been lost by death, one a cow.

More than the mere number of the animals is the fact that the buffaloes are thriving splendidly in Pennsylvania, showing that if the bison is cared for properly, it need not become extinct. The big factor in the success in raising them has been the planting of bunch grass and other rough forage.

The elk and deer in the game park have been doing very well also, and there are now about twenty elk and 300 deer.

Canine News Dealers.

[Baltimore American:] Two Chicago dogs—an Irish terrier and a water spaniel—the property of a successful news dealer of that city, are proving themselves very useful to their master. If the latter goes to lunch, or has to leave his stand for a time the two watchful animals sell newspapers for him. "Rex," the Irish terrier, perches himself on the stand and grips between his teeth a big calabash pipe and a copy of a newspaper, while "Brownie," his partner, takes up his position on a little soap box beside the stand and holds in his teeth a little "plug" hat for the safekeeping of the pennies. When a passer-by buys a paper, says the Wide World Magazine, "Brownie" sits up to receive the coin. Both of the dogs seem to have a fierce, as well as sharp eye to business, and their master places great faith in them.

WEEDS CAUSE INSANITY.

Mexico Grows Many Plants That Are Poisonous to Man and Will Produce Permanent Insanity.

[New York Sun:] One of the things to be avoided by American soldiers in Mexico is the seductive marihuana weed, which grows around Vera Cruz and in the territory lying between that city and the capital. For several years there has been in effect an order of the Mexican government prohibiting the sale of marihuana to Mexican soldiers. Notwithstanding this order, the dangerous weed is often smuggled into camps and barracks and is secretly smoked by the men. When much indulged in the smoking of the dry leaves of the plant causes insanity.

People who become addicted to smoking marihuana finally lose their minds and never recover. The plant is used sometimes in Mexico by allopathic physicians in the treatment of rheumatism. The tincture of the marihuana diluted with alcohol is the form in which the properties of the weed are employed.

There are many other plants in Mexico which are dangerous, among them being the tolvache, a kind of loco weed. The seeds of this plant boiled and drunk as tea will make a person insane for life, it is asserted. Among some people of Mexico, it is believed that Carlotta, Empress of Mexico, lost her mind because she was given lovache in a refreshment. Empress Carlotta was the wife of Emperor Maximilian, who was shot at Queretaro. She lost her mind immediately after her return to Europe from Mexico.

Some Queer Products.

[Leslie's Weekly:] Few people realize what a tremendous industry the new packing industry is in this country. Nor does the average reader have any idea of the number of distinct products that have been evolved in such a plant as the result of the highest scientific skill. One great establishment publishes a list of between twenty-five and thirty edible products and an equal number of inedible products. A partial enumeration of the latter is informing: Soaps, toilet requisites, glue, sandpaper, isinglass, glycerine, curled hair, bristles, wool, hides and pelts, leather, horn and bone novelties, lubricating oils, music strings, tennis strings, surgical ligature, stock and poultry feed and fertilizers. The modern packing plant is not satisfied with past attainments, but research work is constantly going on.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

For Salem Fire Sufferers.

A telegraphic appeal for aid for the sufferers from the Salem fire was received yesterday from the national headquarters of the American Red Cross Society by Dr. J. Edgar Colloran, secretary of the local branch. Contributions may be made at the office of Dr. Colloran, room 1015, Story building, for which a special receipt will be given, or may be sent directly to Washington (D. C.) Red Cross.

Hoisting Largest Safe.

The largest safe ever lifted to a second story in Los Angeles was placed in the new business location of A. B. Cohn & Brother, Broadway and Mercantile place, yesterday, and the operation attracted sufficient crowds throughout the day to keep the police busy. The safe weighs 13,000 pounds. It was moved from the warehouse of the City Safe Company on Winston street. Its exterior will be covered with a three-inch concrete surface and it will be the largest safe outside of an actual vault used in Southern California. The moving and hoisting was accomplished with auto trucks and a heavy derrick.

BURGLAR DISCRIMINATES.

Rejects Cheap Jewelry and Imitation Stones in Looting Doctor's Home—News Notes.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, June 30.—A burglar with discrimination as to jewelry climbed through a window into Dr. Roscoe Whitted's home last night. The thief carried away a gold watch, a string of coral beads and several rings and bracelets, but he failed to find any merit in several pieces of cheaper jewelry and imitation stones.

Eight automobiles loaded with boosters were here today from Newport Beach and Balboa advertising the Fourth of July celebration to be held at those places.

P. A. Stanton, who is interested in Seal Beach real estate, was before the County Highway Commission endeavoring to get that body to order the Conners Construction Company to begin building the Seal Beach-Los Alamitos road at the Seal Beach end instead of the Los Alamitos end. The commissioners stated that the matter is entirely up to the contractors.

Confiscatory?

DECLARE WATER RATES TOO LOW.

HOLLYWOOD CORPORATION ASKS FOR INJUNCTION.

Complaint Alleges that Enforcement of New Figure Would Compel Company to Operate Without Due Return from Investment and Would Amount to Confiscation.

The contention between the Union Hollywood Water Company and the city in regard to the rates that shall be charged during the year from July 1, 1914, to June 30, 1915, appeared in the United States District Court yesterday, in a complaint filed by the corporation against the Mayor, the City Council, the Board of Utilities and the Chief of Police, to restrain the enforcement of the ordinance recently adopted by the city; praying that the ordinance be declared void; and that on the final hearing of the issues of the case that an injunction be allowed.

The complaint alleges that January 1, 1914, the plant of the Union Hollywood Water Company, was, after depreciation, of the value of $1,454,367.97; that during the year from January 1, 1913, to December 31, 1913, the company spent for the distribution of water within the city limits of Los Angeles, $190,341.17; from July 1, 1913, to June 30, 1914, it spent for the distribution of water, $187,292.30; during the six months from January 1, 1914, to June 26, 1914, it spent $89,796.69.

It is further alleged that during the year covering the period from January 1, 1913, to December 31, 1913, the receipts from the sale of water amounted to $221,696.53, or an excess of $31,353.36 over the expenditures during that period; that from July 1, 1913, to June 30, 1914, the receipts were $213,761.10, or an excess of $26,468.87 in excess of the expenses during that time; for the six months from January 1, 1914, to June 30, 1914, the receipts were $99,-865.79, or $10,075.10 in excess of the expenses for that period.

It is claimed that the expenses from July 1, 1914, to June 30, 1915, will be $187,292.30; that the franchise of the company is worth $25,-000, in addition to the value of the plant, of $1,454,367.97, which was the value of the plant January 1, 1914. It is further alleged that the company prepared a statement of the value of the property as applicable to the distribution of water in Los Angeles, fixing the amount at $1,580,834.75, of which 92 per cent. is employed in furnishing such water or $1,454,367.97.

It is alleged that April 22, 1914, the Board of Utilities adopted an ordinance fixing the rate for the distribution of such water for the year from July 1, 1914, and ending June 30, 1915, ranging from 50 cents to $10 a month for such service, and it is alleged that the action of that body did not include the value of the water rights, increase in the value of the land, necessary operating expenses, annual depreciation, and a reasonable return for the amount of money invested. It is alleged that at the rate fixed by the Board of Utilities the receipts during the period covered by the ordinance will amount to but $188,894.55, while the expenses will be $187,292.30.

It is further declared that to carry out the ordinance that the Union Hollywood Water Company will be deprived of its property without due process of law, and that the new rate will amount to a confiscation of its holdings.

THE WEATHER.
[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, June 30.—[Reported by Fred A. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.98; at 5 p.m., 29.84. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 61 deg. and 72 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 92 per cent.; 5 p.m., 63 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., east, velocity 4 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 9 miles. Highest temperature, 78 deg.; lowest, 59 deg. Rainfall for season, 23.65 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—The northwestern area of high pressure drifted over Wyoming and is uniting with the eastern high area, thus forming a belt of high barometer extending from Montana to Pennsylvania. North and south of this barometric ridge the pressure is comparatively low. Showers and moderate winds are reported from the New England States and in Wyoming, Nebraska, South Dakota, and also in Utah, Arizona, Colorado and Kansas. It is slightly warmer over the upper Mississippi Valley; elsewhere the temperatures were somewhat lower, except in the interior valleys of California and Arizona. In the San Joaquin the thermometer reached the highest point of the season, 106 deg. at Fresno. The area of low pressure remains stationary over the valley of the Colorado, and has deepened under the influence of the high temperatures in that region. The proximity of this depression will give periods of cloud and fog in Los Angeles and vicinity late tonight and early Wednesday morning; otherwise the weather will be fair and not so warm.

LOCAL FORECAST.

For Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair tonight and Wednesday, except for intervals of fog and cloud late tonight and Wednesday morning; not so warm. Westerly winds.

For California, south of the Tehachapi: Cloudy tonight; Wednesday fair.

To Ward Off Summer Complexion Ills

To keep the face smooth, white and beautiful all summer, there's nothing quite so good as ordinary mercolized wax. Oily, freckled or discolored skin, so common at this season, is gently absorbed by the wax and replaced by the newer, fresher skin beneath. The face exhibits no trace of the wax, the latter being applied at bedtime and washed off mornings. Creams, powders and rouges, on the other hand, are apt to appear more conspicuous than usual these days of excessive perspiration. Just get an ounce of mercolized wax at any drug store and use like cold cream. This will help any skin at once, and in a week or so the complexion will look remarkably youthful and healthy.

Sun, winds and fying dust often cause squinting and other contortions which make wrinkles. You can quickly get rid of every wrinkle, however, produced, by using a harmless face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel.

STURDY LOS ANGELES GOES MARCHING ON.

Banks and Public Business Show Strides of Prosperity.

Four Millions Increase in Deposits Since January First—Figures of Federal Government, County and Municipality at Close of Fiscal Year Stand Out as Signposts of Progress in This Community.

THAT prosperity prevails in Los Angeles is shown by the large increase in deposits and total resources of local banking institutions, and in the active progress in all lines of activity during the fiscal year closed yesterday.

Approximately $4,000,000 is the gain in deposits revealed by authorized figures for the past six months. Total resources are nearly $3,500,000 larger than they were on January 1. The only item which shows a decrease is loans and investments, which are about $500,000 less than they were six months ago. This is due to the fact that banks have weeded out bad loans and investments to strengthen their financial position, which is now a great deal better than it was at the end of the last calendar year.

AND MONEY TALKS!

Total deposits in Los Angeles banks now approximate $175,000,000, and interest payments to depositors for the six months' period aggregate nearly $1,100,000. Dividends to stockholders total over $1,000,000 for the semi-annual period.

Total resources of the banks exceed $200,000,000, and will undoubtedly be subject to a rapid increase during the rest of the year, as financial conditions are improving. This is evidenced by the fact that bank clearings for last month showed an increase of nearly $5,000,000.

For the fiscal year a decrease in bank clearings is revealed, but this is principally due to the falling off during the latter part of last year. Total clearings for the period are $1,381,161,522, and the figures month by month are as follows:

July	$ 97,738,836	$ 98,313,236
August	86,772,660	94,218,622
September	92,547,124	87,039,281
October	101,996,880	106,101,034
November	97,667,566	109,170,198
December	101,926,532	108,695,154
January	108,228,268	111,587,303
February	92,112,935	96,676,477
March	107,760,054	108,214,600
April	103,728,786	110,197,633
May	98,757,503	108,809,314
June	98,923,979	94,134,800
Totals.	$1,188,161,522	$1,233,147,659

The showing made in bank deposits and total resources of banks is all the more remarkable in view of the unfavorable financial conditions which have prevailed in all sections of the country, and indicates that the city is entering a new era of prosperity, established on a sounder basis than ever.

SALT LAKE MAKES RECORD.

Gross revenues of the Salt Lake Railroad for the fiscal year will exceed $10,500,000, according to Secretary Comstock. This is approximately $400,000 in excess of last year and establishes a record for the road.

Both the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific show decreases in gross revenue for the fiscal year, while the net revenue of the Salt Lake also shows an appreciable decrease, due to increased operating expenses.

CITY DEPARTMENTS.

The City Engineer makes the following interesting summary of work in his department:

Streets—Improved during year, sixty miles, forty miles of which is high class; cost $2,500,000; larger force than in past preparing plans for additional work.

Sewers—Sanitary: Constructed during year, 100 miles at a cost of $1,000,000; 76 per cent. of population now have sewers, which is but 37 per cent. of the area in city limits. Storm: Arroyo de la Brea, under construction at a cost of over $600,000; Wilton Place, under construction at a cost of $38,000; Alameda system, bids just received, cost $116,000; systems contemplated, Arroyo de la Sacatella, Jefferson street and others, entire system to cost nearly $10,000,000.

Tunnels—Reconstruction and lowering of Broadway tunnel, contract let, to cost about $185,000; plans for Second-street tunnel, complete, to cost $500,000; First-street tunnel plans being studied.

Bridges—None built during past year; $30,000 spent in repair of bridges already built; Avenue 43 bridge contemplated for coming year, to cost about $29,000.

Railroads—San Pedro municipally-owned railroad constructed at a cost of $258,000.

LOSE MILLION SILVER DIMES.

Pacific Electric to Slash Steam Railway Fare Rates Eastward.

The steam railroads are to be "shaken down" to the extent of more than 1,000,000 dimes yearly by the Pacific Electric's slash in rates eastward, announced yesterday. The plan of the electric road is to reduce the existent Upland rate of $1.20 to $1.10 and the San Bernardino rate from $1.75 to $1.65. The round-trip and special occasion rates will probably remain the same as now.

The steam lines will meet the cut. To do so will cost the Santa Fe $25,000 yearly on its Upland and San Bernardino business alone. In addition, the road will sustain a further loss of $50,000 yearly through the necessary reduction in rates to points based on San Bernardino.

The Southern Pacific and Salt Lake will be other losers, though in the former case the loss will be more theoretical than real, as this road is the owner of the Pacific Electric.

Veteran Field Service Chief Goes Back to Law.

If the present plans of the Interior Department at Washington are carried out, Los Angeles will lose the division headquarters of the field service of the General Land Office for Southern California and Arizona, and the new division, embracing Southern California, Arizona and New Mexico, will be at Phoenix. This was its location previous to 1910, when it was known as the Arizona division, that was at that time supplemented by the addition of Southern California.

When the proposed change in the office was communicated to Gratz W. Helm, chief of the division, he at once tendered his resignation to the In-

June Sets a New High-Water Mark in the Marriage License Bureau.

Riding high on the crest of the wave of returning prosperity, Clerk R. S. Sparks of the county marriage license bureau, proudly pointed last night to new records set for the number of licenses issued both for the month of June and for the first six months of 1914.

For the last four years the license figures for the month of brides have been: 1911, 743; 1912, 809; 1913, 900; 1914, 925. Between January 1 and June 30, inclusive, 1913, 3613 licenses were issued. For the same period of the present year the total is 3755.

"WIFE" TRAILS "MILLIONAIRE."

POLICE SEEK ARCHITECT ON MANY CHARGES.

Purported Spouse Number Three Here on Hunt for Man With Record Extending from San Diego to San Francisco—Said to Have Swindled Women by Hoax.

Seeking to pick up the trail of her supposed millionaire husband, whom she accuses of bigamy, wife desertion and fraud, Mrs. Bertha Connors Hamilton, wife of Frederick Kent Hamilton, an architect, arrived in this city from Oakland last night. She asked the police to help run down the man who, she says, left her after only three weeks of married bliss.

The tale of illicit love and frenzied finance which she attributes to the man who posed as an heir to millions rivals in audacity and dash the exploits of the notorious "Sir" Harry Westwood Cooper.

While possessing at least two and perhaps three other wives, Mrs. Hamilton says, the dashing architect married her at San Rafael on May 25, on the plea that his father, William Hamilton, a Boston millionaire, had suddenly died in Kent, Eng., after making his son the residuary legatee of the estate.

Incidentally, Mrs. Hamilton alleges that her newly-wedded spouse obtained all her ready cash, amounting to several hundred dollars, and a large amount of jewelry, which he intended to place in a safety deposit vault for safe keeping.

During the brief honeymoon, the wife asserts that her husband exhibited a copy of the will showing that the elder Hamilton had died possessed of more than $2,700,000, all of which was in negotiable securities, but that under a peculiar provision of the English law he was unable to realize on his wealth until the matter had been taken up in the courts. A letter alleged to have been signed by Lodge & Lodge, attorneys of Boston, corroborated Hamilton's allegations, and the confiding wife turned over her effects without suspicion.

An investigation made by the Oakland and San Francisco police tends to show that Hamilton not only made a specialty of marrying women for their money, but was also an expert in cashing worthless checks. Several felony warrants are now in the hands of the authorities, waiting until the alleged much-married man can be located.

The police here have been asked to locate Mrs. Alice Young Hamilton, another wife, who is said formerly to have lived at No. 813½ South Olive street, but who left the neighborhood a week or two ago.

According to a story published in Oakland at the time of Hamilton's last disappearance, it is asserted that he married a Mrs. "Johnny" Mae Dunbar, a wealthy widow living at Oakland, while still celebrating the honeymoon with Mrs. Bertha Connors Hamilton.

In connection with the story told by the latter, Miss Amelia Ericksen of San Diego reported to the detectives last night that she also had been swindled by the wily architect, who wanted to marry her at a time when he is now known to have been living with another wife at the Turpin apartments in that city.

Board of Education Minority Files Charges.

"Pernicious Activities" One of Accusations.

Issues were tangibly joined last night in the Board of Education imbroglio by the filing of charges by the minority against Superintendent of Schools Francis and their flat repudiation by the accused.

The form of the investigation will be decided at the board's meeting tomorrow. Under the law the board is the court of last resort in all matters concerning the internal workings of the schools. President Steadman suggested the appointment, however, of an advisory committee to assure a decision unfavored by personalities. This suggestion met with approval, though no official action was taken.

Seven specific charges were made against Mr. Francis, with a supplemental indictment returned by J. M. Quinn on the general premise that the "three R's" are being neglected in the schools.

The charges, in brief, follow: Pernicious political activities in the school department, with which the superintendent is unable or unwilling to cope; lack of appreciation of the teachers' viewpoint in the administration of school affairs, coupled with an autocratic attitude; indifference of the superintendent to the merit system, as shown by his promoting favorites to the highest gifts in his possession, and ignoring the results of competitive examinations; deterioration of the elementary school system; indorsement and defense of Grant Karr, a high official, "who has been offensively addicted to the use of smoking and intoxicating liquors;" the demoralizing influence on the department of the superintendent's present attitude to stand upon his legal rights; and temperamental unfitness.

Especial prominence was given to the alleged activities of the "Owls," an organization, as the minority set forth to which Mr. Francis belongs, and which has as its object the furtherance of the welfare of its members as employees of the school system. It was further alleged that E. J. Lickley had

SUPPORT POOR BY A TAX LEVY.

TENTATIVE CITY AND COUNTY CHARITY AGREEMENT EFFECTED.

Stoddard Jess presided over a dinner given at the Los Angeles Athletic Club yesterday noon, at which were gathered seventy-five representative business and professional men of the city, with the members of the City Council and of the Board of Supervisors as special guests.

The dinner was given by the United Charities for the purpose of presenting to the two bodies of officials the question of consolidation of city and county charities under the head of the United Charities, and financing the organization by direct taxation, thus placing the burden of caring for the indigents of the entire county upon the taxpayers.

Every member of the City Council was present, and three members of the Board of Supervisors—Messrs. Pridham, Woodley and Norton. Without exception, they expressed themselves in favor of both propositions, and it is understood that in making up the budgets for the coming year they will make a levy sufficient to raise from $100,000 to $150,000 for the purpose.

Meantime the United Charities will continue to look after the indigents of the city.

PIG'S EYES DON'T DROP OUT.

So Youth Finds in Endeavor to Prove Tale That Has Been Told—With a Wink.

Gerald Sloan, 13 years of age, No. 421 Temple street, is a scientific investigator. Yesterday he proved that science and legend are woven of different cloth. The intelligence that the eyes of a pig held by the tail will drop out has been handed down for generations—with a wink.

Yesterday, only modifying the operation by catching hold of the pig's hind feet, Gerald experimented. Legend was counted out, but the pig was more angry than Gerald. Letting the pig to the ground, Gerald received a bite which pierced his finger and which sent him to the Receiving Hospital for treatment.

CAVE-IN KILLS WORKMAN.

Climbing toward the surface from an eighteen-foot trench, Francisco Pallan, a laborer, was crushed to the bottom of the pit by a cave-in of gravel at Witmer and Ingraham streets early yesterday morning. After an hour of desperate digging the twenty-five men on the job recovered the body. Pallan had been at the bottom of the trench, bailing out water. He is believed to have started to climb out, using a screw-jack, supporting the concrete forms, for a foothold. The jack slipped, released the boarding and the wall crumbled in an him.

BEAUTY OF NO ACCOUNT HERE.

BABIES JUDGED ALONG HYGIENIC LINES ONLY.

Exhibits Reach Hundred Mark at Show of Amaranth Women—Doctors Lay Youngsters on Tables and Go by Points—Raising Money to to Give Poor Mothers Holiday.

The baby show held yesterday by Royal Court, Order of the Amaranth, was an innovtaion inasmuch as no baby won a prize on its beauty. The examination and decision of the judges were strictly along hygienic lines, and while some very pretty babies came out winners, the losers can comfort themselves that beauty of face and fineness of raiment cut no figure in the decisions.

The show was held in the hall of Eastgate Masonic Lodge, North Broadway and Daly street, and instead of twenty-five babies, the number the committee hoped to have to present to the judges, they had fully 100, and the task of the judges was a tremendous one. In the case of the small babies, they were laid out on a table and given minute physical inspection, involving condition, shape of head and limbs and general bodily development. The examination of the older ones was more superficial, though with no less care. The youngest was three months and the eldest three years. The judges were Dr. Robert Dinsmore, Dr. Harriet G. Probasco and Mrs. Virginia N. Coate, and Mrs. Frank Stoddard was chairman of the Judging Committee. Mrs. Alvarez was chairman of the show, which was under the general direction of Mrs. Mamie A. Brown, matron of the court, and Henry Parlee, patron.

While the judges pursued their work in a small room, to which all the babies of a single class were taken separate from the others, the youngsters enjoyed themselves in the big lodge room, tumbling on the floor, playing horse with the chairs, and cutting other capers, to the amusement of their elders.

The object in giving the show was to create a fund for the entertainment of poor mothers and their children, who are not likely to have a summer vacation if left to their own resources.

Young Lester Lee Louden, who has now reached the mature age of 10 months, began his meteoric career as a prize-winner four months ago, when he won first prize at the pure food show. At the recent Carnival of States

Hayward Case.

HUSBAND NOT BACKING WIFE IN HER SUIT.

MRS. LESTER HAYWARD, who is suing Dr. Henderson Hayward, his son, Thomas, and his daughter, Laura, for the alleged alienation of her husband's love and affections, will receive no encouragement or support from her missing spouse. This was evidenced yesterday with the introduction of letters written by Lester to his brother, Thomas.

In these letters, which were written from Detroit, where Lester is understood to be located, the writer says he is "disgusted with Louise (his wife,) and can't live off of her promises any longer." Near the end he says: "I am willing to do as you ask me to do, and hope you will give this your immediate attention." The "immediate attention" referred to a $60 board bill which he owed a Detroit landlord. Lester signed the letter "Lovingly your brother," and asked Thomas to "give my best regards to father."

Mrs. Hayward won a point when Judge Houser, after hearing arguments on both sides, refused to throw her suit out of court, as requested by Attorney Milliken for the defense.

Thomas Hayward was on the stand most of the afternoon. He admitted he furnished Lester money to get out of Los Angeles. "I wanted him to get a job and settle down," said Thomas. The witness admitted that he later met Lester in Detroit, and after dining him, and taking him to the theater, Lester handed over to him all of the letters sent him by his wife, the plaintiff. It was charged by the plaintiff's attorneys that Thomas secured these letters by deceit and fraud. He vigorously denied these accusations.

The statements of Mrs. Hayward that she had lost the love of her husband and that she had made an unsuccessful search for him were refuted, the attorneys said, by the letters written by her to her husband. Many of these letters were admitted as evidence.

In one letter she asks Lester to "please stop drinking and be a man." Most of the letters deal with the alleged family skeleton of the Haywards.

Mayor Whealton Author of "Get What You Can."

Budd-Morgan Defense Scores Its Biggest Victory.

Famous Letter Admitted as Conspiracy Evidence.

Mayor Louis N. Whealton of Long Beach, alleged stage manager and scenic artist of the Budd-Morgan $50,000 "lost love" desert scandal, diamond robbery and conspiracy, took the witness stand in Judge Morrison's court yesterday and admitted that he was the author of the now famous "get-what-you-can" letter, written to Mrs. Budd on March 16, 1913, eight days after the Cima raid. The letter, which is of considerable length, was then introduced as exhibit A by Mrs. Morgan's attorneys and its reading to the jury by Attorney Robinson created a sensation.

Attorneys for Mrs. Budd made a powerful attempt to keep the letter out of the evidence but were finally overruled by the court. Mrs. Morgan's attorneys declare it exposes a cooked-up plot to mulct Mrs. Morgan out of a large share of her aged husband's fortune. Mayor Whealton squirmed in the witness chair, his face flushed from chin to forehead, during the argument. He appeared ill at ease and mopped his face with his handkerchief many times. It was apparently a trying moment for the chief executive of the beach city, who is facing a recall, when Attorney Robinson asked him if he had written the letter.

ADMITS WRITING IT.

It was a minute or more before he replied. He then said slowly: "I wrote the letter to Mrs. Budd, but this is only a copy."

Mr. Robinson then stepped before the jurors and read the letter. The jurors followed the reading of every word and several held their hands behind their ears so as to not miss a word. The witness kept his eyes on the court reporter in front of him and moved nervously in his seat.

In the letter Mr. Whealton refers to the raid on the Morgan mine house that eventful March 9, 1913, evening as "the tableau," tells of the "double role" player by Robert Lithgow, private detective and star witness for Mrs. Budd. Near the end he writes: "Get what you can, but it would be wiser to take $10,000 on settlement, than fight. Budd is not worth that, I am afraid, in the eyes of any jury."

A mass of letters and telegrams written and received by Mr. Whealton from Mrs. Budd, her father, W. L. Burroughs, Lithgow, and other alleged conspirators were introduced over the vigorous objections of plaintiff's attorneys.

Attorney Robinson then read a letter addressed to Mr. Whealton by Lithgow, the "Knothole Bob" of the trial, and the man who testified as to what took place in Mrs. Morgan's boudoir when Budd, his bunkmate, was missing from his room on many occasions.

The letter, dated Cima, March 10, 1913, follows in part: "Dear Friend—The business was pulled off. I feel sorry for the woman (meaning Mrs. Morgan.) She is sick. She is willing to settle. She said $25,000 would not hurt her. Keep her out of the newspapers. You come here. She will never know how it all happened."

LITHGOW'S PART.

The defense will attempt to show that Lithgow worked his way into the good graces of Mrs. Morgan and made her believe he was strong for her side, when, in reality, he was in constant communication with Mrs. Budd and Mr. Whealton. The defense will also try to show the jurors that Lithgow and others gave Mrs. Morgan large doses of whisky after the midnight raid and continued giving it to her for two or three days, while they attempted to have her settle for $30,000.

A telegram sent by Mrs. Budd to Mr. Whealton from Cima at 2:41 o'clock the morning after the famous flashlight was taken was introduced. In it she said: "Everything went off as planned, flash secured." Other equally important documentary evidence for the defense was admitted. Mayor Whealton will probably be on the stand all day today.

Before Mr. Whealton testified, Lithgow declared that he himself had acted as a go-between for Budd and Mrs. Morgan, as he had believed they were deeply in love. This, he admitted, in spite of a feeling for Mrs. Budd because he believed "she wasn't getting fair play."

According to Lithgow's testimony, he made many and complicated reports telling Mrs. Morgan's statements to Budd, to Mrs. Budd, and to Mr. Whealton, Mrs. Budd's counsel.

He declared that Mrs. Morgan had, through him, offered Mrs. Budd $20,000 to secure a divorce and let her have Budd.

A bitter wrangle occurred among the attorneys when Attorney Morton, for the plaintiff, asked to rest his case and later call another witness. He explained that he and his associates had started in an automobile yesterday for Cima to bring Mrs. Laura Gleason, a cook, to Los Angeles as a witness. After several mishaps, Mr. Morton returned here and his associates continued to Cima. If Mrs. Gleason returns with him she will be called as a witness. It is alleged Mrs. Gleason saw Budd kiss and hug Mrs. Morgan.

Several Pasadena business men testified as character witnesses for Mrs. Morgan. Among the Crown City men who said a good work in her behalf were D. M. Linnard, manager of the Maryland and Huntington hotels; Henry Newby, banker; D. C. Sullivan, broker; F. S. Bushnell and Frank C. Monroe, vice-president of the William R. Staats Company.

It was learned yesterday that Budd, the so-called desert Romeo, will not appear as a witness for either side. He is among the missing.

HERE IS THE LETTER.

Mayor Whealton in his famous letter to Mrs. Budd, dated March 16, 1913, says:

Your wires of yesterday are at hand and I have written your brother respecting one of them. The other came last night and concerns an insinuation regarding Lithgow's name and asking me to deny his connection with the case. could not properly reply to that wire by telegraph and I am writing you.

The Lithgow matter is doubtless causing you and him some worry. I regret it but it is unavoidable. The whole difficulty comes from a change of plans since he was here. I wished his affidavit that I might show her attorneys that had the evidence and so force a compromise. There were other reasons for having it but that was of extreme importance and that affidavit has been of immense help here. When it was given, we understood that Lithgow was acting secretly for your interest and for you only, that he realized what he was doing would cause him to lose his job and that he fully expected to leave the mine the night of the tableaux. That was my positive understanding with him in your presence at the time I paid him his expenses. If that was out of it altogether after the affair had taken place. Had I known he was to remain at the mine to further act for you—to make arrangements so as to getting things fixed for his own self and play the part of being her friend after the raid—I would not have had him come here to make the affidavit for I would have known that I could make no use of it on a compromise under such circumstances without placing him in a very bad position.

I understand that he has gotten into her good graces, that she has promised to take him to Canada and has assured him that she would do other things for him. While this has been going on—since the raid—he has advised her to compromise and not fight and has urged her to settle as soon as possible. He has also given you much valuable information as to the situation since Wobig came in. All his service is doubtless much appreciated by you and by her but we cannot help him to escape the double role he is playing and its becoming public in time, though I will do all I can to save him any unpleasantness as long as it does not jeopardize your case. I have no confidence whatever in any promise she makes to him now as to what she will do for him. Wobig knows her and his judgment is the same as to her fairness. If Lithgow is banking on anything from her and fears to lose it—he need not fear, for he is losing nothing whatever and will find it out in time. His only chance of reward is the whole affair is whatever you may feel like giving him after it is settled and, in my opinion, it would have been better for him and you, if he had acted on his original plans and left the mine that night, as we understood he would do. If he is exposed to her, he may feel like going against us, in spite of his affidavit, because of the humiliation and imagined loss of something she has promised him. He may try to turn her from settling after he has advised her to do so, but if she knows about the affidavit, it is hard to say what attitude she will take as to what advice he has already given and may give after she knows. He may deny that he made the affidavit—may say that he made it because it was the truth and could not avoid making it but I am sorry he did not play the part he first undertook and stick to your side by leaving that night.

You may not realize as fully as I do that the largest end to this case is here and not at Cima or at the mine. At least that is how it appears to me now. Until she has signed an agreement to settle, binding her to do so upon terms definite and positive so that her attorneys could not fight if they wanted to do so—we are likely to have a suit instead of a compromise. Twenty-five thousand is a large sum and attorneys can persuade her to fight on assurances that the publicity will not amount to anything, that such is the only way to clear her reputation, that we cannot get any such amount as damages, etc. The strongest fight they can make is on the ground of collusion, conspiracy, agreement between you and Mr. Budd to get money out of her. I say that I do not believe any such thing, but that was and is her attorney's suspicion. I must kill that suspicion before it grows and before she sees her attorney. The one thing I have in hand to kill it with is Lithgow's affidavit—an eye witness who is disinterested in any money you may receive, unless you choose to give it to him—the one man who can and has testified or sworn as to Budd and her conduct on such points as negatives and dispels all idea of collusion on your part. I cannot challenge Wobig to testify for it means the loss of the mine to him and he and his wife are friendly but we dare not even let them know they are friendly to you for they will tell nothing but the truth, I am sure, if they ever take the stand.

The cooked-up plan was the first thing thrown at me by her attorney. I was ready for it—nor with your sworn complaint, act with any bravery, but with the reply: "I have, in my safe sworn evidence of their acts set forth in the complaint—which evidence was procured by an eye witness to the transactions and covers a considerable period of time, and I can produce that evidence." That is what I said and of course the conclusion was that it must be Lithgow or Wobig as it was hardly possible for it to be Budd whose testimony would have proven worthless. It was not a case of collusion with you. Judge Gibbs has known Wobig for years and would not believe it of him and so it must be Lithgow who gave the evidence. I did not deny or dispute that it was him. I could not do so without casting a doubt on the evidence itself. I fully understood that Lithgow had taken the part for that very purpose and was willing to take the consequences if he had to be. I cannot now go to Judge Gibbs and tell him I have no affidavit from Lithgow without making Wobig known

NEW REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

County Body Is Selected for Coming Primaries.

Capt. Fredericks Tells How to Purify Advertising.

Bolo Club to Play Big Part in Campaign.

The Republican County Central Committee, which will manage the forthcoming campaign in this county, was selected yesterday at a joint conference of the old committee and various Republican clubs. Ninety-six members from the fifteen Assembly Districts in the county were chosen and their names will be placed upon the primary ballots of their respective districts for the primaries August 25.

Under the direct primary law the people are compelled to bear the burden of the cost of forming political organizations, although all parties settle the matter among themselves and submit the names of candidates for committeemen which are merely ratified by the people at the primaries. Each candidate must file a petition as outlined in the law for candidates for the Assembly to file, and the ninety-six Republican petitions, carrying thousands of names, will have to be verified. The same is true of the other four parties.

The conference yesterday elected Henry P. Barbour of Long Beach chairman and Mrs. M. E. Garrett, secretary. The Republican Women's League was represented by Mrs. R. W. Richardson, Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz and Mrs. Garrett; the Young Republicans were represented by Fred C. Fairbanks, Spencer Thorpe and Harry Brolaski. The Republican League of Los Angeles county sent Fred J. Spring, its president, and Joseph Martin, secretary, to the conference. The County Central Committee was represented by Mr. Barbour, Evan Lewis and Philo J. Beveridge, county chairman.

The new committeemen decided upon are taken from the ranks of the Republican party in every one of the districts. The list follows:

Sixty-first District—C. F. Parker, Glendale; C. J. Sullivan, Glendale; F. E. Middleton, H. E. Glidden, Charles E. Donathan, Arthur Campbell, Mrs. M. E. Garrett.

PURIFY ADVERTISING.
CAPT. FREDERICKS SAYS.

Capt. John D. Fredericks was the chief speaker yesterday at the regular Ad Club luncheon at the Hotel Clark, when he told the advertising men how to eradicate dishonesty from advertising. As District Attorney he interpreted the law and showed its application to fraudulent advertisers.

"Nine cases out of ten need never go into court," said Capt. Fredericks, for it lies with the Ad Club itself to weed out fraudulent advertisers by calling the attention of offenders to the law they have violated. Once an advertiser is warned that he cannot use erroneous tactics in advertising it is not likely that he will offend again. But the law provides a prosecution and punishment of offenders."

Capt. Fredericks was given an enthusiastic reception by the advertising men. Other speakers were E. K. Cook, A. H. Williams, Arthur J. Aberle, H. S. Carroll and R. J. Shoemaker. A. L. Fenton was chairman of the day.

Large Republican Meeting.

Alfred L. Bartlett and Mrs. Mary Garrett will be among the speakers at a large Republican gathering Friday night in Eagles Hall under the auspices of the Republican League. The Young Republican Club will join in the affair and delegations from Long Beach, Redondo and Venice will attend. Extension of the organization of the league and the reunion into the county will be discussed.

Bolo Club Active.

Seventeen of the twenty-one officers and directors of the Bolo Club of Los Angeles county last night held an enthusiastic meeting at Delmonico's, when an indorsing committee was named to scan the list of candidates and report back at a later meeting. The club is a non-partisan social organization of United Spanish War Veterans, and its say-so in politics always is considered worth while. The club will indorse a number of candidates prior to the primaries. Dr. Howard W. Seager, president of the Bolo Club, presided.

FREDERICKS FETED IN SAN DIEGO.

REPUBLICANS OF SOUTH WARM TO HIS CANDIDACY FOR GOVERNOR.

SAN DIEGO, June 30.—Capt. John D. Fredericks was given an enthusiastic reception by the heads of various Republican organizations of San Diego county at an informal affair in the U. S. Grant Hotel here tonight. A delegation of prominent Republicans met the Republican candidate at the depot and escorted him to the hotel. Dr. D. Doghenauer, chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, later presided at an informal meeting in one of the parlors.

The effect of Capt. Fredericks's visit was a better feeling among the Republican organizations of the south, a solidifying of the forces and a general atmosphere of harmony and determination to get behind the only candidate from Southern California for the Governorship.

E. L. Davin, president of the Young Republican League; F. Akerman, president of the Straight Republican League, and Mrs. S. J. Requa, president of the Republican Women's League, participated in the reception.

Responding to the greeting at the hotel, Capt. Fredericks said:

"The present business depression in California is chiefly due to the personal ambition of the present Governor, and the bickerings of his followers in the State administration, which have destroyed confidence.

"I am more deeply interested in the success of the Republican party than I am in the candidacy of myself for Governor. I believe that I will be elected, for I have never lost a political battle. Yet, if I am not nominated at the primaries, I will be out on the stump just the same, helping the Republican candidate with all the force at my command.

"When I was going through my great trial (the McNamara case) I saved the State from a civil war. At a time when a false step would have been disastrous to California, I won by being fair and square to capital and to labor."

J. C. Needham, Republican candidate for Congress in the Eleventh District, said that he was glad to indorse Capt. Fredericks, and he believed that Southern California Republicans will unite for him and make him our next Governor.

The Afro-American Council presented Capt. Fredericks with a copy of resolutions passed earlier in the day indorsing him for Governor.

PASADENANS OUT FOR FREDERICKS.

NEW CLUB ORGANIZED TO FURTHER CANDIDACY AMID ENTHUSIASM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PASADENA, June 30.—The projected Fredericks Republican Club of Pasadena came into being at an enthusiastic meeting held at the rooms of the Board of Trade tonight. More than a dozen ringing speeches were made, each one of the speakers expressing the desire that all get in and work so that the Republican party may again come to the fore in Pasadena as in the old days, and predicting that the time is ripe for a rousing campaign. E. F. Hahn, one of Capt. Fredericks's most ardent supporters in Pasadena, was elected president of the new organization, and the following were elected vice-presidents: Mrs. Calvin Hartwell, H. W. McGee, W. F. Knight, J. L. Lowe, W. H. Vedder and James McFadden. The selection of a secretary-treasurer was left to these seven. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, that the Fredericks Republican Club of Pasadena, recognizing the commanding qualities and splendid record of John D. Fredericks do, and it hereby does, indorse the candidacy for Governor of John D. Fredericks, and pledges to him its undivided and enthusiastic support at the primaries of August 25, and the election of November 3."

Last night's meeting was preliminary to a big rally to be held at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium on July 10, at which time Capt. Fredericks will be the principal speaker. "It is time for the Republican party of Pasadena to get together and do something," said Hahn, in assuming the presidency of the newly-formed club. "Until four years ago Pasadena was the banner Republican city in the State. Later we will establish a large Republican club here, of which this club will be the nucleus."

Applause resounded when City Commissioner R. L. Metcalf was called on for some remarks. "Pasadena used to be a perfect Republican town," he said. "I see no reason why it can't come back to that again. I should like to see a man elected Governor who would stay in the State and attend to the business of his office, instead of running across the country. I should like to see a man elected Governor who would stay at home and take care of the business of the people."

Among the other speakers were Capt. W. H. Halsey, former Judge McGee, J. W. Wood, Calvin Hartwell, H. B. Pitcher and Rupert Turnbull. Mrs. Hartwell was unable to be present, and Coroner Hartwell said a few words in her behalf. He said that she felt that she could do as much as any other woman in the State for the Republican party in California. Mrs. Hartwell comes from a prominent Republican family, and only yesterday she completed her term as president of the Shakespeare Club. She is one of the best-known club women in the State.

VALLEY BOOSTS CANDIDACY.

EL CENTRO, June 30.—Capt. Fredericks was unanimously indorsed in his candidacy for Governor of the State by the Young Republican Club of Imperial county at an enthusiastic and well-attended meeting held in the Courthouse tonight.

A GROWING CAUSE.

Some might call it a spreading evil. We refer to the way the word militant is catching on. A militant school of medicine was urged at a convention of doctors the other day. Pretty soon we will have militant mice marching against the cats.

TEST OF FRIENDSHIP.

What is a good test of friendship? How can its worth be measured or weighed or estimated? The greatest test of friendship is the knowledge that you can speak the unvarnished truth to a friend with the certainty that no offense will be taken. "I do not wish to treat friendship daintily, but with roughest courage," wrote Emerson. Rough courage is the supreme test of real sincerity.

A SAD COMMENTARY.

A local divorce judge finds that 95 per cent. of the cases brought before him come from homes where the husband earns less than $75 a month. Now there is a human economy which makes a man meet the responsibilities he takes, but this divorce record certainly suggests that perhaps some responsibilities should be at least partially met before they are entirely assumed.

THE SUMMER GIRL.

She is one of life's compensations. She reconciles a man to exile upon this sorrowful star. She is dawn, noontide and sunset in one. She is the twilight's softness and the first star's gleam. She is the whisper of winds and the call of night birds. She is also the consumer of ice cream and sodas and the goddess of bathing suits. What beach would be home without her?

ENGLISHMEN IN MEXICO.

When President Wilson directed all Americans to leave Mexico and accorded them steerage passage to the United States, which was increased to first-class fare at the expense of the Mexican treasury by orders of Huerta, the incident imparted nothing except a vagary of Wilson.

But the action of Sir Lionel Carden, the British Minister, in advising all British subjects to leave Mexico and advancing to those who are impecunious the cost of a passage to and temporary residence in Jamaica, means something. It means that England will make Mexico pay for all injuries inflicted upon Englishmen, and all property of which they may be despoiled, and all the costs of making the collection.

INCREASE THE DEFICIT.

Congress is dissatisfied with the smallness of the treasury deficit for the fiscal year and it proposes to increase it by $165,000,000 for the coming twelvemonth. There is a section of the United States Revised Statutes enacted about fifty years ago which prohibits the payment of claims against the United States made by West Point graduates and others who left the Union service to enter that of the Confederacy. The House of Representatives voted on Monday last to repeal this law. If the Senate concurs it will open Uncle Sam's strong box to the ravages of the majahs and the kyurnels and their descendants, who are now reconstructed and, like Col. Sellers, are "in favor of the old flag and the appropriation."

DISCRIMINATING AMONG FARMERS.

The New York Times calls attention to the fact that on the same day the Supreme Court annulled the Kentucky statute authorizing farmers to pool their tobacco the Farmers' Society of Equity sent to the farmers of the country a circular saying that the immense crop made it possible that wheat might sell at 75 cents per bushel.

A national law permits the farmers to do with wheat what the farmers of Kentucky are forbidden to do with tobacco.

The New York Times asks if the farmers can combine to get good prices why cannot others? "If associations not for profit are to be privileged over others, may it not be anticipated that many such organizations will be formed for the purpose of doing things otherwise unlawful? If associations of farmers may raise the price of wheat, why may not a benevolent association of bakers raise the price of bread, and so on through the list?"

UNION PANTIES.

The interesting information is telegraphed by the Associated Press to the country that President Wilson has a new white duck suit. The duck was made at an old cotton mill in South Carolina. It was cut by a New York tailor and sewed by a Hebrew maiden upon a machine made in Massachusetts. Sections of our country which were once rent with civil feuds were thus linked in loving embrace in the President's breeches.

Yet amicable relations between the North and South will not be completely restored until Mr. Wilson's morning bracer shall consist of Kentucky whisky, sweetened with Louisiana sugar, flavored with California lemon juice, mixed in an Illinois cut-glass tumbler and stirred with a spoon made in Connecticut from Nevada silver.

The Associated Press is falling short of a perfect news service when it telegraphs to many millions of newspaper readers an account of only the outer garments of Mr. Wilson. What of his underwear, is it Balbriggan or linen mesh? Are his hose silk or cotton? Is his hat straw or felt? Is his shirt-collar as hard as Bryan's nerve or as soft as Redfield's brain? Give us all the particulars, ye agents of the Associated Press.

MEDIATION—SMALL HOPES.

Hopes of the success of the A.B.C. mediation plan for adjusting the Mexican imbroglio are growing dimmer and more dim. Brazil, Argentina and Chile proffered their services as arbitrators in good faith, and the envoys in session at Niagara Falls have undoubtedly labored with sincerity and tact, but to little effect. They have discovered that it is easy enough to put salt on a bird's tail after you catch the bird. Huerta refuses to be caught—and so does Carranza. And there you are.

One delay follows another. One excuse one day and another the next. Now Carranza says he must submit the protocol to his sub-generals—who are scattered over the desert. Villa and Carranza are at cross-purposes and what is agreeable to one does not suit the other. It is a shrewd surmise that what each wants is less mediation and more loot. As for Huerta, he is quite a "watchful waiter" himself, and foxier than the one in the White House.

The mediators believe they have averted war between the United States and Mexico, but it is not quite clear that this danger has passed. A spark of irritation or resentment may explode the powder that litters Vera Cruz and the border, almost any sultry day. So long as hostile forces, yearning for excitement, confront each other there is danger of war. The war talk will not die out until some measures more effective than those evolved by the A.B.C. mediators have been resorted to—and even mediation is taking an "indefinite recess."

It must be apparent to the mediators that a strong arm is needed in Mexico—and that, if the great powers of the world had agreed upon a policy of joint intervention, with their armies and navies back of it, some progress might have been made in the pacification of Mexico ere this. World co-operation must solve the Mexican problem. Why delay it? Let England, Germany and France join with the United States and the principal Latin-American republics in setting up in and for Mexico a firm and lasting government. It is not too late to do it.

JUSTICE FOR INSURANCE COMPANIES.

The insurance companies of the nation would welcome Federal control; they would welcome it because at present each State is the taskmaster of the companies operating within its borders, and scarcely any two States have the same regulations and laws.

In an open letter from Darwin P. Kingsley, president of the New York Life Insurance Company, to W. L. Hathaway, commissioner for the World's Insurance Congress, which will meet at San Francisco during the Panama-Pacific Fair, attention is called to the fact that something over $17,000,000 is annually paid in expenditures that would be needless, under Federal regulation, to the politicians of the various States.

It is because of this legal graft that strenuous opposition develops every time the insurance companies attempt to be brought under Federal regulation. The State politicians do not want to lose their sinecures and revenues, the Congressmen do not want to offend their "home" politicians, and so the palpable abuse is perpetuated, and the people who pay for insurance and those owning stock in insurance companies bear the expense.

In calling attention to the value of insurance companies, President Kingsley writes: "I do not say that San Francisco would not have been rebuilt in any event, but the difference between San Francisco as it is and San Francisco as it would have been if insurance had not immediately provided its stricken people with $190,000,000 after calamity fell is something so considerable that, while we may not exactly measure it, everybody must recognize it."

He points out that insurance companies were practically driven out of Texas a few years ago because of drastic local legislation, and since that time many companies have had trouble in Missouri and in Kentucky, while at present the State of Kansas has undertaken to fix by legislation the rates of fire insurance. Other States, having the same power, may attempt the same thing, and it requires scant perspicacity not to see into what straits such meddling in the fifty States would force insurance companies. If they were under Federal legislation there would be equality throughout the nation, and the $17,000,000 annual graft now required for the salaries of politicians would contribute toward lower national rates.

MORGANATIC MARRIAGES.

True democracy means civilized government based on common sense and common justice, working in accord with natural laws and human sympathies. It must be simple and serviceable and, above all, void of all discriminations. Any government that is not democratic contains a germ of self-destruction.

Since the immortal Declaration of Independence and the first real triumph for pure democratic ideals following that declaration the world has been slowly leavened more and more with the spirit of American justice and freedom. Even the institution of monarchy, albeit grudgingly and of necessity, has had to trim its sails to stand the popular breeze of no favors and equal rights.

Of course monarchy has resisted. Still the illogical rule of primogeniture prevails in choosing kings and emperors. Since this custom, however, does not interfere with the personal liberties of the people, European kingdoms accept it is a simple method of replacing one figurehead with another when death interferes with the divine rights of kings. A certain amount of unrest and instability is thus avoided by those who have become accustomed to thrones and titles.

But the marriage laws, as enforced today among members of reigning families in Europe, are unmoral, non-eugenic and barbarous anachronisms. Crown princes of real flesh and blood will risk successions and ancient dynasties rather than be forced into violating the first law of God and man—freedom of choice to enjoy the glorious privilege of the husband and the father. Princes have done this already on many occasions, some so publicly that the story could not be hushed; some privately, whereby an innocent woman has had to suffer for the pride of an inbred family.

Until morganatic marriages are as obsolete as the dodo, until every man, whether prince or peasant, is bound by the same marriage law, no kingdom rests on a safe foundation. The debarment of morganatic wives and children from their full rights will republicanize Europe in name, as our Loaded and Ready for Action.

Declaration of Independence and its consequences have already done in spirit.

No better illustration of the peril attending unrecognized royal marriages could well be furnished than the fearful political unrest that will follow the assassination of Francis Ferdinand of Austria. The legal successor to the throne of Austria will not be the legal successor to the throne of Hungary. In Hungary a marriage, honestly contracted, is a full marriage; no privilege of rank is recognized. As it is, the most consummate tact has been necessary to preserve the dual monarchy. What will happen when the old Emperor, Franz Josef, passes away? All Europe may be set ablaze for the sake of perpetuating a double standard of morality in marriage, one for the King and another for the subject.

Monarchy has a precarious hold on the peoples of Germany, Great Britain, Austria, Italy and Russia. The injustice of condemning a man, prince or otherwise, for marrying a good, pure woman according to the dictates of nature, whether she be of so-called royal or plebeian blood, may be the spark to burn the last royal house in Europe and sweep away in smoke the last remaining privileges of primogeniture.

Should this be brought about we shall witness a strange paradox. For monarchy will perish, not through oppression of the people, but on account of injustice perpetrated against princes. Abolishing the disabilities of morganatic marriages will be one step forward in popularizing constitutional monarchies. Unless these are democratic they must fall to the ground like everything that is archaic or part of a dead regime. For the sake of their own houses royal families should welcome the infusion of good, vigorous, red blood into their hardened, old, blue arteries.

A RUINOUS LAW.

The "New Freedom" anti-trust law, which President Wilson announces with brutal frankness Congress must pass before he will permit it to adjourn, is the kind of "new freedom" which exists in Russia, where the Czar issues his ukase and the legislative body subserviently approves. The President calls it "constructive legislation," but it is destructive legislation of the most radical character.

"There is," says Mr. Frederick L. Baily in a letter to the New York Journal of Commerce, "a growing feeling of alarm among the thoughtful business men as to the future in view of the continued position of hostility to business from our representatives at Washington. If the drastic legislation as represented by the bills now before Congress should be enacted into law they will be followed by confusion and disaster to business. The idea that Congress could in fourteen days dispose of bills proposing more important changes in business than has occurred in a century past is unthinkable."

The legislation which Wilson demands will not build up business—it will destroy business. It will complete the ruin that the Wilson-Underwood tariff inaugurated in the Eastern States. The business of the country there is—as truthfully stated by Mr. Baily—in a "waiting attitude." Curtailment is going on everywhere; many industries are running about half capacity, some even less, and some have closed entirely. They are suffering in the East not only depression of domestic business, but the loss of their export trade. It has been estimated that one branch of our exports which was nearly $400,000,000 in 1912 will drop to $60,000,000 in 1914. The exports for April alone fell off $37,000,000 as compared with the same month of the preceding year, and over $43,000,000 of gold went out of the country during the first half of June to correct a trade balance that should have been the other way.

The tariff has affected and the proposed "trust-busting" law would affect not merely the banks and trust companies and corporations and "big business" at which it is leveled, but the depositors in the banks, the men with the dinner pail, the men who work in the trenches, the men who work in the factories, the men who labor on the farm; in fact all the people would suffer.

"The various matters in the several bills under consideration," says Mr. Baily, "are of such a serious nature and have had such very brief and incomplete attention that it seems only reasonable to suggest that, after this long and tiresome session and after enacting the necessary bills before them, Congress should adjourn; and after giving the matter very mature and deliberate consideration and feeling the 'pulse of the country' on the subject, they should then take up this legislation in an intelligent way at another session of Congress."

If Congress would adjourn, if it would "shut up and go home," and give the country a breathing spell, and afford the voters of this country an opportunity to express their opinion, we might escape much of the disaster that otherwise menaces us. If Congress shall persist in following the Wilson programme and honor the $25,000,000 blackmail draft of Colombia on our depleted Federal treasury, and enact the drastic anti-trust bill into law, it will be followed by uncertainty, distrust and alarm; and notwithstanding the wonderful recuperative powers of this great country, will bring upon us most serious conditions that are painful to contemplate.

PROTECTION FOR GOMPERS.

The Democratic administration proposes to remove such "anti-trust" restrictions as may interfere with the operations of the American Federation of Labor. The federation is, so far as anyone may observe, entirely controlled by Sam Gompers.

President Wilson is willing that the Federation of Labor should be free and unhampered to do as it sees fit. He assumes that the federation would not injure any business or any individuals. He would have it appear that it is wrong for a corporation to smash and send into failure a competing business, but it is right for the Federation of Labor to smash and starve, if possible, such workingmen as do not subscribe to its doctrines.

A few days ago Gompers kicked from the American Federation of Labor the 80,000 members of the Federation of Bricklayers. Gompers will do all in his power, and the present indications are that he will be aided by the Democratic Congress, to keep those 80,000 bricklayers from earning a livelihood or securing work. It is Gompers's business to see those who defy him or oppose him suffer. It seems to be immaterial to him whether they suffer from dynamite or starvation—if possible they must suffer!

The offense of the bricklayers' organization is that it filled the places of strikers and denied the authority of the International Union of Marble Setters.

Yet, at the present time, in the Congress which Mr. Wilson holds in the hollow of his hand, are bills ready to be passed which will remove the penalties that the anti-trust laws impose on the American Federation of Labor for such acts as will be criminal if committed by business men.

A DOUBLE DANGER.

It seems that interesting letters have a tragic way of coming back. They either happen in alienation suits and divorce trials or else the writers become famous and their children give the letters to the public after they are dead. We heard of a lady the other day who went rummaging in her trunk for something and to the surprise of her daughters produced a package of letters dated fifty years ago and all of them unopened with a single exception. "They are from your father," she said to the girls. "I read one of them and that was enough. Of all the mush you ever saw, your father could write it. I was willing to marry him, but not to read such correspondence." Now that kind of letter-writing never got anybody into trouble as long as it was backed up by that kind of letter-getting. Incidentally, the lady's answers must have been wonderfully sympathetic.

WHAT IS PULQUE?

Pulque—the national intoxicating drink of Mexico—tastes very much as rotten eggs smell. It is made from the juice of the maguey plant which furnishes a supply only once in eight or ten years and then dies. One drink of pulque will make a bandit of a Mexican and, after two drinks, he is disposed to massacre his mother-in-law.

JULY AND JOLLITY.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

That Swat.

There was a young lady of Venice,
Who fancied all bugs were a menace;
So, during July,
She swatted the fly—
She looked like a girl playing tennis.

In the Beginning.

That grand old work, the almanac, kindly informs us that this is July. We used to call it summer in the far North and would then swap flannels for straw hats, but here it is not vastly different from any other month, and even the feverish Fourth doesn't create the disturbance with which our childhood endowed it.

July was built up around the family name of Julius Caesar, who, in addition to being a hardy Roman scrapper, was some reformer of the calendar. He gave it a shaking up that is remembered in this day. His birthday was this month, and when they were reading proof on the revised almanac Mark Antony moved that it be called Julius.

"Our Caesar is hot stuff," he pleasantly remarked. Julius blushed, but remarked: "Go ahead, boys; I'll stand for it." So he sent out for a box of cigars and set 'em up to the bunch.

It was originally the fifth month, called Quintilius, and had thirty-six days, but Julius said: "We got too many hot days now," and cut it down to thirty-one. At that time the dog star rose with the sun, and as the proverb says that every dog has his day, they started off the dog days on July 3rd. It was the pups wearing muzzles that made Rome howl.

The early Anglo-Saxons called July the harvest or hay month and thereby comes reference to the heydays, when man is in his prime and equal to any strong arm or porch-climbing movement.

On the Roost.

At this time the venerable poultry man is either swatting the rooster or tending bar for his hens. The birds are not exactly sure whether they want to set or moult, and it keeps everybody else guessing. During the moulting season a hen will apparently shed about twice her own bulk in feathers and will just sit around and look peevish most of the time. When she is sitting on a mess of eggs she wears a different expression. We have one hen, Parthenia, who has apparently gone daffy. She has been sitting for two weeks on a bucket of ripe onions. When we go near her she continues to stare stonily into space and seems so terribly impressed with the importance of her mission that we haven't the heart to interrupt it. We are really curious to know what kind of a cross the Rhode Island Red chicken and the Yellow Danvers onion will make. It is a New England affair, anyhow, and it might result in a Plymouth Rock with Connecticut nutmeg dressing. But, at any rate, the hatch ought to be strong.

Some Cutting Remarks.

Also at this time the busy farmer goes forth with his safety razor and manicure scissors and clips his third crop of alfalfa. Just now there are a lot of people who have more hay than money. The prospect of reversing the situation is not as flattering as of yore. Two years or more ago some of the swell alfalfa would bring $20 to $24 a ton, but now $6 to $10 is the going price. They are making a flour or table meal out of alfalfa and if it gets to be as good for man as it is for beast some of its former value may be restored. But the fact that alfalfa may be had for about half what it was a year ago is not fully satisfactory evidence that the new tariff has lessened the cost of living. Most of us still prefer bacon to alfalfa when the whistle blows.

This Day In History.

Just 223 years ago today—on July 1, 1690,—the Stuart family got theirs on Boyne water. It was a scrap of brothers-in-law over the church, and when you get the family and religion mixed up you have the makings of a lively row.

King James was as cross as a bear in a smokehouse. He ran with the French more than his own people, and if a duke or an earl chanced to differ with him on the question of going to mass the King would pink him with his toadstabber until he leaked all over the place. It finally got so that no man was considered a good risk by the life insurance companies. At length a few of the survivors got together and sent a telegram to William of Orange, the Dutch champion, asking him to hurry over and mix things with the red demon of the islands. Bill had hooked up to Jim's sister. She was his favorite skirt, but there was no avalanche of family love at that, and William declared he would knock Jimmy through the ropes.

So they got together on the banks of the Boyne, not far from Dublin. James had some Frenchmen in his corner, but they were not overly enthusiastic about it. It was not their scrap, anyhow, and they didn't think a whole lot of their champion, although they belonged to the same lodge. When William came on there was a gruff "Hello, Bill," and a cheery "Howdy, Jim," and then the two mixed. There was some sparring for wind and time, but the fight did not last very long. They mixed with claymores, picks, spandrils, crossbows, blunderbusses and other venomous artillery, but James's backers weakened and presently it degenerated into a foot race in which Jim finally brought up in France and Bill in London, where he was put into the king row and Jimmy's name taken off the doorplate.

Later they put up a statue of William in Dublin, and when the Irish Sons of Guns had their annual meeting they would fill up on root beer and go down and paint William a bright green or tie a petticoat around his waist. Next morning the orangemen would come out and swab him off and place a wreath of laurel on his brow. If the rival forces chanced to meet there would be a ruction which would keep the chief of police busy all day. This exchange of pleasantries has kept Ireland spicily involved to this day.

Look Who's Here.

Oh, mother, watch your darling boy and daily count his thumbs. He's primed with most ecstatic joy—the glorious Fourth soon comes. He'll blow himself to hectic morn amid the cannon's roar and then come home with garments torn and fingers burnt and sore. At eventide the rocket's glare will rouse his eager cries; he'll singe off all his head of hair and lose a couple of eyes. Yet Willie will not bemoan his fate—in fact he's rather glad. Next day he'll write upon his slate: "A lovely time was had."

An Original Epitaph.

[Lippincott's:] Abe Williams, a native of Rhode Island, always craved originality, and when his wife died he adhered to his principles and had an original epitaph inscribed on her headstone. "Lord She Was Thine," was the idea he hit upon. He had his own ideas of space between words and the size of the letters, and gave instructions to the stonemason. The latter carried them out all right, except that he could not get the "e" in Thine.

CLOSING THE DOORS.

I have closed the door on Doubt;
I will go by what light I can find,
And hold up my hands, and reach them out
To the glimmer of God in the dark, and call:
Shine, though I grope and stumble and fall.
I serve; and Thy service is kind."

I have closed the door on Fear.
He has lived with me far too long.
If he were to break forth and reappear,
I should lift my eyes and look at the sky,
And sing aloud, and run lightly by;
He will never follow a song.

I have closed the door on Gloom.
His house has too narrow a view.
I must seek for my soul a wider room,
With windows to open and let in the sun,
And radiant lamps when the day is done,
And the breeze of the world blowing

Davis and Holy Writ.

"L be stoned with stones that she In Leviticus xx:10 and Deut. I find that penalty pronounced an unfaithful wife, but Ex. says that the man who seduces is to pay the dowry for her to wife, and Deut. xxii:28 says he never divorce her. In I Cor. Paul says that even if it is a that he has joined himself to become one with her, for "The T saveth he "shall become one and the Lord Jesus said of those have become one flesh. Davis, the Stone Thrower.

LOS ANGELES, June 30.—[To Editor of The Times:] One can have a profound pity for anyone expresses the ideas of J. W. Davis his efforts to suppress the build of the Florence Crittenton Home, published in yesterday's Times. possible that one can be so blind to not see the result of such ideas, so ignorant of his obligations to humanity? He quotes Jehovah's law or man's conception of Jehovah—I wonder if he ever read Ezek iii:18? Does he know that the mates of the home are, as a ru warm-hearted, loving and lovab girls, who may be—and very oft are—saved to lives of usefulness, coming splendid, noble women? Do he know that many of the inmates our women's prisons, and of th houses of the redlight district, a sent there—driven there—by just su sentiments as he has expressed?

It seems to me that anyone shou be glad to have such an institution the Florence Crittenton Home for next-door neighbor. Why should concern ourselves with anybody's ya terdays, excepting to help them wisely use the todays? We ne Florence homes for the boys as we as the girls. If only they were taug to use their God-given, almost Go like, creative powers as they were i tended to be used, instead of perver ing and abusing them, we should ha no need of homes for girls.

I have heard many pitiful, hear breaking stories, which would neve have been but for the false educatio and lack of any education, of the bo and men responsible. "Stone th woman, let the man go free," has be come obsolete. Educate them bo along right lines, and the millennium will be much nearer.

AVALON, June 30.—"I am going to see if I can't capture one of those wild goats the first afternoon," exclaimed William Renzie upon his arrival at the Times Camp Monday and was immediately joined in the expedition by his friend, William Berkley. Old clothes were donned and the pair started up the hills in back of the camp, armed with a club and a lasso, and, after tramping the trail for about a half-mile, Renzie, who was in the lead, gave a yell that quickly brought William to his side. About twenty feet in front of them, sunning itself on the side of the trail, was a large rattlesnake. Renzie noiselessly advanced upon the reptile and quickly sent him to the happy hunting ground. It measured a little over two feet and had nine rattles and a button. After dragging it to camp it was skinned and Renzie says that when he goes back to Los Angeles he is going to have a hat band made out of it to remember the first outing trip of his camp life at the Times Camp.

The boys captured a goat all right, but it happened to be a rattler's goat instead of one of the cannibal tribe.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

[The Times invites strong, clear, bright expression of opinion on current subjects, timely, pertinent and popular. Brevity should be kept in sight. Many rejected. Letters offered for publication should be in "parliamentary" language, and are subject to editorial supervision.]

Davis and Holy Writ.

BURNETT (Cal.) June 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I should like to ask Mr. Davis where he finds the mandate of Jehovah referring to a girl who has been seduced and driven to a life of shame. "Let her be stoned with stones that she die." In Leviticus xx:10 and Deut. xxii:22 I find that penalty pronounced upon an unfaithful wife, but Ex. xxii:16 says that the man who seduces a girl is to pay the dowry for her to be his wife, and Deut. xxii:28 says he may never divorce her. In I Cor. vi:16 Paul says that even if it is a harlot that he has joined himself to he has become one with her, for "The Twain" signify he "shall become one flesh," and the Lord Jesus said of those who have become one flesh, "What God hath joined together let no man put asunder." If we had not tried to improve upon God's law by saying that without a ceremony there is no marriage there would not be much need for rescue homes.

ERNEST HARNETT.

Davis, the Shocker.

HUNTINGTON PARK, June 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Dear Sir: I was surprised and shocked by reading the views of J. W. Davis in the morning paper in regard to the poor girls in the Crittenton Home, that anyone could be so inhuman in this age is almost beyond belief. While Mr. Davis was quoting Jehovah why did he not go a little farther and finish? "And the man also that was with her shall ye also stone until he die." How about it, Mr. Davis? If this law is good for one it is just as good and binding for two. God made no distinction in this case—the command is to stone both. Evidently Mr. Davis does not read all of his Bible, or if he does, he is like many others, who only pick such verses or chapters as suit their own needs or whims of the hour. If he had read it with a desire to know and understand he never would have penned those cruel words, but rather he would have remembered that the Son of the same Jehovah said, "He that is without sin let him cast the first stone." He would also have remembered that of all her accusers none was found who dared to cast that first stone. I would suggest that Mr. Davis form a club of men in Los Angeles (or elsewhere) that have never sinned, and who can qualify to cast the first stone at some of the little 12 and 15-year-old mothers-to-be, who have found a haven of rest and shelter in the Crittenton Home, who have in many cases been cast there by "highly respectable men" who couldn't abide to have the home in their neighborhood.

I earnestly hope that this insincere and overvirtuous crowd of people, who are crying out against this home, will read their Bibles a little more diligently and with just ordinary kindness and perhaps they will be able to see the question in a little different light.

MRS. W. E. FORD.

Dan, the Stone Thrower.

LOS ANGELES, June 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] One can only have a profound pity for anyone who expresses the ideas of J. W. Davis in his efforts to suppress the building of the Florence Crittenton Home, as published in yesterday's Times. Is it possible that one can be so blind as to not see the result of such ideas, or is ignorant of his obligations to humanity? He quotes Jehovah's law—a man's conception of Jehovah—but I wonder if he ever read Ezekiel 33:11? Does he know that the inmates of the home are, as a rule, warm-hearted, loving and lovable girls, who may be—and very often are—saved to lives of usefulness, becoming splendid, noble women? Does he know that many of the inmates of our women's prisons, and of the houses of the redlight district, are out there—driven there—by just such sentiments as he has expressed?

It seems to me that anyone should be glad to have such an institution as the Florence Crittenton Home for a next-door neighbor. Why should we concern ourselves with anybody's business, excepting to help them to truly use the todays? We need Florence homes for the boys as well as the girls. If only they were taught to use their God-given, almost God-like creative powers as they were intended to be used, instead of perverting and abusing them, we should have no need of homes for girls.

I have heard many pitiful, heartbreaking stories, which would never have been but for the false education, and lack of any education, of the boys and men responsible. "Stone the woman, let the man go free," has become obsolete. Educate them both along right lines, and the millennium will be much nearer.

INSPECTION TRIP.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDONDO BEACH, June 30.—A number of Santa Fe officials, consisting of L. L. Hibbard, general superintendent of Coast lines; J. R. Hitchcock, superintendent of Los Angeles division; A. M. Reinhardt, assistant general freight agent; F. S. Purdy, road master, and Attorney Clotworthy were here on a tour of inspection today, but incidentally to look over the new road crossing to be erected for the proposed municipal pier. It is understood that they will not offer any opposition.

Investigation Assured.

FRANCIS'S STATEMENT.

"A general denial of all charges will be made at the earliest possible moment," said Mr. Francis, following the meeting.

He supplemented this with the following statement:

"Please permit me to state that I belonged to no organization of the character mentioned in the charges. So far as the Lickley case is concerned, I made no recommendation that he be appointed assistant Superintendent of Schools, and consequently never had any reason to change such a recommendation.

"I was never with Dr. Karr, as was said, when he was under the influence of liquor, nor have I ever seen him intoxicated. But Dr. Karr's case is entirely separate from this one, and must be dealt with separately.

"The issues are confused with a multiplicity of words. As to the motives that have prompted me since becoming Superintendent of Schools, I am more than willing to be judged by the people after an impartial hearing is had. I have but one purpose as Superintendent of Schools, and that is to conserve the welfare of the school children.

"As to the elementary schools, they have received more attention and made far more progress and reached a comparatively higher development within the four years of my superintendency than during any similar period of their history. The salaries of the teachers have been increased, many lines of new development have been introduced, and the pupils spell, cipher and read as well as they ever did. The elementary schools have not been weakened by the establishment of the intermediate school, and our elementary schools now have some of the strongest teachers in the force.

Had any decrease in the efficiency of the elementary schools occurred during my term, it would have been taken note of by the parent-teacher associations, whose especial interest has been in the elementary schools. Many visiting educators have noted the strength of the elementary schools.

"As to the promotion of my friends, a sufficient reply is that no promotions have been recommended except by the unanimous consent of all the superintendents in conference. Most of these promotions have been nominated by one of the assistant superintendents and not by myself. These assistant superintendents would not unite in a recommendation on any other than a merit basis. This, of course, can and will be substantiated.

"I was in no way responsible for the failure to build a vocational school. In fact, the proposition was very near to my heart, and I was very greatly disappointed when on my return from the East I found it had been eliminated.

I do not believe that one in 500 of the successful teachers in this city will testify that I have dealt with them in an arbitrary or autocratic way."

Mr. Francis will have three weeks in which to answer the charges of the minority. This length of time was given him, as he leaves today for St. Paul to attend the meeting of the National Education Association. The investigation will be entirely separate from the survey decided on at a previous meeting and will be public.

"The public wouldn't allow it to be behind closed doors," observed Reynold E. Blight.

A suggestion was made by one of the minority that the Municipal League appoint jurors to hear the case, but there was no second to the motion.

"I have no fear of the outcome," said Dr. Grant Karr, in commenting on the charges filed against him.

STEADMAN RETIRES.

An interesting feature in connection with the case is that the term of Col. J. J. Steadman as president of the board will expire tomorrow and a successor must be elected.

"I will get rid of a lot of trouble," he said last night.

Prominent in the minority's allegations was a harking back to the Municipal League's campaign of the summer of 1904. According to the charges of Scott, et al., "several leaders in our school department, particularly John H. Francis, Frank A. Bouelle, B. W. Reed, B. O. Kinney and W. W. Tritt, during that campaign bent every effort to accomplish the defeat of the non-partisan Board of Education." These men, it is further alleged, were prominent in the Owls and instrumental in putting a private detective on the trail of Mr. Lickley to see whether "they could get anything on him."

In addition to other charges against Dr. Grant Karr, it was alleged that he had been "closer to the superintendent, officially and personally, than anyone else in the department," and that his presence in the department was largely due to the championing of Mr. Francis.

As was expected, the legality of Mr. Francis's re-election as superintendent was touched on through reference to the fact that it requires five votes to pay his salary.

NO MORE QUARRELS.

On pain of serving twenty-five days in jail should they again become involved in a disturbance, domestic or otherwise, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwarzschultz of No. 982 Sanborn street were given suspension of sentence yesterday by Police Judge Chesebro. Mrs. Schwarzschultz repeated her charges that her husband had sprinkled her garments with gasoline and touched a match to them.

BOYS ENJOY FIRST DAY SPENT IN "TIMES" CAMP.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VALON, June 30.—"I am going to see if I can't capture one of those wild goats the first afternoon," exclaimed William Renzie upon his arrival at the Times Camp Monday and was immediately joined in the expedition by his friend, William Berkley. Clothes were donned and the pair struck up the hills in back of the camp, armed with a club and a lasso, and after tramping the trail for about a half-mile, Renzie, who was in the lead, gave a yell that quickly brought them to his side. About twenty feet in front of them, sunning itself on the edge of the trail, was a large rattlesnake. Renzie noiselessly advanced upon the reptile and quickly sent him to the happy hunting ground. It measured a little over two feet and had nine rattles and a button. After killing it to camp it was skinned and Renzie says that when he goes back to Los Angeles he is going to have a hat band made out of it to remember the first outing trip of his short life at the Times Camp.

The boys captured a goat all right, but happened to be a rattler's goat and not instead of one of the canine tribe.

The first evening at camp was spent in playing games and enjoying the music rendered by Bob Hansaker on his banjo, accompanied by the Times Camp quartette. The new turning bar was also put in use and many gymnasts were found among the camp boys, one of the best being Kenneth Tipton, who did many stunts on the bar to amuse the other boys.

Curfew rang at the camp at 10 o'clock, and all of the boys eagerly sought their cots, as the first day had been very exciting.

The following menus were served today:

Breakfast—"Germea," "Sego" milk, fried ham, French fried potatoes, toast ("Luxury" bread,) "Santa Ana" butter, "Encore" hot cakes, "Maple-X" syrup, "Newmark's Pure" coffee, "Clark's" sugar.

Lunch—Puree of tomato soup, "Bis-Bis," sliced cucumbers, cold corn beef, "Snider's" catsup, potato salad, boiled rice, baked potatoes, "Luxury" bread, "Santa Ana" butter, assorted cake.

Dinner—Sliced tomatoes, roast shoulder of beef, "Snider's" catsup, "Calmaco" spaghetti Italienne, mashed potatoes, green peas, "Luxury" bread, "Santa Ana" butter, "Newmark's Pure" ice tea, "Clark's" sugar, peach and apple pie.

you. Then his position makes it necessary to cover up something—at once difficult and dangerous—and it may work out so as to weaken our force by his possible change of front.

I know he has done good work and that he is entitled to all the gratitude and consideration any man could have in the case. I do not know what we could have done without him. I do not distrust him nor do I seek to belittle him in your estimation. I believe he made a mistake in remaining there and there appears to me to be but one solution to the whole matter—for him to suddenly depart before the storm breaks. Break it must and it will out, in spite of all any of us might do. I do not propose to let him or any one injure the case, if I can help it and if somebody, though a friend, must have some disappointment and humiliation, then it must be for it cannot be helped and was not our doing in any particular but was their own doing and their own fault.

I have written fully and longer than I intended but I wanted to explain fully my view. It would not be wise to antagonize Lithgow and my views herein are for you and your brother alone. I believe you can show him that his position is a delicate one in any event and he cannot hope to keep his part secret very long for he is on record and we will have to use that record. We will save him any criticism we can without injury to ourselves but so far as I am concerned, you have put this fight up to me, if there be a fight and I am not going to throw away my ammunition and weapons of warfare before the fight begins, no matter who we have to hurt. I do not believe he can absolutely defeat us, no matter how antagonistic he becomes, for we have him sworn, but I hope for some adjustment without friction or enmity with him or any one who has aided you in any manner. I am well impressed with your brother's ability and believe he can handle this delicate situation successfully. I will do anything to aid you that can be done by me as an attorney and provided it does not injure your rights in the case.

JEWELS STOLEN.

He reported to the police yesterday that a watch, chain, lavalliere, two brooches and a sunburst set with diamonds and pearls had been stolen from his home, No. 4016 Ingraham street, last week and that he had not missed them until yesterday.

Mrs. Georgette Gard de Silva,

Whose engagement to J. C. Bacon was announced at a tea party at the Alexandria. The bride-to-be is a daughter of the late Maj. George E. Gard.

PIONEERS of this city will read with interest news of the engagement of Mrs. Georgette Gard de Silva, daughter of the late Maj. George E. Gard, to J. C. Bacon of Los Angeles.

The secret was told a day or so ago at a tea party at the Alexandria given by Miss Luella Chase of No. 653 South Burlington avenue. Earlier in the afternoon the guests had witnessed the performance of "Damaged Goods" at the Mason Operahouse, the seats having been reserved for Mrs. T. W. Collety of Azusa, Mrs. J. C. Moser, Mrs. M. Cochran, Mrs. E. Carvell, Mrs. Fred Wolfe and Miss Madeline Patrosso.

Twilight Wedding.

A twilight wedding yesterday at the Church of the Angels united in marriage two old and distinguished families when the rector, the Rev. Harry Thompson, read the service for the marriage of Miss Florence Pollard of this city and Timothy F. Hornung, prominent club and business man of Sacramento. The bride, in a suit of white with a white hat trimmed with pink, carried a shower of valley lilies as she walked down the aisle on the arm of her father, Robert Pollard. Her sister, Miss Bertha, was the honor maid, and was gowned in a lingerie frock with trimmings of apricot chiffon. Her bouquet was yellow dahlias. John Stewart Degrett of Pasadena was best man. Following the service, which was witnessed by about fifty friends, the bridal party enjoyed supper at the home of the bride's parents, No. 512 Carondolet street. Shasta daisies and ferns were chosen by the young people for their decorations and the lovely white and gold scheme was most effective. Mr. and Mrs. Hornung departed last evening for a honeymoon trip through Northern Montana and Canada, and upon their return will make their home in Pasadena.

Mrs. Howard Here.

Mrs. John Hastings Howard is the guest of her parents, Lieut.-Gen. and Mrs. Adna R. Chaffee of the Fowler apartments. In August, Lieut.-Gen. and Mrs. Chaffee, with their daughter, will occupy the Jaro von Schmidt residence in Chester place.

Mrs. Hunter Here.

Mrs. Joel Hunter, who will be remembered as Miss Beatrice Wigmore, is visiting her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wigmore of this city. The visitor, who is from Chicago, will remain about a fortnight longer.

Miss Phillips Honored.

Miss Lucile Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Phillips of Berkeley square, who will enter Vassar next term, was present as special guest yesterday at an informal luncheon presided over by Mrs. Willis Booth of No. 1010 Magnolia avenue. EXTRA GOOD VAUDEVILLE.

Educated Elephants Make Hit at Empress.

Excellent Bill Is Drawing Big Crowds.

Movie Shows Have Fine Programmes.

The biggest number on the bill at the Empress Theater this week is immense because the performers are so huge. At least, four of them are huge. The fifth is a pigmy in comparison with the others. He's a mere man, while the rest are elephants.

The printed programme says that the elephants are "the largest vaudeville headliners," and this is stating the fact very moderately indeed—so moderately that one is left to wonder as to the wherefore of such unusual modesty. In sober truth, John Robinson's Educated Elephants are such monstrous, menacing hulks of tough unshapeliness that the stage seems to groan under their combined weight of tons and tons.

And their education seems to be thoroughly complete, even to a post-graduate course in piano playing, which is what one of them does in towering majesty, threatening to break stool and piano with his (or her) heavy artistic dignity. The elephants do a whole lot of clever tricks, and with more playful lightsomeness than you might suppose possible. One of them walks delicately over John Robinson, and finally lies down on him with the same gingerly carefulness. You tremble and shut your eyes when you look (this sounds Irish!) but you soon discover that your fears are groundless, for the elephant loves John, even as Mary's little lamb loved Mary.

A melodrama modeled as to characters in the good old-fashioned way is George Totten Smith's "Daddy," presented by Clem Bevins and his company of three. Dramatis personae: Village constable, postmaster, traveling salesman, runaway girl. Scene: Outside the general store in Dink's Falls, Vt. So far so good. But the whole story is related—or at least most of it—not acted, everybody in the play laying bare the innermost secrets of his heart without a moment's notice to everybody else. And the father doesn't know his runaway child merely because she has "city clothes" on! Does this seem probable? It does not. Fortunately, her husband (the drummer, of course,) does recognize his wife when she appears in the sunbonnet and gingham of yesteryear. No, no, Mr. Smith. "Daddy" may be a "quaint comedy," as the bill avers, but it is not a convincing one. It's merely a melodrama without the drama.

Coakland, McBride and Milo make things lively with a miniature minstrel show, giving us the dear old jokes in the dear old way, singing, dancing, whistling. The minstrel is the African offspring of the troubadour (though fathered by a white man every time,) and will never be permitted to die.

Jack Kammerer and Edna Howland (Edna being very, very pretty and chic,) sing and dance and play the piano, giving us the gamut from ragtime to noble sentiment. Jack has a good voice of the rocked-in-the-cradle-of-the-deep quality, and his dancing is particularly lively for a man with such a heavy voice.

The Newmans, a woman and two men, do difficult stunts on bicycles, the men ending up with a highly diverting boxing match while mounted on unicycles.

Clune's Auditorium.

The tremendous pipe organ is being used consistently with the fight scenes and the symphony orchestra provides music for the lighter moments in "The Jungle" at the Auditorium this week. This is no doubt the most daring and terrific story ever shown in Los Angeles. It reeks of the atmosphere in which it was written. It gives characters which actually exist by the thousand and it tells a story of the meat-packing industry as it is said to have existed before this story brought about a national investigation and ultimate correction.

The story is not pretty, but it is vital and thrilling and those who see it will carry away a lasting impression and food for thought. It will be seen at the Auditorium the entire week.

Clune's Broadway.

See the Ocean Park bathing girls' parade this week at Clune's Broadway. It is the film sensation of the year. Fifty thousand people saw the girls on the sand.

At the Broadway this week is a most remarkable human interest film drama called "The Man and His Work." It carries a lesson to everybody, but is not a dry sermon. It has thrills and intense situations of a better nature. The man is an artist and his wife is jealous. While there is yet time she sees his art work in Europe and learns what she has thrown away.

Woodley Theater.

Few motion pictures that have been shown in Los Angeles can boast the colorful settings, thrilling plot and vivid presentation which mark "The Kangaroo," which made its bow at the Woodley Theater yesterday.

It proves to be an intense story of early days in New Orleans, virtually the beginning of the white slave trade, in which a band of organized thieves who style themselves "The Kangaroos," attempt to carry through a gigantic plot in which an uprising of the slaves will give them opportunity to plunder the cities and plantations of the South and escape with their booty to Mexico.

It is wonderfully thrilling, and convincingly graphic in its presentation, and though many of its scenes are harrowing, sometimes violent, there is comedy aplenty, too, and a charming love story.

"The Kangaroo" is the work of Harris Dickson, The same man who wrote "Old Reliable" for the Saturday Evening Post, a fact which of itself gives one an idea of the masterly perfection of the story.

C. Percival Garratt has come to the front with a splendid music programme, together with a splendid "hot weather" intermission programme which has developed not a few new possibilities of the mammoth pipe organ.

Tally's Broadway.

Judging from the crowds that are attending every performance at Tally's Broadway Theater this week, Jack London's great story, "The Valley of the Moon," which is the attraction in motion pictures, is one of the greatest photoplay successes that Mr. Tally has secured in some time. The story while running serially in the Cosmopolitan Magazine a few months ago created widespread interest.

In making the pictured version Mr Bosworth has taken great pains to make it as near perfect as possible, with Myrtle Stedman and Jack Conway in the leading roles and with the scenes made on the exact spots described by Mr. London in the story, he has produced a photoplay that will rank high among the many great features that have been shown at Tally's in the past few months.

Miller's.

"The Passing of Diana," a splendid startling two-part Vitagraph drama is the headline feature on the new all star programme at Miller's Theater. Though only two reels in length it is one of the most thrilling and sensational Vitagraph stories released in many months and is played by an all-star cast headed by James Morrison and Dorothy Kelley.

A Ruth Roland comedy, an Essanay joy dispenser, and other good pictures complete this bill. On Thursday the biggest surprise of the year in motion pictures, entitled "Protea," a five-reel thriller, is the attraction. Nothing like it has ever been seen or ever will be shown again.

Mason.

Richard Bennett and his co-workers entered upon the second and last week of their production in Los Angeles of "Damaged Goods" last night. There will be a performance every night this week, with the special matinee for women only on Wednesday and the general matinee on Saturday, and then will close Mr. Bennett's season.

The play will be given nowhere else in California. No drama ever given here has aroused the interest on the discussion that "Damaged Goods" has, and everyone who has seen it has taken some stand on it, views differing widely. However, the advisability of everyone seeing it has not been questioned, and as this is the last week, it is safe to say that crowded houses, like that of last night, will be assured.

A Wonderful Film.

One of the greatest moving-picture films that has been produced in America was given a private performance at Clune's Auditorium last night in the presence of a large number of invited guests.

It is a "movie" version of Damon and Pythias, and is the work of Otis Turner, dean of the directors at the Universal.

About 1000 people were employed in the production, and the cost of staging it is over $30,000, and the scenes were arranged in and about the Universal ranch near Hollywood.

Some of the effects are gorgeous. In one scene a great Grecian army is seen trooping down a lane of excited spectators with their captives in chains and under guard. This is the triumphal return of Phythias from the wars.

A special feature of the film are the wonderful lighting effects.

STRANGE FUNERAL FOR BURGLAR.

UNIQUE SERVICES FOR A SLAIN MAN FURNISHED BY A STRANGE WOMAN.

In the darkened chapel of an undertaking company there will be held this morning a funeral service unlike any ever conducted in this city. It will be over the bullet-pierced body of a burglar. A ritualistic service will be followed and a blind soloist will sing "Nearer My God to Thee," but, strangest of all, no one will sit in the mourner's alcove, and no one is expected to tenant the chapel chairs.

The burglar was known as William Griggs. That is the name under which the police knew him and under which he had twice served jail sentences. He was killed by Patrolman Jackson in the act of entering a house at No. 1616 Oak street Friday.

Since his death the body has been unclaimed and unvisited in the Pierce morgue. The Coroner had ordered it buried in the potter's field, but a woman's voice over the telephone yesterday halted these plans.

It was a soft voice. The woman's diction was good. She is undoubtedly a refined woman.

"He must have a good burial, one commensurate with the standing of his family," she said. "They live in the East, but they do not know. I don't think they ever will know. He was a good boy when I knew him, and he should have a decent burial."

Then she gave directions for the casket, for the services, and selected the cemetery—one in Hollywood. She said she would send a check to cover the expenses, and later in the day a cashier's check, on which her name does not appear, was received.

So today he who was known as Griggs will be buried. No one has viewed his body and no one is expected to attend the services. Rev. C. C. Pierce, who was at one time pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church, will read the service, and Prof. E. C. Houk, the blind balladist, will sing "Nearer My God to Thee."

"It was his favorite song when he was young," the telephone woman said.

READY FOR BUSINESS.

Kaspare Cohn Bank to Open Today. Has Paid-up Capital of Three Hundred Thousand.

The Kaspare Cohn Commercial and Savings Bank, organized to succeed K. Cohn & Co., has been granted a license by the State banking department and will open for business today. The bank has a paid-up capital of $300,000 and will occupy the entire second floor of the Garland building, No. 740 South Broadway, where commodious quarters have been fitted up.

The officers of the new bank are: Kaspare Cohn, president; Ben R. Meyer and Milton E. Getz, vice-presidents; Paul C. Turman, cashier and assistant secretary; Morris Klein, assistant cashier and secretary. The first three named comprise the directorate.

Mr. Cohn, who has resided in this city over fifty years, is a prominent financier. Mr. Meyer has been associated with him in the firm of K. Cohn & Co. for the last six years, and is also well known. Mr. Getz, also a member of the firm of K. Cohn & Co., became active in the affairs of that company about two years ago. He was formerly a resident of San Francisco. Mr. Turman was with the Wells-Fargo Nevada National Bank of San Francisco for six years and for the past three years he has been manager of the branch of the Bank of Los Banos, at Dos Palos, Merced county. Mr. Klein has been associated with the firm of K. Cohn & Co. nineteen years, and has a wide local acquaintance.

FOR WOMEN AND MEN.

Facts, Features and Fancies.

BY OLIVE GRAY.

THE GOOD HOUSEKEEPER'S HINT: To eradicate from a room all odors of cooking, place in a central location a bowl of hot water into which has been dropped a little oil of lavender.

A club of girls who meet to make Christmas or other gifts have a new rule which is working wonders.

Several of the members had formed the habit of self-depreciation, much to the annoyance of others. Others had become addicted to telling "how tired they were," or how bad they felt. So it was agreed that each time any one depreciated a characteristic or a feature or complained of how she felt, she should pay a fine into a sealed box and in due time the fund should be expended for some especial purpose. Now the wonder-working comes in, not in the immensity of the fund in the box, but in the reformation made by the rule inaugurated. For instance: Julia remarked the other day, "Any one with a nose turned up straight like mine could not possibly look well in one of the ninische hats or in any hat, as a matter of fact." A peculiar silence, followed by the well-known rustle of some one reaching for the fine box, brought her to and she hastened to add, "But I just love noses turned straight up; I would not for the world have any other sort."

One of the girls was reclining upon a couch and some one asked if she felt ill. "Not at all," was the cheerful rejoinder. "I feel fine; but I thought I would take a little rest, just for fun."

"Cheerful lies," did you say? Well, maybe, after all the girls have come to believe that they feel better than they did before they started the innovation, so why not continue?

For Porch Teas.

There are many pretty and useful accessories for this dainty service and several new devices. I noticed the other day, in one of the high-class house-furnishing establishments such handsome sets for serving the beverage and also long-haldled spoons especially for use in the tall glasses of the ordinary shape. There are also sets for serving grape juice, the pitcher being rather squat and the glasses quite small—lest the blood of the grape intoxicate, perhaps! Some of the most attractive sets in glass have a brocaded edge in gold leaf, which gives a rich effect and others are decorated in the leaf of the grapes etched into the pure white crystal. There are also glass trays, either framed in wicker or in wood, and having a cheerful touch in the cretonne of brilliant tones which is placed beneath the glass.

To Make the Tea.

A woman who is noted as a maker of teas, and whose porch teas are always the Meccas for a certain set who are fondly critical of the cup that cheers, has a fixed rule for making tea, even that which is to be iced. She uses a tea ball, lest the leaves if permitted to remain in the pot, shall ruin the fine flavor. She then allows the tea to cool gradually, and before serving places thin shavings of ice, together with the thinly-sliced lemon, in each tall glass. Sugar is passed to each guest and the long-handled iced-tea spoons play a considerable part in the serving of the beverage.

The Kind of Tea.

Do not for a moment delude yourself with the notion that "just any tea" will answer for making iced tea. Quite to the contrary, none save the very best should here be used. The lady above referred to declares that nothing but Ceylon will do, and furthermore declared in favor of a certain importation—that raised in their own tea gardens by a certain high-class Broadway grocery house. Those who have tasted her iced tea will not contradict her manifesto, and think it best not to depart from her advice as to the mainstay of the porch hospitality—so they always order according to her tea rules.

New Shields.

Now the shield question—and it is a question this season while fine blouses are so much in vogue—has been solved! The latest importation is the dress shield of flesh-colored silk, underlaid with a protective material. These shields so much resemble the arm which they cover that it is nearly impossible to detect their presence. They have another feature which is most welcome, too. There are tiny stays which hold them erect so that they must remain at their post on duty, instead of shirking as so many do. Don't you know how many times, when you have removed your blouse, you have discovered that the shields which you had donned with such reluctance but resignation about since your blouse or frock must be protected—was away on a visit to some unknown region far below in usefulness. This new shield knows its place and keeps it.

The Salamander.

What could be more appropriate than a book with such a title, to give away on one's Fourth of July vacation, and the Book Nook Lady says it is a book as fascinating as its title implies. The Book Nook Lady also knows. By the way, I heard a person say that this booky lady had given more help in the selection of proper and interesting books for her to read than had ever been received from anyone. An exalted mission, don't you think? To be able to suit the taste of the young, in their reading. Oh, yes, she is easy to find. She presides over the destines of the Interesting Book Nook in a popular Broadway house where the publication department is becoming more and more attractive every day.

"Mission Bouquet."

Is not this an alluring name for a new perfume? And the odor is as alluring as is the name. It carries with it a hint of old romance and although intoxicatingly sweet, is not overpowering.

Because the Los Angeles postoffice is to be formally turned over to the postmaster, Harrington Brown, this morning at 10 o'clock, there were figures available there yesterday. They will be furnished today. Last night the officials in charge of the various stations throughout the city met at the postoffice and the business of the year was closed up. The oath of office will be administered by United States District Court Clerk William Van Dyke, but there will be no formal ceremonies in connection with the assumption by the new postmaster of the duties of the office.

BAD YEAR FOR CONTRABANDS.

The activities of the immigration service, with Capt. Charles T. Connell at its head, have been more productive than ever. The record indicates that more than twice as many aliens of Chinese and Japanese aliens have been made during the past year as the previous one, and that the number of deportations has increased by 50 per cent. The arrests alone show an excess of 700. The arrests and deportations of Chinese aliens have been largely increased on account of the more than 500 "transit" men, picked up along the boundary.

The art of smuggling contrabands into the country is almost lost, if the arrests are any criterion, for the year but few parties have been successfully landed, and in each case the arrest of the men concerned has followed. The old smuggling that for years harassed the federal officers has been about wiped out.

The old smuggling that for years harassed the customs officers has been about wiped out.

DESPITE LOW TARIFF.

The year was the banner one in the history of the port of Los Angeles in the amount of customs collected, passing again the $750,000 mark set last year. This, taken in connection with the fact that there has been a tariff reduction of 30 per cent., makes the showing the more remarkable.

The total collections for the year ending yesterday were $780,065.78, as compared with $778,261.90 for the preceding year. The collections for the month of June were $53,555.55. Value of importations, free, 1913, $1,163,997; dutiable, $1,583,604; total, $2,747,601. Free, 1914, $1,413,718; dutiable, $1,761,733; total, $3,175,451.

BIG DIVIDENDS PAID.

The Owl Drug Company yesterday mailed to its stockholders $36,060 in dividends for the past six months. The stockholders of the company number several hundred, most of whom reside on the Pacific Coast. The company reports that the gross business for the first half of the year 1914 shows a substantial increase over last year—in fact, over any other year in the history of the company.

In a letter to its stockholders the company states that, inasmuch as its dealings are almost entirely with the masses and on a cash basis, the world-wide depression has had no effect on the company's sales.

The Owl Drug Company's operations extend from Spokane to San Diego in eight of the most important Coast cities. The company started with but one small store in San Francisco in 1892, and today operates not only twenty of the largest retail drug stores in the country, but has manufacturing facilities and supply plants not equaled by those of any other similar concern.

THE POLICE YEAR.

Drunkenness in Los Angeles is on the decrease if the police department statistics for the fiscal year ended yesterday furnish a true indication. While the number of arrests for all offenses, 44,719, is an increase of 1725, the number of arrests for drunkenness, 17,006, is a decrease of 2089. No police regulations affecting the arrest of intoxicated persons have been issued during the year. The arrests for gambling have fallen from 917 in 1913 to 531 in 1914.

Of the 44,719 arrests, 24,803 have resulted in convictions and 17,279 in dismissals. Some cases are yet undisposed of. A total of $131,010 has been collected by the police courts in fines and forfeitures, approximately $12,000 more than was collected during the previous fiscal year. The license inspector collected $27,804 for licenses and fines.

One of the proud records of the department is the recovery of stolen goods valued at over $500,000.

Charge—	Ar'ts.	C'v'ns.
Vagrancy	3,225	2,265
Gambling	330	330
Conducting disorderly house	94	53
Illegal sale of liquor	191	144
Conducting a lottery	145	135
Visiting a lottery	349	282
Carrying concealed weapons	406	360
Murder	38	34
Highway robbery	86	74
Rooming-house ordinance	442	317
Traffic ordinance	6,015	5,611

On burglary charges 338 persons were arrested, 158 held to answer, twenty-one sent to the Juvenile Committee and thirty-six dismissed. In the above table the cases of some of those arrested are pending.

"AD" CLUB HEAD RETURNS.

Brings Plans for Entertainment of Advertising Men in Convention Here Next Year.

President Wilson of the Los Angeles Ad Club returned from the International Advertising Men's Convention at Toronto, yesterday, bringing with him first plans for the entertainment of the delegates to the Pacific Coast Convention of Advertising Clubs, to be held here next year. He was the first of the Los Angeles delegation to return and brought a personal report of the success of the local club in winning the Printers' Ink Cup.

This cup, which brings special distinction to the club that possesses it, will arrive within a few days. It was expressed from Toronto at the conclusion of the convention. Its arrival will be the occasion for a jubilee meeting of the club members.

Before returning Mr. Wilson made a tour of the northwestern cities in the interest of the 1915 convention here. He estimates that 12,000 "ad" men of the Northwest will attend.

Mr. Wilson yesterday appointed Harold Janss and Roy H. Compton to represent the Ad Club at the Flood Prevention Convention, which will be held this morning at Blanchard Hall.

Beverly Hills

Beverly Hills

The list of attractions at Beverly Hills,—the California homesite, styled "the beautiful"—is not confined to mountain climbing, picnics away up in the semi-wild canyons. Golf at the Country Club, next door, tennis, etc.—for it is almost within sound of the surf of the beach, a short ride away in an automobile.

Here is an "added" attraction not to be lightly considered, for the beaches along the Pacific at these points are among the finest bathing resorts in the world.

Beverly Hills has everything to commend it to the homesite seeker who is alive to the fact that a home in California should command a view of mountains, valley and sea, a trinity of scenic glories.

They are "thrown in" for good measure at Beverly Hills.

TRY TO FORCE UNION WAGES.

Laborites Put Bold Demand Up to School Board.

Same Matter Has Been Cause of Much Trouble.

School Playgrounds Will Be Open This Summer.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, July 1.—The labor unions, which made an unsuccessful attempt at the time the Pasadena High School was built to have the Board of Education specify when asking for bids that union wages should be paid to all men employed on the job, and which at different times since have repeated their requests, are now again, a few days before bids for the construction of the proposed new school buildings at Lamanda Park and at Altadena are to be advertised for, seeking to achieve this end.

No formal petition has been presented to the school board, but some of the members have been urged to include a "standard wage scale" in the specifications for these new buildings.

The clerk of the board was yesterday instructed to obtain an opinion from the District Attorney's office on the question of whether such a provision can be legally made. No further action has been taken, nor will be considered until the opinion is obtained.

The question is not new, but one that has caused more or less trouble in the construction of school buildings here for many years. No Board of Education has ever attempted to dictate what a contractor shall pay those employed by him, though the board does, and for a long time has maintained a standard wage scale with regard to the building it does and the repairs it makes itself.

KIDDIES MAY PLAY.

The different parent-teacher organizations of the city, which for several years have been urging the Board of Education to keep the grounds at the schools open summers that they may be used as playgrounds by the children of the respective school districts, yesterday won their point. The board decided to open all of them this summer for this purpose, provided the respective parent-teacher associations will assume the responsibility of their management. The association in each district is to see that someone watches the grounds and superintends the sports of the children.

LOSES HIS LICENSE.

The City Commission yesterday revoked the restaurant liquor license held by Austin Macklin, proprietor of a restaurant at No. 58 South Fair Oaks avenue.

The charge brought was that on the afternoon of June 14 a bottle of beer was sold to Clyde Cookston, a minor. The lad, Police Captain O'Dell and Patrolman Shelton testified, had obtained the beer from a man who was sweeping the floor of the restaurant. Macklin said that he had been in a telephone booth at the time and knew nothing about it.

CITY BRIEFS.

Pasadena building permits for the fiscal year that closed at noon yesterday amounted to $2,238,828.

Miss Thyrza M. Barton, general secretary of the Pasadena Charitable League, announced yesterday that a system of psychological tests to determine whether some of the applicants for monetary assistance are able to support themselves are soon to be tried out here. The suggestion was also made that like examinations be made of the school children.

J. O. McCament yesterday purchased the interest of W. S. Streeter in the Pasadena Investment Company, of which business he is now the sole owner.

August 12 yesterday was set as a tentative date for the proposed election for the consideration by Pasadenans of the question whether San Rafael Heights and Linda Vista, which communities have voted to be taken in, shall be annexed.

EXPOUND WATER LAW.

Doctrine of Beneficial Use Outlined by Writer in Latest California Law Review.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, June 30.—The development in the law of water by judicial decision, whereby the measure of an appropriator's right has been changed from the amount actually diverted to the amount beneficially used, is the foundation for an article by Frank Adams of the United States Irrigation Service, in the July number of the California Law Review, published today at the University of California.

Formerly the appropriator of water was entitled to the amount diverted to the entire capacity of the ditch; now the right is limited to the amount actually used. The writer points out that in the West generally there is more land that would be benefited by water than there is water to irrigate it. Consequently, the application of the doctrine of beneficial use may result in a social loss to the community, for an individual may be able to apply with profit to himself a large amount of water on his land, but the application of a portion of that water to other land would result in a much larger net yield.

ATTACKS GIRL WITH NARCOTIC.

JAP PLUNGES A HYPODERMIC NEEDLE INTO HER NECK ON THE STREET.

LONG BEACH, June 30.—Miss Grace Herrinton, daughter of Rev. L. E. Herrinton, No. 1455 Linden avenue, was roughly jostled by an unknown Japanese on Pine avenue near Fourth street tonight. She felt a sharp pain in her neck, and a short time afterward felt so numb and dizzy that a male friend had to escort her home.

After consulting a physician she found that a small wound had been made by a hypodermic needle in her neck. The police are looking for the fellow, whom they think has been operating in motion-picture houses on the Pike during the last month.

RAILWAY BIDS RECEIVED.

SAN DIEGO, June 30.—Bids were received today by the San Diego and Arizona Railroad for the contract for the construction of the remaining forty-seven miles of road, which will amount to over $3,000,000. It will be several days before the lowest bidder can be determined owing to the masses of figures received from large contractors from all over the country.

FIRST INTERURBAN CAR.

FRESNO, June 30.—Construction work on the first unit of the Fresno Interurban Company's line to Clovis has been completed, and John Rogers of San Francisco, president of the road, announced tonight that the first car would be run over the line tomorrow, providing, however, that the papers between the San Joaquin Light and Power Company and the road were signed. Fresno's first interurban road will connect this city with Clovis.

IOWA WOMAN TELLS OTHERS

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Carried Her Safely Through Change of Life.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.—"At the Change of Life the doctor said I would have to give up my work and take my bed for some time as there was no help for me but to lie still. I took Lydia E. A. L. Manahan,

Who has been appointed manager of the Ocean Park amusements.

MANAGER NAMED AT OCEAN PARK.

POPULAR RAILWAY MAN PLACED IN RESPONSIBLE BERTH AT THE BEACH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OCEAN PARK, June 30.—A. L. Manahan, for four years engaged with the Pacific Electric in promoting amusement resorts, has been named manager for the State Investment Company of this place, which means that he will have full charge of the amusements at this beach, which practically amounts to managing the town.

Mr. Manahan will control the Fraser pier, the bath-house, a large number of concessions, some of which will be sublet under his direction, and various other business interests that go to make up a popular beach resort. The State company also has blanket control over many of the concessions at Venice, which are sublet, and Mr. Manahan will leave to look after these interests also.

E. Pickering, who has been in charge of these varied interests, has retired and will engage in other business. Mr. Manahan has been an automobile and resort manager for twenty-five years and it is agreed by beach interests that he is the man for the place.

MOTION PICTURES TO BE CENSORED.

GLENDALE ORDINANCE STANDS DESPITE OPPOSITION OF MERCHANTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLENDALE, June 30.—The City Trustees last night decreed that the ordinance recently passed, creating a motion-picture censorship, shall stand.

Neither the Trustees nor the committee from the W.C.T.U., which is said to have "railroaded" the measure through, would budge an inch, and the ordinance stands with no modifications whatever.

When the ordinance was passed the Merchants' Association and picture-show men, as well as representatives from the big film companies, rose up in arms and demanded that the ordinance be modified, declaring that the picture shows would have to be closed and that business in general would be demoralized by its application.

Members of the W.C.T.U., which was instrumental in passing the ordinance, asserted that the men objected to it because they did not know how to interpret it, and that last night, when the meaning was made clear to them, they were pacified.

The picture men and the Merchants' Association say that they are just as displeased as ever, but that there is no use contending against any measure advanced by a body of women.

At the same meeting the City Trustees called an election for July 21, when the people of Glendale will decide whether $240,000 worth of bonds shall be voted for the purpose of buying a municipal waterworks system.

AUTO STANDS ON NOSE IN DITCH.

CLEVER WORK SAVES BIG CAR; BURGLAR LOOTS WHILE FAMILY'S AWAY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOUTH PASADENA, June 30.—Standing on its nose in a steep ravine near Bishop's sanatorium, a big automobile was saved from complete annihilation this morning by the clever work of Manager Ledgerwood of the Mission Garage, and by the coolness of Ralph Ward.

Ward was driving the automobile, which is owned by G. B. Ocheltree, No. 1527 Fremont avenue. In backing to make a curve too short for the machine, he accidentally killed his engine. The self-starter failed to work, so the young man set his emergency brake, and alighting, cranked the engine. The engine started, but the emergency did not hold and the automobile went down a deep ravine at the side of the road. The big car landed on its nose and continued to stand there straight up in the air.

Fifty dollars in currency and jewelry worth $200 was stolen last evening from the shoe store of Henry Dunker, No. 1514½ Mission street, as Dunker and his wife were away attending a picture show. The intruders took a wedding ring, a diamond ring, and other rings, a watch and $50 in currency.

BIG STEER ON RAMPAGE WIPES OUT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VICTORVILLE, June 30.—A belligerent steer wiped the Victorville Chamber of Commerce from the earth today. Every visible trace of a year's effort, captained by President Arthur Hill, vanished in the cloud of dust in the steer's wake.

Last May 9, 2000 persons saw the corner-stone of the Chamber of Commerce building laid and joined in the ceremonies, while various precious documents, souvenir coins and other things usually consigned to corner-stones were placed therein.

Since then it has been a monument hallowed to the town's public spirit. It was cherished by the Chamber's 300 members.

But nothing was cherished by a wild steer that came in from the hills today, except his liberty. He secured this by bolting through the principal street. Herders gave chase. The corner-stone was in the road to liberty. Over the hallowed monument went the steer, and when the dust had cleared it was toppled from its place. The papers had fluttered away on a vagrant breeze; the coins were gone.

A new corner-stone will probably be laid inside a barbed-wire enclosure.

VALLEY GRAPE HARVEST EARLY.

PACK FRUIT MATURED TWENTY DAYS BEFORE TIME.

Highland School District Votes Bonds for New Building—Cantaloupe Season Drawing to Close, Hobo Sets Hay Afire, but Quick Work Saves Fortune in Hogs.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

IMPERIAL, June 30.—About twenty-five expert workers are packing grapes at Keystone, about four miles northeast of Imperial. These grapes are ripe twenty days earlier than ever before in the valley, and, although they are so early, they have matured well and possess excellent flavor. Coming into the market so early and before grapes are ripening elsewhere in the country, the entire crop will command fancy prices.

All of the marketable specialties in the Imperial Valley were ready for the market from ten to twenty days earlier this year. The cantaloupe crop came in at least two weeks early, and so, also, did asparagus, tomatoes and watermelons. The barley and alfalfa were also several days ahead of time. Cotton is ripening all over the valley, and picking will begin within two weeks. The gins will be running at full speed not later than the latter part of July.

VOTE SCHOOL BONDS.

The newly-formed school district of Highland, in the eastern portion of the valley, has just voted to issue $1000 in school bonds for an up-to-date school building. Every district in the county has done or will do the same thing—the amounts voted ranging from $1000 to $5000. Such precautions on the part of the school districts has given buildings not excelled in the country in any part of the State.

The cantaloupe season in the valley is now drawing to a close, though they are still going out at the rate of fifty or more carloads per day. Good luck has attended all the way. Up to last night, at the last shipping, there had been sent out 1947 carloads, which have been distributed all over the country. The distributors have been shipping the melons in accordance with the demands of the market, and they do not know yet the results in profit and loss, but a few days will tell of this.

About 150 tons of fine alfalfa hay, owned by the G. A. Lone Packing Company and stored for feeding purposes on the premises in the city limits of Imperial, were destroyed last night by fire. The blaze is supposed to have originated from a pipe or cigarette in the hands of some hobo who was spending the night in the hay. It was only by quick work that hogs worth $40,000 were saved from the flames.

ROYAL WELCOME FOR FREDERICKS.

SAN BERNARDINO AND OTHER TOWNS TO EAST READY TO GREET HIM.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, June 30.—The Young Republicans' Club and the Women's Republican Club are joining in the arrangements for the appearance of Capt. John D. Fredericks in this city, next Monday evening, and the greatest interest is being manifested in the announcement that the leading candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor is to speak here.

After leaving Los Angeles Monday morning, Capt. Fredericks will visit most of the cities in San Bernardino county before arriving here for the meeting at night. He will speak at Ontario, Upland, Cucamonga, Etiwanda and Rialto and will be given a royal welcome in each place, according to reports of plans for his entertainment.

Eleven horses perished in an early morning fire which destroyed the stables of the James Russell department store on West Third street. A number of delivery wagons and other equipment were burned and the total loss will be close to $4000. One horse alone was rescued from the fire. The origin of the fire is unknown. James Russell, the owner, is absent from the city on a business trip to Deep Creek.

"Stool pigeon" evidence in cases of vagrancy against women of roominghouses in this city, caused a breach between Mayor J. W. Catick and Chief of Police F. W. Seccombe and the chief executive has denounced those methods of detecting such offenders and declared that he would sign no warrants to men engaged in such work, and recommends that women be retained to secure similar evidence against the male offenders.

Chris Johnson, a patient committed to the Southern California State Hospital for the Insane at Patton from Los Angeles, was the victim of a cave-in of a ditch in which he was working on the State Hospital grounds. He was buried under yards of earth and had suffocated before he was rescued. The ditch leads to the new reservoir and was about twelve feet deep where the cave-in occurred.

FREIGHT FROM EAST HEAVIEST.

TWO STEAMERS BRING LARGE NEW YORK CARGOES.

Army of Men at Five Hatches Work to Get Craft Ready to Sail. Naval Militia Sails for South for Target Practice and Sea Legs' Benefit.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, June 30.—With the arrival of the steamer Pleiades of the Luckenbach line and the American-Hawaiian steamer Isthmian today from Balboa, all records for New York freight were broken.

The Pleiades brought 3700 tons and the Isthmian 500 tons. All of the cargo on the Pleiades was transhipped over the Panama Railroad, but a part of that on the Isthmian came from Salina Cruz. The Isthmian called at the Mexican port to clean up the freight left along the Tehuantepec Railroad when that route was abandoned by the steamship company on account of hostilities.

A record dispatch on the Pleiades is being attempted by the Pacific Wharf and Storage Company, agent for the line. All five hatches are being worked and the steamers and dock is swarming with longshoremen. About 200 men are employed and an effort will be made to dispatch the steamer for San Francisco late tomorrow night. The steamer Lyra of the same line was here recently and more than a week was taken to discharge less cargo than the Pleiades has for this port. In order to equalize the schedule the steamer will be worked as rapidly as possible.

MILITIA ON CRUISE.

The U.S.S. Marblehead arrived here today on her annual cruise for the instruction of the members of the California State Naval Militia. The Los Angeles company was taken aboard here and the steamer will proceed before daylight tomorrow for San Diego, manned by amateur tars. The Marblehead called at Santa Barbara and Santa Cruz for detachments on the way down the coast. At San Diego the militiamen will participate in the Fourth of July festivities. Target practice will be held from the 5th to 9th, and the Marblehead will steam north July 9.

The steamer is under command of Capt. George W. Bauer, with Lieutenant-Commander W. V. Tomb, U.S.N., as inspector for the Navy Department. During the last few months the militiamen have received extensive subcaliber practice and excellent scores are expected on the range.

FRANCHISE REVOKED.

The City Council has revoked the franchise of the San Pedro Dock Company by repealing the ordinance of the San Pedro City Trustees granting a wharf franchise to the Southern Pacific and the Southwestern Lumber Company in 1903. Several months ago the wharf was condemned as unsafe and ordered closed by the Harbor Commission. A building permit was afterwards issued for repairs, but they have not been made. The ordinance revoking the franchise is effective today and the Harbor Commission is in possession. It is expected that the dock company will contest the legality of the repealing ordinance, as the franchise had twenty years to run.

VISIT TO INVESTIGATE?

Capt. John J. Bulger, United States supervisor and inspector of hulls and boilers for the Pacific Coast, arrived today from San Francisco on official business. At the office of the local inspectors today it was stated that the visit was only an ordinary trip of inspection, but there is considerable speculation along the water front over the visit, as he was here only a short time ago. It is reported that his visit may have some bearing upon the decision in the investigation of the bumping of the breakwater a few days ago by the American-Hawaiian steamer Nevadan while in charge of a municipal port pilot. The investigation was conducted by Local Inspector Ansell and Lenhers. No decision has been announced. The Nevadan has arrived at San Francisco to go in drydock to ascertain the extent of the damage.

SUES; GETS SALARY.

RIVERSIDE, June 30.—A bookkeeper is worth more than $25 per month, according to Judge Densmore of the Superior Court, who today rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiff in the case of A. T. Kimball vs. Hook Brothers of Perris. Kimball, formerly a member of the Board of Supervisors, sued for a salary of $40, whereas his employers contended that $25 was about right. It was further argued that Kimball smoked on his employers' time, a privilege of which a girl book-keeper formerly employed at a salary of $25, never availed herself. The judge upheld the decision of the Perris justice's court, which gave judgment for $146.66, or the equivalent of a salary of $40 per month.

Long Beach.

FREEHOLDERS PLAN DROUGHT.

Stringent Checks on Liq... Put in Charter.

Druggists Ask Prohibition ... Their Stores.

Albicore Canning Season ... Output Is Heavy.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, June 30.—When the Committee on Alcoholic Liquors reported tonight to the board of freeholders, who are framing a new "extra dry" charter, a plan destined to make Long Beach the most arid city in the country as far as alcoholic liquors are concerned was accepted.

One part of the report, the clause prohibiting the serving of liquors in hotel dining-rooms, may meet with considerable opposition, for it would take away from the Hotel Virginia dining-room the liquid refreshments which the city officials now allow to be served. The report, which was adopted and will be made part of the new charter, provides a heavy fine for serving a guest with liquor in a hotel dining-room, and heaps a money penalty on the guest who drinks the liquor. The new charter, if accepted by the voters, will allow the drinking of liquors in a hotel room by a bona-fide resident of that room.

As part of the programme, which will make Long Beach extra dry, the drug stores will not be allowed to handle whisky, wine or beer. The last provision was inserted at the instance of the druggists themselves. They say that there are at present many restrictions on the selling of liquor by them that it is a nuisance. For a long time the members of the board considered whether a clause prohibiting the drinking of liquor in the homes of citizens would stand the test of the courts, but the majority thought that this was an infringement of the rights of citizens.

CAN ALBICORE.

The albicore canning season began in full blast in the harbor district, where two large canneries have a total output of 3000 cases per day, valued at $12,000, market price. Tons of fish, "turkey of the South Seas" as they are, are brought into the plants by a large fleet of fishing launches from the mouth of the channel, and about 300 men and women are employed in preparing and canning the delectable fish.

The railroads have estimated that it will take 100 cars to handle the output of the Long Beach canneries alone. Most of it goes to eastern cities, which were served with canned tuna for the first time last year. Fishermen now get only 1¼ cents per pound for their albicore, but at the present demand and prices obtaining for the canned fish, it is predicted that this rate will be doubled before the season is over.

BEGIN CELEBRATION.

The carnival, which will end with a grand Fourth of July celebration, began today on the Pike. The wild animal exhibition and burlesque circus performers amused hundreds. The Zanzibar Jungle Zoo was interesting. The city fathers have passed an ordinance allowing young America in Long Beach to discharge firecrackers and other pyrotechnics on the streets and in the residence section north of Sixth street.

A bureau of lost children has been established on the lower deck of the auditorium by Acting Chief of Police Browne. Here those who find lost children will leave them, and mothers who lose their boys and girls will come to the bureau. It will be in charge of a competent matron. The average of a dozen children are reported lost here every summer day.

VENICE GRANTS LAST ONE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, June 30.—After debating a short time, and then granting a single C liquor license to James F. Hall, the Trustees last night put themselves on record as being opposed to granting any more licenses. They say that if the resolution as adopted will not stave off the many applicants, at the requests will only be received and filed, and no consideration given them. Absolutely no more grants will be given to merchants or cafe men. Mr. Holden will sell only wine and beer with bona-fide meals at his cafe on the ocean front near Windward avenue.

NO CLEW FOUND TO BOLD CROOK

MANY OFFICES ARE RANSACKED BUT LITTLE LOOT TAKEN AFTER MUCH WORK.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, June 30.—No clew has been found by officers to the identity of the thieves who ransacked the offices in the Pomona Investment building, the McGowan and Hand blocks and also the jewelry rooms of Earl Wilkinson in the latter block. Little loot was secured by the thieves as Wilkinson has his valuables in a large safe and considerable leaf was overlooked in the dental office. It is believed that the thieves were amateurs.

FUNERAL SERVICE.

The funeral of the late Dr. S. Davis, well-known physician who died at his home north of here suddenly from heart failure on Sunday morning, was held this forenoon from the W. B. Todd chapel on North Garey avenue, Rev. Dr. A. W. Lamport officiating. There was a large attendance of friends and the floral tributes were profuse. The remains were taken to Los Angeles for cremation in accordance with the wishes of the deceased. Dr. Davis started practice here twenty-six years ago.

"Our chief necessity in the ... bringing of our boys and girls to ... proper leadership in the playside of life. It is from this angle that we ... run the gravest danger of immorality and vices.

"The playside of their life has been too much neglected. In it we must lay the foundation for a normal later existence."

Prof. Heatherington told his audience that eugenic patriotism is ... easy to inspire as political patriotism if youth were only granted adequate leadership.

Speaking on the moral training of the sex impulse in children, Prof. ... E. Pugh of the University of California declared that it is not a separate factor in education, but an important and essential part of the general, broad plan of education.

"Affection is dying out as an impulse in children because so many of them do not know the joy of being lulled to sleep in the warmth of mother's arms," he said.

"Before the age of 10 is the psychological time in a child's life for teaching the great facts of the renewal of life," declared Dr. M. O. Moody of the University of California. "The wrong association of ideas is a the base of all the improper appeals made to boys."

The significance of the convention was the theme of Mrs. Dana Coolidge, who said:

"It means great things for the future of the race. It means that the young women of today can enter upon their high, noble work of being the mothers of the race with a knowledge of what it means."

Prof. Kofoid Favors Proper Education of Parents.

Says Married Women Should Be Allowed in Schools.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 30.—Dean C. H. Rieber of the University of California's summer school, who presided at today's session of the Pacific Coast Association for Social Hygiene, remarked that more applicants asked to teach sex hygiene in the summer session than any other subject.

"Fully one-half of these seem to be of an unbalanced mind," he said. "Only a lunatic fringe hangs around every progressive movement," he added.

PARENT BEST TEACHER.

"That the parent is the proper teacher was the assertion of Prof. C. A. Kofoid of the University of California. He said:

"The parent himself must be educated on the subject. The facts and laws of sex and heredity should be taught in the schools in a normal and rational way by specially-informed teachers. These teachers should be parents. In this lies added reason why married women should not be shut out of the schools."

Prof. C. W. Hetherington of the University of Wisconsin spoke on "The Place of Normal Recreation in Personal Hygiene."

He said, in part:

Frank G. Miner was more suspicious than anyone else, and the single bulb his wife bought was proved by him to be a perfume-scented onion. The other victims have had their "orchids" dug up.

JAGLESS LIQUOR, NEAR BLIND PIG.

Court Takes Broad View of Local Option Law.

Refreshment Inn Held to Be Within Its Provisions.

One Per Cent. of Alcohol the Limit, However.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 30.—The Wyllie local option law does not reach the man who in no-license territory sells malt liquors containing less than 1 per cent. of alcohol in volume. This was decided today by the Third District Court of Appeal, Justice Hart writing the opinion. The case was from Colusa county and was one in which H. L. Strickler was charged with conducting a "blind pig." He was arrested and released by the trial court upon a demurrer to the information on the ground that the same did not state a public offense under the law. The demurrer was sustained, and the information dismissed by the Appellate Court which upheld the lower court in every contention.

In passing upon the case the court found that Strickler, who conducted a refreshment inn near the town of Arbuckle in Colusa county, could not be prosecuted for the reason that the liquor alleged to have been sold and kept for sale by him contained less than the quantity of alcohol specified in section 21 of the Wyllie local option law. The malt sold contained .95 per cent. alcohol, not enough to make a man hilarious and boisterous.

The trial judge contended that those who voted the territory dry sought only to close the saloons and eliminate from their community drunkenness.

Office Moved.

terior Department, to become effective today. The shift to Phoenix will result in the permanent retirement of Mr. Helm from the government service, as he refuses absolutely to go to Phoenix. Under the present plans the entire working force of the local division will be transferred from Los Angeles to the capital of Arizona.

The fact that, with the office at Phoenix, it is nearer the mining interests of Arizona and New Mexico is given as the reason for the change in official circles, but the fact that Arizona is represented in the United States Senate by a pair of Democrats, in the persons of Hon. Marcus A. Smith and Hon. Henry F. Ashurst, has probably a determining interest in the matter. Mr. Helm is a Republican. In any event, whatever the cause, political or otherwise, one of the important divisions of the Federal government, so far as headquarters are concerned, will be lost to Los Angeles.

Mr. Helm has been in the service of the land department for about twenty years, for the last four at the head of the local division of the field service. For sixteen years he was in the Land Office at Washington. He came to California at the time the government took so much interest in what were known as the Imperial county land frauds, and has been the head of the division here since its establishment.

It was on the data furnished by his office that the suits of the government against the Southern Pacific, involving the mineral exception in the patent under the government grant and the "withdrawal" suits, both involving valuable oil land in Kern county, were based. He has also been very active in the inforcement of the mineral land laws, and has conducted a ceaseless war against "dummy entrymen" and frauds generally to be met with in the land department. The position pays $4300 annually. Mr. Helm will resume the practice of law in this city, making a specialty of land litigation.

STOCKS REGAIN MUCH OF LAST WEEK'S SETBACK.

Encouraging Crop Advices, Today's Dividend and Interest Disbursements and Another Drop in Exchange Contributes to Advance and to Large Volume of Trading.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 30.—For the first time since the Clayton failure the stock market today gave earnest evidence of its ability to respond to favorable conditions and much of the loss incurred since last Thursday was regained. Factors contributing in greater or lesser measure were the most encouraging crop advices, the large interest also accruing disbursements of tomorrow, aggregating $244,000,000, which stimulated a moderate investment demand and another drop in exchange, putting further gold exports beyond the probability of immediate resumption. The volume of trading was in striking contrast to the almost record-breaking dullness of the previous day. Yesterday's total output was only 60,000 shares; today's about 285,000. London took practically no part in the day's operations. Virtual passing of the dividends of the Chafin affiliated companies had but slight effect on United Dry Goods preferred. Bonds were highly irregular. Total sales $2,229,000. Government bonds unchanged on call.

NEW YORK LETTER.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury Bldg., Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, June 30.—The Evening Post in its financial review today says: "The news was such today as to present a variety of possible influences on financial sentiment, favorable and unfavorable and the stock exchange, after an hour of uncertainty, inactivity and irregularity, as well as weakness, turned suddenly strong and in the afternoon advanced with considerable vigor. At the highest figures of the day many of the active shares had made gains over yesterday, ranging between 1 and 2 points.

"First in the day's budget of news was the intimation from Washington that the Commerce Commission's railway rate decision would be again postponed and would not be given out next Friday. A month ago such an announcement would have been taken as distinctly unfavorable; but as the trend of sentiment during the day showed cheerfulness, Wall street began to draw inferences that the postponement might mean division among the commissioners such as might operate favorably to the railways. Along with this came announcement that the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton would forbear default on some of its July interest. Exactly what situation would follow this was by no means clear, since coupons on some bonds were evidently to be paid while on others interest would be withheld. The single obvious fact was the Baltimore and Ohio which now owns the Dayton property had refused longer to pay unearned interest for it, except under a formal guaranty. This certainly relieves the larger company of an unpleasant burden; how its relation to the smaller will ultimately be affected remains to be seen.

"There was increased buying of municipal bonds over the counter, and the market in general gave other indications of preliminary absorption of high-grade securities by investors who generally have money to reinvest after the July 1 settlements. Although this movement was not in the least exceptional it was suggestive of a possibly broadening bond market next month."

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

Dullness Prevails on Stock Market. "Investment" Easier and Entire List Off Color.

Except for further weakness in Los Angeles Investment stock the market was practically featureless yesterday on the stock exchange. "Investment" opened at 61 and closed a point firmer. National Pacific was easy, as was also Associated. All in all the list was off color and the volume of business small. Consolidated Mines sold at 3¾ cents.

SAN FRANCISCO EXCHANGE.

Under Leadership of Mexican, Which Gains Eleven Points, Comstocks Show Strong Tone.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—C. O. D. WAS 2 point higher in the Goldfield list today; no other changes reported. Some irregularity was shown in Tonopahs; Cash Boy lost 1, Jim Butler 3 and West End 4, while Exchange gained 8, North Star 2, and Midway 1. No changes were reported in Manhattans. Considerable strength was manifested in Comstocks on a rumor that the pumping proposition had been adjusted; Mexican gained 11, Ophir and Consolidated Virginia each 4. Nevada Hills gained 1.

New York Curb Stocks.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, June 30.—There was an increase in trading in curb stocks today. Coppers and cobalts held close to yesterday's prices, and Goldfields were fractionally weaker, with a little improvement toward the close. There was a better tone to the tobacco issues. Standard Oil of California and Ohio both sold at higher prices. The general market was strong at the opening, then sold off, again rallied substantially and with the exception of Standard of California was inclined to sell off slightly at the close. Standard of New York ruled heavy early but later gained about 2¼ points. The Boston market opened with a small increase in the volume of trading and easier in tone. North Butte gained 5-8 on fair volume, Butte and Superior and Alaska each improved ⅛ on fair trading, others showed fractionally. Late in the afternoon the market livened up a bit, with a further slight improvement in the Hayden group; others were steady toward the close.

COMMERCIAL.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The influx of tomatoes from Imperial Valley and other outside territory has not been very heavy during the past few days while the demand has been on the increase with the result that the local supply was a little short and the price on the market advanced again to $1 and a little better per crate. Cucumbers and lettuce also showed some firmness. Sweet corn advanced fractionally on the vegetable list. Peppers have declined and there has been little change in bunch goods.

The demand for local fresh fruits and the heavy arrivals of bananas from New Orleans and Galveston has caused some price cutting and dealers in order to sell their fruit dropped as low as 3 cents on very good stock. There were not sufficient pineapples on the market to create any changes in that tropical product which is in good demand. Peaches are very plentiful and some really beautiful fruit is arriving. The quotation by the pound is from 1¾ to 2½ cents. Green gage plums are arriving in quantities and Burbanks have dropped to an average of about 80 cents.

There was no change in the butter and egg market, best cheese showed weakness and several declines were reported. Receipts of case count locals totaled only 354 cases. Butter arrivals were 97,040 pounds. Cheese receipts were 6280 pounds. The market on the first two products was rather sluggish. Cream buying was quoted as low as 17 cents on the street and eastern long horns were down to 19 cents when purchased in large quantity.

Only 110 sacks of potatoes, no onions and ten sacks of sweet potatoes were reported in. The market on these products was steady at prevailing lower figures.

Cataloupes were in good call and the market was unchanged. Receipts from outside were 3365 crates. New apples to the extent of 606 boxes were shipped in.

FIVE-CENT CUT IN OIL PRICES.

STANDARD AGAIN LOWERS PRICE FOR CRUDE.

Average Reduction in Quotations Is Expected to Vary Somewhat in Different Localities—Low Gravity Product Is Not Affected by Reductions in Rates.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 30.—The Standard Oil Company of California has announced a cut in the price of crude oil, averaging 5 cents a barrel, and, at the same time, announced a cut of 1 cent a gallon in the price of bulk gasoline. The new prices go into effect tomorrow.

No reduction is made in the price of crude oil up to 20.9 gravity. From 21 to 23.9 gravity the reduction is 2½ cents a barrel. All higher gravities are reduced 5 cents a barrel, except in the Ventura field, where there will be a straight reduction on all grades of 10 cents a barrel.

The reduction is ascribed to the increasing output of light crude, together with the falling off in demand for refined products, due to the industrial depression.

NOT UNEXPECTED. CUT WAS FORECAST.

The cut in oil prices announced yesterday by the Standard Oil Company was not unexpected, as there has been very little change in the oil situation in this State, as far as overproduction is concerned, during the past month. High-gravity oil prices are the ones quoted, and low-gravity petroleum remains steady, although technically its position is weakened by the decline in higher grades. It is regarded as hardly possible, however, that light oil may fall below the heavy grade if the present excess output of the wells continues.

The new schedule makes prices for 21 to 23.9 gravity oil 47¼ cents a barrel in all the valley fields, while 24 to 33.9 gravity is at 50 cents. In the Ventura field 22 to 24.9 gravity oil is up to 46 cents a barrel, and 25 to 27.9 gravity to 70 cents. Other grades are also 10 cents lower.

The Lakeview No. 3 gusher has practically been responsible for precipitating the decline in the price of oil. This great well came in early in May, and at times has flowed as high as 18,000 and even 100,000 barrels, according to estimates.

Unless some effort is made to put an end to the overproduction, as has been done in other sections by lessening field activities, there will be further declines in the prices. It is likely that some attempt will be made in the near future by leaders in oil circles to endeavor to lessen the amount of production.

ARSONES ESCROW BOOKS.

Holders of the Home Makers' Escrow Certificate books are to be paid today the interest, according to a resolution recently adopted by the directors of this subsidiary of the Los Angeles Investment Company. The certificate books were procured by the holders with a view to applying the money invested in them—which was in the form of small term payments—to purchase of homes. It has been decided to do away with this feature, and therefore to pay off the holders.

WOMEN VICTIMS IN CAR ROBBERY.

MOTORMAN TRIES TO GET DROP ON HIM, BUT FAILS. MONEY SAVED.

Commanding passengers and crew to remain quiet, a bandit held up a Pasadena-street car at Eagle Rock and Fairmont avenues late last night. He secured a purse from Mrs. D. J. Colton of No. 1516 Harland avenue and a watch, purse and two insurance policies from Mrs. A. Harding, Sycamore avenue and Rocdale street.

The bandit boarded the car at Avenue 46 and attracted no special attention until Piedmont street was reached. Then he was seen to adjust a white handkerchief over his face. There were only four passengers. They made no protest when the robber suddenly displayed a revolver and threatened to kill the first man that moved.

Conductor G. A. Bafett jumped from the rear platform and hid by the side of the road while the robber was searching the passengers, and was thus able to save nearly $30 of the company's money, which he carried in the changer.

The motorman tried to get the drop on the highwayman, but was forced to give up his gun.

He is described as 32 years old, 165 pounds and about 6 feet 2 inches tall. He wore a brown coat, dark trousers and a black fedora hat.

POOLROOMS FIGHT.

To Referendum Against Ordinance Abolishing Them and Force Matter to Original Status.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OXNARIO, June 30.—Poolrooms in this city were given a new lease on life today when a referendum protest against the recently-enacted ordinance for the abolishing of the poolrooms on July 1 was filed with City Clerk Brackenridge. The protest is signed by more than a tenth of the voters of the city and under the law it compels the City Council to either repeal the ordinance in question or again submit it to the voters at the next regular municipal election or at a special election called for the purpose. The filing of the protest has placed the poolroom question just where it was before the election. As the next municipal election will not occur for nearly two years Councilman J. L. McMinn today advanced the opinion that a special election on the question will be called in the early date.

The new anti-cigarette ordinance as it was adopted by the City Council last night, fixes the age limit at 18 years instead of at 21, as formerly stated.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLENDALE, June 30.—This afternoon twenty prominent women of Glendale met in the home of Mrs. E. Lord, No. 127 North Maryland avenue, and organized the Mary Howard Bradley Shakespeare Club, the object of which is to study the works of the bard.

PAIN NOTHING TO DINNER.

Youth Watches Doctors Trim Bone and Urges Them to Hurry so He Won't Be Late.

With never a whimper over the pain of an amputated big toe, Charles Scott, 14 years of age, sat up on an operating table at the Receiving Hospital late yesterday afternoon and complained that he would be late for supper.

"I don't care so much about this," and he pointed his finger at the toe which had been all but cut off in an elevator, and the bone of which the surgeons had trimmed without the boy asking for an anesthetic. "Last night I was late for supper and mamma didn't like it. I promised to be early tonight."

The boy was sitting on a truck being taken up on an elevator at No. 823 South Broadway yesterday afternoon. The truck rolled and the boy's foot was caught between the elevator and the wall. The boy lives at No. 1103 Hellman avenue.

"IS HE, OR IS HE NOT?" THEY ASK.

PERPLEXING QUESTION ARISES OVER RESIGNATION OF MARTIN BEKINS.

Is Martin Bekins still a member of the Board of Public Utilities, or is he down and out? This is the interesting question being discussed at the City Hall.

In accordance with instructions by telegraphic message from Williams, Ariz., sent by Bekins to President Whiffen of the City Council Monday morning, Whiffen presented the resignation of Bekins to the Council yesterday morning. The resignation was never placed in the hands of the Mayor before going to the Council. The Mayor has the appointing power and also power to remove or accept a resignation, when such act is concurred in by the Council.

Councilmen Wheeler and Conwell raised the point, when it was proposed to accept the resignation, that this was entirely irregular, and that the Mayor should first receive the resignation of Bekins and then transmit it to the Council.

The City Attorney was appealed to and advised that a man may resign at any time or place, and that no particular method is prescribed to which he must adhere. Then the Council voted to accept the resignation, Conwell and Wheeler voting under protest.

But that is not the end. Today the Council will have before it the message of the Mayor, removing Bekins for "gross neglect of duty," and asking the Council to concur in this action. If the Council refuses so to do, it is held by some that Bekins will still be a member of the board. If it does concur, then its action yesterday will be annulled, whereby it accepted his resignation.

TAKES THE GAS RATE TO COURT.

CORPORATION WOULD ENJOIN ITS ENFORCEMENT.

Southern California Company Alleges the Remuneration Allowed Is Not Sufficient and that It Was Not Determined by a Fair Investigation of Situation in Los Angeles.

The Southern California Gas Company brought an action in the United States District Court yesterday against the City of Los Angeles, the Mayor and the City Council to enjoin the enforcement of the ordinance adopted by the City Council fixing the rate for manufactured gas at 65 cents, natural gas at 40 cents and mixed gas at a sliding scale proportioned between the above rates, per thousand cubic feet, for all gas furnished consumers in the city of Los Angeles, except those served by the Southern California Edison Company, and 90 cents per thousand cubic feet, either manufactured, natural or mixed, by the Southern California Edison Company. It is alleged in the complaint that the remuneration is not sufficient, that it is confiscatory and has not been determined after a fair investigation of the gas situation in this city. The company further asks that the ordinance be deemed null and void and that an injunction against its enforcement be issued.

It is claimed that $899,748.66 has been spent on wells, compressor station, the gathering and distributing lines, and that for the construction of a low-pressure pipe line to the main line a bill of expense of $72,658 was made.

In February, 1914, the City Council passed an ordinance making it unlawful to make gas, composed of a mixture of natural and manufactured gas, that contains less than 50 per cent. or more than 60 per cent. natural gas. It is also alleged that it would cost $2,587,000 to replace the present holdings of the plaintiff corporation, that it has a bonded indebtedness of $3,250,000 at 6 per cent. and that the revenue for the sale of unmixed gas would amount to $467,176, while the cost to get it would be $384,582. It is further claimed that the heating power of mixed gas is one-third more than that of manufactured gas.

CANNERY HELP LACKING.

Registration of Employees Shows Lack—Fruit May Be Sent Where Labor Is Abundant.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HANFORD, June 30.—Two months' work in the local branch of the California Fruit Canners' Association commences July 10. Yesterday the management of the cannery began taking applications for positions that have to be filled for the season's run. Nearly 500 hands will be employed. Yesterday's registration was not promising, but being the first day, not much was expected. The indications are for a scarcity of canners.

Eighty tons is the daily amount of fruit cared for by the Hanford plant, if all bought and contracted for is handled. Should there not be enough help here to handle this amount, the surplus will have to be shipped to larger plants in other cities where help is plentiful.

The capacity of the Hanford plant has been doubled by a $7000 addition, just completed, and this section will be used for the first time this season.

A rest room for the women workers has been installed, the entire building whitewashed, and fans to keep the air in circulation and additional ventilation facilities added.

Wages of the 500 employees of the plant average $2.25 a day, making the daily pay roll $1125, or a total of $65,000 for the two months' run.

Ousted.

OFFICIAL NOW EX-SECRETARY.

HUMANE SOCIETY OFFICIAL LOSES HER JOB.

Climax Arises in Troubles Between Commission and Executive Secretary Resulting in Her Dismissal. She Will Appeal—Report for Fiscal Year Shows Large Net Gain.

Mrs. Elisabeth M. Waddell, who has been the controlling force of the work of the Humane Animal Commission for many months past, and who up to yesterday afternoon held the position of executive secretary for this board, is now an "ex"-secretary. She is minus her job, as the commission served formal notice on her at yesterday's meeting that she had been removed from office. Miss Louise E. Britt was appointed temporary secretary, pending civil service examinations for the position. This is the culmination of troubles that have been brewing for several weeks.

"Mrs. Waddell is a very capable woman and I believe has given good service to the city in handling humane animal work," said Mrs. Frances M. Welden, president of the commission, yesterday, "but no secretary can maintain the attitude that her position is superior to the commission itself. We cannot permit such an attitude."

Friction has arisen because members of the commission allege that Mrs. Waddell refused to take orders from the commission, ignored its commands and carried on the work in accordance with her own ideas.

The merits of the case on all sides will be given an ample airing before the Civil Service Commission.

Since the formation of the Humane Animal Commission in September, 1909, to the close of the present fiscal year, the receipts of the commission have been $43,454.4, while the expenses were only $64,405.

Mrs. Waddell has submitted to the Mayor the following summary of the work for the fiscal year, for incorporation in his annual report:

The Humane Animal Commission Department now has charge of all animal work in the city of Los Angeles. Prior to January, 1914, it had charges of only the pound work, but since that date has attended to all cases of cruelty to animals as well.

That the work has been well and impartially done is demonstrated by the fact that rabies is now almost extinct; while up to a year or two ago there was need of a muzzle ordinance for dogs during the summer months for 60 days. The "stray dog," which is nearly always mangy and diseased, is hardly ever heard of.

Cats also find relief under the jurisdiction of this department, and many sick or homeless ones have been taken care of during the past year.

Among the larger animals the work of "preventing cruelty" keeps two men busy constantly; and while this city is not nearly as bad in perpetrating cruelty as many others in the Union, constant watching is nevertheless necessary, and the old saying that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" can be very aptly applied here.

The following is a statistical report for the year 1913-1914 (July to July:)

Pound work—14,032 dogs licensed, 3225 dogs impounded, 2609 dogs destroyed, 584 dogs redeemed, 948 cats destroyed, 627 large animals impounded.

The receipts for the year are about $26,600, and the expense from about $12,000 to $13,000, so the city will have a net gain of about $23,000.

PILOTED FIRST PICO CAR.

Pioneer Los Angeles Electrician Reported Critically Ill at Atlantic City.

Sherman W. Wiggins, who is in charge of the Los Angeles exhibit on the boardwalk in Atlantic City, is critically ill. A dispatch reporting his condition was received yesterday by Frank Wiggins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Secretary and Mrs. Wiggins left immediately for Atlantic City, the sick man being a brother of Mrs. Wiggins.

For several months Mr. Wiggins has suffered from a malignant growth in his throat. He was recently operated on and has failed to rally from the shock of the surgeon's knife. He is well-known in this city as a pioneer electrician. He handled the control level on the first electric street car over the Pico Heights line in 1873, and has been identified in various ways with the development of electricity.

The Public Service.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded to the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and the Pacific Light and Power Company contracts for street lighting for eighteen months, during which time 500 new arc lamps are to be placed.

The contract was awarded yesterday for repaving the Third-street tunnel. The tunnel will not be lined with glazed white tile this year, but the walls will be coated with whitewash.

Parental authority and love play a strange part in the hearing in the Probate Court for the appointment of a guardian for Lester Crawford, who wants to marry Miss Laura Koppe, a fragile girl, and sail for Japan to engage in missionary work.

PROVIDING LIGHT IN DARK PLACES.

FIVE HUNDRED NEW ARC LAMPS TO BE SECURED.

Public Works Board Enters Into Eighteen-Month Contract With Two Power Companies and Long Controversy Is Ended—City Will Have Forty-two Hundred Lights.

For two years or more the city has been "dickering" with the power companies to secure additional street lights. Various terms as to length of proposed contracts have been discussed, but hitch after hitch has developed. Meanwhile the demands for street lights, especially in the suburban sections, have been long and insistent, until there were piled up in the office of the City Electrician applications for more than 500 such utilities.

The city officials wanted to enter into a contract of only one year's duration, believing that aqueduct power might be available by that time for street lighting purposes; the power companies felt that they could not afford to make the required extensions on less than a two-year contract. Finally a compromise was reached and the companies bid on a contract for eighteen months, during which time they are to place 500 new arc lights. This will give the city a total of 4200 street lamps.

Yesterday and the previous day the members of the Council discussed the situation, and it was decided that the best interests of the city would be subserved by authorizing the Board of Public Works to close the contract. It is now deemed certain that at least a year must elapse before the aqueduct power can be utilized and probably it will be eighteen months or two years. Meanwhile the city will get the benefit of the extra street lighting service.

Objection was raised by Councilmen that the rate of the bidders was too high, but it was deemed better to close the contract than to endure further delays. The Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation gets $6.25 a month for the arc lights in the city proper, and the Pacific Light and Power Company gets $1.50 each for the incandescent lamps used in the Hollywood district.

Immediately after the Council decided yesterday to give the proper authorization to the Board of Public Works to sign the contract the board took this action.

RELIEF IN SIGHT.

TUNNEL TO BE IMPROVED.

The Third-street tunnel is to be repaved. After repeated efforts to secure this improvement during the past two years, the machinery is now in full motion to put this bore in condition much more satisfactory to the public.

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded the paving contract to Bryant & Austin for $11,894. The work must be completed within thirty days. This is the second time bids have been asked for on this work, and about $8000 reduction in the bids was made in the second batch.

An effort was made to secure an appropriation for relining the tunnel with white glazed tiles, such as were used on the Hill-street tunnel, but the Budget Committee decided the city could not afford the outlay this year. The walls, however, will be whitewashed, in order to partially dispel the gloom. No system of electric lighting has yet been devised that is capable of properly illuminating this tunnel in day time.

City Hall Brevities.

The City Council yesterday approved the recommendation of the Finance Committee that $750 be appropriated for the use of the General (Fourth) of July Committee. The Council was also notified that the Budget Committee has placed in the new budget an item of $250 for the proper observation of Memorial Day, 1915.

The Council yesterday adopted a resolution introduced by Councilman Wheeler directing the Municipal Charities Commission to post in a conspicuous place in the offices of the Municipal Employment Bureau notices of the nature and character of all positions offered, together with a statement as to whether or not any labor troubles exist in any of the places where positions are offered.

A petition was presented to the Police Commission yesterday for the reopening of South Spring street, between Fifth and Sixth streets, to additional liquor permits. The petition was referred to the Chief for checking frontage represented. It is understood that only three property owners within the block are eligible to sign a petition for the reopening of the block.

The Police Commission approved yesterday the plan of Lieut. Butler of the traffic squad, providing six stands at Central Park for the use of sightseeing autos, and that the operators of these autos must alternate in the use of these locations weekly. The solicitors of business for the cars must remain within twenty feet of their cars.

A complaint from the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association was made to the Police Commission yesterday that a letter issued last year by the commission, recommending a police department souvenir book, is used at present to get business men to make subscriptions and that it is misrepresented to the merchants that the proceeds will go to the benefit of the department. The commission decided to make an investigation.

The City Attorney has given an opinion to the Board of Public Works in regard to the validity of the Pacific Electric's franchise or right to operate the street railway on Echo Park avenue. He holds that the mere fact that the motive power was changed from animal power to electric energy several years ago does not constitute sufficient grounds for declaring a forfeiture of the franchise, which will expire April 15, 1917. The city made no objection to the change in motive power at the time this was done.

Judgments secured by the Pacific Electric, Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation against the city for taxes paid under protest and which are exempted from city collection through the provisions of amendment No. 1, total $10,533.81. The City Council yesterday adopted the report of the Finance Committee recommending that these be paid and an allowance be made for court costs.

The Board of Public Works awarded to the Russell-Greene-Foell Company the contract for underpinning the abutment and west channel pier of the Alliso-street bridge across the Los Angeles River. The contract price is $9262.50.

WOULD BECOME MISSIONARIES.

PARENTAL CONTROL THE ISSUE NOW AT STAKE.

Pasadena Youth Wants to Marry Girl and Go to Japan—Willing, However, if Guardianship Matter Is Dropped, to Remain With His Father Until He Attains Majority.

The question of parental control is as big an issue in the guardianship matter of Lester Crawford as the intensity of his love for Miss Laura Koppe, sweet-faced and fragile, whose ambition is to join hands with her giant boy lover in missionary work in Japan.

"If this guardianship is dropped," said Lester in the Probate Court yesterday, "I will agree to go back to father and remain until I am 21."

Back of this is the unalterable determination of Lester to plan his future life with the girl of his choice by his side. He made no stipulation further than this. Determination is writ large on his mobile face. Personally he does not think he needs a guardian. Chief of Police McIntyre of Pasadena is at present his temporary guardian. Francis E. Crawford, his father, wants the court to appoint him his son's permanent guardian, and Mrs. L. I. Bartlett, the wife of a San Diego physician, also seeks the honor.

Mrs. Bartlett is a friend of both Lester and Laura. She was a good witness for the lovers. Moreover, having had ten years' experience as a nurse in an insane asylum, she spoke almost with the authority of a doctor. In her opinion Lester is a normal youth.

Personally Mrs. Bartlett sees no reason why Lester should not marry Laura and engage in missionary work.

"I would like to see Lester have his freedom," she testified before Judge Rives. "I would like to see him exercise his manhood and have control over his actions in every way. I believe that a young man and a young woman ought to control their own love affairs."

Tomorrow afternoon former Judge Rossiter will call Laura to the stand for an expression of her feelings in the matter. Yesterday her stepfather, J. F. Schauffle, a carpenter, denied any coercion on his part or efforts to wed his stepdaughter to the son of the wealthy real estate dealer.

Once, he testified, he went to Mr. Crawford's house to smooth up matters.

"I knocked at the house," he said, "was asked my name, and was met with a chair."

"You did not think there was much chance for arbitration?" asked Attorney Carter.

"No, indeed, I did not," was the reply.

Mr. Carter put Mr. Schauffle through a stiff cross-examination and the witness's mind not working with the celerity of the lawyer's, his replies halted. Finally Judge Rives remarked to him:

"If your mind is not working right, we will excuse you."

It was extracted from Mr. Schauffle that while Lester was at his house in San Diego, the former mortgaged the place for $400 and gave the money to the boy to go into the real estate business.

Dr. R. Wernigh examined Lester yesterday and testified that he found nothing wrong with his mental condition. He found no indications that he was possessed of a religious mania.

SUE FOR TAX.

AVALON WANTS MONEY.

The alleged refusal of the Banning Company to pay the landing tax imposed by an ordinance of the city of Avalon, resulted in a suit being filed by Attorney Gerlack yesterday to compel the collection of this tax. The suit was brought by Willis M. Lefavor against the City Clerk and the City Tax and License Collector on a writ of mandate. The order to show cause is returnable before Judge Myers July 21.

The ordinance imposes a tax of 10 cents a head for every person landing on the island. It has been paid by one transportation company, and it is alleged that the Banning Company paid it for several months. In a letter to the Board of Trustees, however, the company voiced its refusal to continue payments.

TAKES SON.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Dr. D. W. Thomas, a dentist, who brought suit against Alice W. Thomas for divorce, was ordered by Judge Monroe yesterday to pay his wife $35 a month alimony, pending the trial of the action. He was also ordered to turn back to his wife their little boy, who was in his custody, and criticized by the court for an alleged deception he had practiced.

Mrs. Thomas stated that Dr. Thomas had appeared at her home about a week ago. At his request she dressed the boy for a walk. Father and son set out and the boy was not returned to her. The following day, she said, she was served with notice of a divorce suit.

"OFF THE BAT."

WIFE GIVEN DECREE.

What Mrs. Minnie Hammer actually said to her husband, J. D. Hammer, when she found him hiding in the closet of a neighboring house, was no doubt right from the shoulder. What she said, she said was:

"So here you are, you dog, instead of bringin' home your pay check."

The circumstance of Hammer being in a closet was told by Mrs. Hammer to Judge Monroe briefly as follows. Hammer did not reach home on pay day. Mrs. Hammer went to the house of a neighbor and was in time to see Hammer being taken out by a rear door and into the next house. Suit for divorce was filed and Judge Monroe granted Mrs. Hammer the decree yesterday.

ESTIMATES VARY.

IN SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

The question before the jury in Judge Wilbur's court in the Broadway condemnation suit of the city yesterday was what damage the leasehold on the M. J. Nolan property suffers by reason of the improvement. The property, leased to Condon & Davies, is occupied by the Automobile Clearinghouse Association at Nos. 1039 and 1041 South Broadway, and is 50x356 feet, with a one-story brick building. This building will be cut in two parts, about the middle.

The lessee claimed that the damage to his leasehold interest would be $20,000. The lease has twenty-five months to run, at an average monthly rental of $500.

H. L. Suydam, for the lessee, testified the damage would be $31,000. A damage of $29,200 was placed by a member of the Broadway Realty Company.

Edward D. Silent, for Mr. Nolan, said there would be no damage over the prorata reduction of area and the amount that the rear portion of the property would be impaired by reason of severance.

Guy S. Garner, for Mr. Nolan, testified that the damage would be $5934.33. Paul A. Crippen said the same, but reduced to present cash the value would be $5421.48.

COURT PARAGRAPHS.

PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.

STING TO IT. An alimony order is a business-like proposition just like the business end of a wasp. If it is monkeyed with, it will sting. Some reflections like this may possibly have passed through the mind of W. J. Burt, an automobile man, who was committed to the County Jail by Judge Monroe because he had not paid his wife $35 alimony, as ordered. He was released before he was lodged in jail upon payment of the money. Mrs. Burt has brought suit for divorce.

FACES SENTENCE. Albert M. Castle, a traveling salesman, who led officers a merry chase in this State and went to Oregon, but was arrested when he returned over the line, was committed to the County Jail by Judge Monroe yesterday on a failure-to-provide charge. He is alleged to have deserted his wife and two children. Bonds were fixed at $1500. The preliminary examination will be held tomorrow.

BRIEF WILL. Thomas Lard Patterson disposed of his $12,000 estate to his widow, Mrs. Mary De Van Patterson, on a slip of paper the size of a pocket checkbook. Among other holdings, he owned lots at Twenty-fourth and Arlington streets and Eighth and Merchant streets. The will was filed yesterday by Mrs. Patterson.

HARD FIGHT. In laying the foundation for the claim and delivery suit of the regulars against the outlaw Moose, on trial before Judge Wellborn, a mountain-load of documentary evidence is being used. The evidence is being screened as with a fine-tooth comb, and objections are numerous. No matter which way the case goes, it will be carried to the Supreme Court. The outlaws claim the furniture and say it was bought and paid for with the money of the members. The regulars set up yesterday that the money for the furniture came out of the Moosehead fund.

SUIT COMPROMISED. The damage suit of Taribio Villar against the Royal Laundry Company for $5000 for personal injuries, was compromised in Judge Jackson's court yesterday. The amount agreed upon was $150.

CASE PENDING. Frederick J. Jackson, 21 years of age, magazine writer, who pleaded guilty to a burglary charge on June 6, was severely arraigned by Judge Willis yesterday when his application for probation was heard. The case was continued to July 20, when the judge will decide whether to send the youth to prison or place him on probation.

GIVEN LIFE. For shooting and killing Vivianna Cota, April 12, Frank F. Walden was yesterday sentenced to life imprisonment in San Quentin by Judge Willis. The defense entered the plea of insanity.

MARRIED ON WAGER? Deputy District Attorney Graham is investigating a report that Miss Reatha Watson, not too beautiful, married L. F. Converse on a wager after being told that he had a wife and two children. If such a fact can be proved she will face a bigamy charge.

INCORPORATIONS. Claims and Rating Agency, incorporators G. W. Hawkins, R. L. Rhea and J. W. Quinn, capital stock $10,000, subscribed $10,000; Crescent Bay Waiters' Club, incorporators F. Martel, Joseph H. Lamont and Allen A. Garfield, no capital stock; at a meeting of the board of directors of the Superior Light and Heat Company a resolution was adopted whereby the capital stock of the corporation was reduced from $100,000 to $10,000; Krit-Seal Company, incorporators Richard F. Crittendon, W. J. McLean and Maty S. McLean, capital stock $50,000, subscribed $50,000; Big Pines Limes and Transportation Company, incorporators E. E. Denton, Florence E. Rickerhauser, Frank A. Seabert, E. Saribrandes and Charles E. Rickerhauser, capital stock $1,000,000, subscribed $50; at a meeting of the board of a majority of the stockholders of the Premier Mines Company, a resolution was adopted whereby the number of directors of the corporation was increased from three to five; at a meeting of the board of directors of the Baskerville Audit Company a resolution was adopted whereby the capital stock of the corporation was reduced from $25,000 to $10,000.

TO BE UP TODAY.

Author of Medical Measure Urges Its Adoption Before Session of City Council.

City Prosecutor McKeeby's proposed ordinance providing for compulsory medical treatment for women convicted of vagrancy and found to be afflicted with certain contagious diseases was filed with the City Clerk yesterday, but not in time for presentation to the Council. The subject, however, was discussed.

Mr. McKeeby urged the adoption of the ordinance, and then introduced Richard Bennett, the actor, who spoke for several minutes upon the great need for an ordinance of this character, but declared that its provisions should reach the men as well as the women.

Mr. Bennett declared that 65 per cent. of the blindness of human beings is the result of certain diseases of men and women, whose offspring suffer the penalty. He believes that fully 75 per cent. of the operations on women for functional disorders are traceable to this same source. The situation, says Mr. Bennett, justifies compulsory treatment for men as well as women, if the evils are to be eradicated.

The draft of Mr. McKeeby's ordinance will be formally before the City Council this morning, and will be referred to the Health and Sanitation or the Public Welfare Committee.

FOR PAROLE OFFICER.

The County Civil Service Commission will conduct an examination on Thursday, July 16, at 8:30 a.m., in the Hall of Records, for applicants for appointment as psychopathic parole officer, a position to be created by ordinance. It will be open to both men and women, preferably between the ages of 35 and 50 years, and will pay about $100 per month. Applicants must be experienced in the care of insane and inebriate persons.

ONION SALAD ESCAPES.

In the United States District Court yesterday the civil suit involving the allegation that about 1500 cases of onion salad, consigned to a local concern, were misbranded and adulterated by the manufacturer in Rhode Island, was dismissed on the motion of the Assistant District Attorney. The claim of the government was that saccharine, instead of sugar, had been used to sweeten the stuff; that the use of saccharine is deleterious to health, and it is not a food. The Attorney-General advised withdrawal of the action.

ALL IN JAIL; NO TRIAL.

The case against Joe Flora, charged with Ingwahl Olsen and Roy Workman, with holding up Postmaster A. M. Meyer at Camarillo, and compelling him to open the safe from which they extracted $168.59, was dismissed in the United States District Court yesterday. Olsen and Workman are serving a six-year sentence each in San Quentin and Flora is imprisoned at Ft. Rosecrans on a charge of desertion.

In addition to his alleged escapades in the matrimonial game, Hamilton is wanted by the San Francisco police on charges of having passed fraudulent checks on John Bortfeld, a furniture dealer, and others on L. Warrants have been issued by the authorities at San Bernardino, based on similar accusations, and it is expected that other victims will turn up within a few days.

While the officers are looking for the alleged fugitive, Mrs. Hamilton No. 3 will remain at the Rosslyn Hotel.

ANGELS SCORE AT LEISURE.

Prough Is Paddled for Ten Nice Tallies.

Manager Christian Finishes Up the Game.

Hughes Is Not Required to Exert Himself.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

It appeared to be a plain case of too much class. That was the verdict of those who made it an object to be present.

There were quite a few out, they attending mainly for the purpose of determining to their own satisfaction what ails the Oaks. Nothing seemed to ail them. They acted perfectly natural, losing to the Angels by the grand old score of 10 to 3.

Far be it from me to pick flaws in a club which will permit the home team to have such rare sport.

The trouble with the public is that they have the wrong idea about Oakland. Because the Oaks are not continually injuring the rest of the league the fans do not think that they are a useful institution. To injure others is not the legitimate life work of a tail-ender.

VERY SATISFACTORY.

Every thoroughly satisfactory league must have a tail-ender, and Oakland is one of the most successful little tail-enders which we have seen since they were here last year. The boys are working at their trade at all times. But for their untiring efforts, the other five clubs would not be so high in the race.

"Long Tom" Hughes pitched for Los Angeles. Tom was picking out a soft spot, but he didn't know it.

A tall, dispirited youth entitled "Clint" Prough, assimilated unlimited punishment for four rounds, and then "succame" right in the midst of the fifth. The sight of ten men batting in that inning was too much for "Clint." Half of the ten scored, giving the Angels a run-getting percentage of .500 for the inning.

TO THE RESCUE.

Tyler Christian then went in the box. Tyler did this because he wanted to forget that he is a manager. It carries him back to the carefree days of his youth when he had nothing to do but feel the batter and draw his pay. And he can still pitch. After clearing up the mess which he inherited, Christian twirled so ably that nary an Angel reached second.

Hughes was hit eleven times, but not injuriously. With his mates having piled up a ten-run lead for him as early as the fifth inning, Tom didn't care much what happened, and even went so far as to let Emil Zacher hit him for a home run in the sixth. Even then Hughes might have failed in his good intentions had Maggert cared to interfere. Harl, Ellis and Johnson all consumed much time in fielding the ball.

WOLTER BUSY.

Wolter opened the game for Los Angeles by whacking a triple to right. After that it was just one base hit after another for Wolter, he getting no less than three. Prough deprived him of a hit by walking him in the fourth.

With Kaylor chasing the ball around in a circle as it playfully bounded from one board to another, Wolter drew up at third. There is only one finer sight in the world than a player drawing up at third base. That is to see the same player draw up to the plate at the hotel where the team is stopping. Page grounded to Cook, but Petey wouldn't allow Wolter to score. Maggert singled to left, which removed Wolter entirely from the jurisdiction of Petey. Maggert stole second, Abstein fanned, Ellis flied to Middleton, and it still looked like a ball game.

The contest, however, lost its individuality as such in the second. Johnson singled to right and ran it into a double when Ted Kaylor sat down after stopping the ball. Ted has the right idea. Other outfielders would do well to follow the same system on hot days. The player who sits down frequently during the game will last much longer. It is this mad rush after money and base hits that is making nervous wrecks out of the American people. We must all take more time for our meals, and get more sleep.

GEORGE SPARED.

Metzger drove to Hetling, "Gasoline Gus" making a very poor heave. This spared George and deposited Johnson at third. Right here Hughes showed the tricky side of his nature by beating out a bunt to Cook, Johnson scoring. Wolter scored Johnson with a single to right. "Long Tom," with an amazing burst of speed, went from first to third on this drive. This drew a wild throw from Kaylor, and Tom kept right on to the plate. Wolter reached third before Hetling could run the ball down. Had Kaylor composed himself by sitting down after he stopped the ball the chances are that he would not have made this wild throw. Prough soaked Page. Maggert jammed the ball down to Cook for a double play that retired the side.

Abstein walked and stole second in the third. With two out, Metzger released Bill to the plate with a fine little drive to right. George was run down about half way between first and second, when Prough unexpectedly pulled down Kaylor's throw.

Prough walked a man in the fourth and hit Page again, but the Angels were unable to do any more injurious batting until the fifth, which was the cutest inning of all. Abstein opened this round with a double and then did the square thing by striking out his second time around. His double was followed by a fielder's choice that didn't connect, Mitze taking a bunt by Ellis and throwing to third too late to get Abstein. Johnson and Metzger hit safely, and two runs counted. There was a brief lull, in which Brooks popped to Murphy, and Hughes fanned. Wolter hit to right, Johnson and Metzger completing the final laps of the grand tour.

This was the signal for Prough to be given the prong. Christian de-

CAL EWING IS FULL OF IDEAS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—"There are too many soubrettes in the Coast League," said J. Cal Ewing, part owner of the San Francisco club today. They cost the management anywhere from $200 to $1000 a month, and what good are they?

"If I had my way, I'd cut out this temperament stuff from baseball. I don't want temperament; I want ability. Yes, I'm carrying too many men, now. Not that I believe in it, but that I have to. All the other clubs are, and if I should begin to cut down I'd never hear the last of it from the public.

"Yet show me a club that is gaining anything by carrying from eight to ten pitchers when only four of them, or possibly five, do all the work. Ten or twelve years ago four pitchers was enough for any club, in spite of which we have people who complain that the twenty-man limit is a hardship."

CUP CLASS YACHTS ARE FITTED OUT.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The fitting out of the cup class yachts Defiance and Vanitie for the trial races which begin July 7, at Newport was started today at City Island.

Races set for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week have been canceled in order that the three cup defending candidates may be in the best possible trim for the trials. Resolute is at Bristol, R. I., undergoing repairs.

A Long Chance.

MATTY M'CUE TO TAKE AD'S PLACE AGAINST JOE.

MATTY M'CUE will take Ad Wolgast's place against Joe Rivers July 4.

The match was offered first to Joe Azevedo, the Portuguese boy who fought Ad Wolgast such a tough battle.

T. J. McCarey spoke to him in San Francisco over the long-distance telephone and Azevedo accepted the match. About half an hour later McCarey received an excited telegram from Azevedo stating that his brother had interfered and would not consent to let him fight Rivers on such short notice.

Tom Jones then tore down town, like a fire engine with a renewal of his offer to let Matty McCue fight the Mexican. This time his offer was accepted.

Matty was getting ready to go to bed out at Jack Doyle's when they got him on the telephone and told him to hurry downtown and become a famous personage.

McCue is a peaked-faced little Danish boy who has just turned lightweight. He is 19 years old and does not weigh over 130 pounds. His real name is Matthew Poulson, and he lives in Racine, Wis.

That will be about all for Matty, except to add that, last night, he was about the most excited young man in California.

"I don't care what Rivers weighs," he said, when the weight question was mentioned. "I figure that he might just as well weigh 135 as 133. I won't have much chance to train, but I am always in condition. I don't drink and have never tasted tobacco in my life. I guess I'll manage to make a little excitement in the ring next Saturday. Willie Ritchie got his start in such a way I hope this will lead to my being champion. You know this is a great year for the Danes, with Kid Williams winning the bantamweight championship."

Matty began fighting in 1911 and has had fifteen knockouts. In 1913 he had nineteen fights and eleven of these ended with knockouts. His last fight was with Joe Mandot, whom he beat.

He has had a better education than most fighters, and handles English without violence.

Still Champ.

WILLIAMS BEATS HERMAN IN RED-HOT STRUGGLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW ORLEANS, June 30.—Though Kid Williams, "Fighting tiger of Baltimore," did not drop Kid Herman for the count in their ten-round mill at Pelican Park tonight, the "Wolf-boy" showed some of the stuff which has caused him to be looked upon as the best little piece of fighting machinery ever seen in the ring. The local pride, Herman, though he was clearly outfought by the champion in the majority of rounds, exhibited the gameness and ability to take the hard ones which has made him the greatest little scrapper in Dixie.

The champion is entitled to six of the ten rounds. One can be given to Herman by a clear margin, while he held Williams even in the rest.

Williams got in telling work to the body. He fought himself into the clinches and then out again. Those who were seated close about the ringside saw only too well how much power the little Baltimorean put behind his punches and it would not be far-fetched to say that one of Williams's blows counted for five of Herman's.

Before the superior weight and brutal strength of his powerfully built opponent, Herman had no show of standing and swapping punches though at times he showed flashes of fighting which caught Williams off his guard and sent the "Wolf-boy" back on his heels.

Herman got in his stride in the initial round, though it may have been Williams's determined onslaught which woke the local boy up. Though outfought in the early part, Herman got started in the latter half and did enough to earn even honors. The second round, like the first, was practically even, Herman getting a few clean lefts to the face and once or twice worked a volley of punches to the stomach in the clinches.

The third round the champion at times completely smothered Herman with his vicious attacks. The third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh were Williams's rounds, most of them by clear margins.

However, the telling work Williams had got in to the body began to show its effect. Herman's left eye, which had closed in the earlier rounds, was completely on the blink and Herman showed every other sign of having met his master.

Eager to score a knockout over his ambitious challenger, the "Tiger" stretched himself to the limit in the ninth and tenth rounds, but he was not equal to the task. Do what he would, send in his hardest and most telling wallops, he could not bring the little Italian to the floor nor even put him on the verge of a knockdown.

For Blood and Titles.

COAST TENNIS STARS TO SHINE AT BEACH TODAY.

BY WILLIAM M. HENRY.

STARTING shortly after breakfast this morning and stopping only occasionally for meals and sleep, the pick of the Pacific Coast tennis players will battle for the title of Coast doubles champions, hoping to have the same tacked after the names of two of their number by Saturday at suppertime.

For the first time in several years the tournament is to be played on the Virginia courts at Long Beach. In the past the cement courts of the Los Angeles Country Club have been the scene of the tourney, but for some unknown reason the spectators didn't seem to want to go out there, and hence the change.

In spite of the lack of appreciative spectators, the last two tourneys have been productive of the national champions in 1912 and the challengers in 1913.

LOOKS GOOD.

That the present tourney will be as great a success as either of these is the opinion of practically every one connected with the arranging of the event.

The northern part of the State, usually represented by several speedy teams, is to have only one team in the field this year, but the class of this one team is appalling. Griffin, the older, was a member of the challenging team last year, while the other, Willie Johnston, was ranked fourth among the American tennis players for 1913.

That this team is stronger than the Strachan-Griffin combination which nearly scared the champions into an early grave last year, is the claim of those who have seen the two men play together. To date, their teamwork has not been of the highest order, but individually they are as fine a pair as can be imagined, and their styles are suited to each other. They seem only to need practice.

This afternoon at 2:45 they are due to make their first appearance south of the Tehachepi and they will be eagerly watched by many when

BOBBY DAVIS TIES SCORE.

Smacks Two-Bagger Against the Fence.

Roy Hitt's String of Wins Is Finally Broken.

Speas Scores Rogers in the Ninth Round.

PORTLAND (Or.) June 30.—It was a pretty game and any good fan would have gone miles to see such a repeater as was the 3-to-2 game which went to the Beavers today on their opening of the present series of eight games with Venice.

Manager McCredie sent Elmer Rieger to the mound, while Roy Hitt, who had won six straight games up to today, started the twirling for Venice. Buddy Ryan rejoined the locals and played center field, and it was a welcomed return. The Venetians could get only two runs and had the game won up to the eighth, when the Beavers tied the score and in the ninth nailed one more and the game.

DAVIS DID IT.

Venice's lonely two came in the second and fourth innings. Portland's batting rally in the eighth and Bobby Davis's two-bagger, as a pinch-hitter, saved the day for the Beavers.

Despite a red-hot temperature—something around 90 deg.—nearly 2500 fans were in at the killing. It was a wild-eyed, gloriously-buoyant assemblage that quit the grounds after the dramatic climax.

Three thousand fans had been waiting two weeks for a place to unload some outdoor language and the rally came at a psychological moment.

While Buddy Ryan, Bobby Davis and Bill Speas hold the bridge in the postmortem, let us not forget that three errors by Bill Leard and McArdle of the Venice infield, crept into the box score by main force and helped put the winning run across in the ninth inning.

THE FINAL TALLY.

These boots and a deliberate pass to Kores filled the bases and Speas belted in the clincher with a slant off the right field fence.

Walter McCredie's strategic maneuvers and a pinch two-bagger by Bobby Davis were easily the big noises of the scintillating eighth.

Buddy Ryan opened the eighth inning with a screaming two-base swat to right centerfield. McCredie "crossed" everybody at this juncture by ordering Speas to sacrifice Ryan to third, which he did. Brashear, batting for Lober, drove a long sacrifice fly to left field and Ryan hoofed it across for Portland's first tally.

With the score 2 to 1 and two out hope, however, seemed far remote, when suddenly out of the gloom Catcher Yantz placed a drive to center. Fandom sat up straight again and craned its 3000 necks. Mac also sat up. The astute manager sent Doane to first to run for Yantz and Davis out to bat for Rieger, and this saved the game.

A TWO-BAGGER.

Davis duplicated his 1913 debut stunt by smacking a two-base hit into right center, and, before the Venice outfielders could gather in the horsehide, the fleet-footed Doane was across with the tying run.

Southpaw Evans had to take the mound in the ninth because of Rieger's retirement in favor of Davis, and Evans employed painless methods. Litschi, Borton and McArdle went down in one-two-three quick time.

It paved the way for the extraordinary ninth-inning finale. Leard began by dropping Derrick's infield fly and McArdle assisted in the obsequies by dropping Hitt's throw on Rodgers's bunt. Both went safe and Kores was then passed to get at Buddy Ryan. Bud forced Derrick at the plate. Speas had hit in tough luck all day, but this time he took no chances and his belt against the right field fence put the winning run across.

SHAMROCK HAS WONDERFUL AND COSTLY STEEL MAST.

BY MARSHALL D. TAYLOR.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONDON (Eng.) June 20.—In British sporting circles at the present moment, Shamrock IV is England's "apple of the eye." The whole country is talking of this wonderful craft and the great things expected of Sir Thomas Lipton's newest challenger in the forthcoming race for the America's cup.

The mast of this latest wonder of the yachting world is unique in build and design. To an ordinary human there appears to be nothing wonderful in the construction of the mast. It resembles the usual racing spar, but of gigantic proportions. The ordinary hollow mast is generally built in two pieces. Shamrock's sail-carrier is composed of no less than twenty-two separate parts, all joined together with such care and skill that only an expert can detect the difference.

The lower part, up to the topmast socket, is about 117 feet in length, with a diameter of some twenty-three inches at the thickest end. This mast is hollow. If there were no obstructions a small boy could be dropped through its entire length. To withstand transverse stress, the mast has been made solid at the heel, the deck and the hounds.

At only one point is this wonderful mast rigidly fixed—in the step at the heel—about seven feet below the deck. Above these are struts and cross-trees to increase the tensions of the flexible wire ropes with which it is stayed, while at the deck its circumference is encircled by a rubber collar.

A feat of considerable engineering skill was accomplished when this mast was pronounced ready to be stepped. After temporarily fitting these twenty-two pieces together, the core was then removed and every section rigidly inspected. The various pieces were then replaced and glued together under tremendous pressure.

The construction of this mast sounds simple and inexpensive. But when I tell you that the finished mast weighs about fifty-five hundredweight, or two and three-quarter tons, and cost nearly $3500, it readily can be seen that this unique sail-carrier is worthy of the care and skill so thoughtfully bestowed upon it.

A solid pine mast of similar dimensions would weigh as much as six tons. In order to run no risks of accident to this mast, Sir Thomas Lipton has had a second one constructed, also a light steel spar as an additional safeguard.

Yesterday the water line marks were examined and pronounced satisfactory. The designed water line length is seventy-five feet. Yesterday's measurements gave a length of seventy-four feet eleven inches. This challenger is the last word in British yacht building. If the Shamrock IV is beaten it will mean that America is not only supreme in the building of yachts, but in the manning and racing of these grayhounds of the aquatic world of sports.

PANAMA-PACIFIC FAIR EVENTS ARE SCHEDULED.

WALLACE ROBB has returned from Portland, Or., where the plans for the far-western championships at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915 were completed by delegates from Salt Lake City, Denver, Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Track and field, swimming, boxing and wrestling are the sports that will be held in the far-western championship series. Next to the national championship events this will be the most important sporting event of the Panama-Pacific Exposition. July 30 and 31 are the dates for the meet.

The track and field championship will include all events that are on the national programme with only one exception. The two-mile race will be substituted for the five-mile run. A modified marathon over a twelve and three-eighth mile course will be an added feature of the meet. The events on the present schedule are the 100, 220, 440, 880, one-mile and two-mile running events, the 120 and 220-yard hurdles, shot put, hammer throw, pole vault, high jump, running broad jump, running hop, step and jump, discus throw, fifty-six-pound weight and javelin throw. Five points will be counted for first place, three for second, two for third and one for fourth place.

Only three men can be entered in one event by each section. The points will be counted by sections and not by clubs. All the qualifying athletes of Southern California will compete for this section of the West. High school, college, club and unattached men combining to form the strongest team for each section.

The boxing bouts will be held on April 14 and 15 while the wrestling matches come on April 12 and 13. The contestants will meet in the 108, 115, 125, 135, 145, 158, 175 pound and heavyweight classes. The winner will score three points and the runner up one point.

July 16 and 17 are the dates set for the swimming championships. The entries can be unlimited in number and will race in the 50, 100, 220, 440, 880 and mile distances. A mile relay for four men is also scheduled. Additional events are the 150-yard back stroke, 200-yard breast stroke, plunge for distance, fancy diving from a spring board and high diving from a firm footing. Points will be counted five, three and one in the swimming events.

This completes a splendid list of sports for competition in the far-western championships, which loom up as one of the biggest athletic events of the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915.

YACHT WRECKED.

PROVINCETOWN (Mass.) June 30.—The schooner yacht Virginia, which went ashore near the Wood End life-saving station during a fog early today, was pulled off, apparently undamaged, by a steamer at high tide this afternoon, and towed into the harbor. No one on board was injured.

ELLIS HAS HIT SAFELY IN TEN STRAIGHT GAMES.

In Only One Game Out of Last Eighteen Has He Failed to Land Lick—Berry Gets Joe Gedeon, Crack Utility Man from Washington—Christian Has Hopes for Oakland Club.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

"RUBE" ELLIS has done much in the past fortnight to raise himself in the esteem of the best people of Rivera—not in a ranching way, for "Rube" has always been known as a great rancher—but as a ball player.

"Rube" has been clicking the ball with clock-like regularity. In this he has been as punctual as a bill collector. He goes out and grabs his safe hit just as regularly as the ordinary person eats breakfast. No one is his hitting spontaneous, muscular or emotional. To bat the ball has become a habit with him, the same as putting on his pants when he gets up in the morning.

He in one game out of the last eighteen had Ellis failed to get one of his hits. "Rube" started in his climb to the .300 division on June 11, adding the ball safely on that occasion and continuing to do so for seven games straight.

On June 20 he experienced a slight slump, going all of twenty-four hours without getting anything more important than a sacrifice. The following day he seemed to be feeling better, for he resumed banging the ball around the place and hasn't since let up. In the last ten games now he has added all the way from one to three base hits.

The record for consecutive hitting is held by Chester Chadbourne. Last year with the Portland club Chadbourne hit safely in twenty-eight consecutive games. Up to that time Hal Chase was the champion in this respect, having gone twenty-seven games in 1907 without failing to get a daily lick.

"Rube's" hits have been open and scoreboard, and what counts more, to the point. In usefulness, meaning number of runs driven in, he stands right to the top among the league's most stalwart batters. Here's hoping that he has a good crop of Valencias.

Christian Discusses Oaks.

We made bold to ask Tyler Christian yesterday whether he intends to transfer the Oakland ball club or let it ride.

"Contrary to general belief, Christian is not ashamed of his ball team. When I took the club it was completely demoralized," said Christian. "We have not been winning a majority of our games, but the men are showing the right spirit. In bringing about, I feel that I have accomplished something. Few outside the inner circle realise the condition of the club when it was handed over to me. Immediately after I took the management, the men all assured me of their loyalty.

"But the club had been losing, and many of the men had lost heart. It will take time to get them out of the rut into which they had fallen. I do not intend to be an alibi manager, but a lot of the breaks have been against us. I consider that part of the game. One of these times we will begin getting the breaks, and then we will win.

"Although losing, the club has been playing better ball, and an analysis of the scores will show that we have made more runs off the same number of hits in the past month than before. We have got into the winning column last week. He is right for the first time since joining the club. Confidence has been restored. He was a badly-discouraged pitcher when I took the club. The team had failed to make any runs behind him. The result was that he felt he was beaten before he went in the box. He has taken a big brace, and I expect him to be one of the club's leading stars from now on.

"Undoubtedly there will have to be changes made before the team gets into the contending class. Just what these will be I have not fully determined, but steps will be taken to strengthen the line-up."

Oaks Not in Race.

While Christian is keeping a stiff upper lip, the chances are that he does not hope for much this season, and is doing most of his figuring with the 1915 race uppermost in his mind's eye.

With the present race almost half run, and the Oaks more than 200 points behind the leaders, their prospects for ever getting out of the cellar are not particularly roseate.

In order for the Oaks to make any progress at all it will be necessary for them to play a lot better ball than any other team in the league, and that would be going some. This year there are no weak sisters among the five other clubs. If Christian can get the club out of the cellar between now and October he will have done a year's work.

Killilay Was Doomed.

Art Devlin, it seems, had fully decided to divest the Oakland club of Jack Killilay. The only thing that prevented this was the fact that Oakland divested itself of Devlin before he had a chance to put his plan into execution.

Devlin would have traded Killilay for a second-hand harmonica, and failing in that would have given a bonus to anyone who would have taken him off his hands.

"What are you going to do with Killilay?" was the first question shot at Christian when he was appointed manager.

"I am going to buy him a ticket for Portland," replied Tyler.

That week Killilay pitched the only game which Oakland won from the Beavers.

Give Jack two or three runs, and he is generally a good bet in any man's league.

Would "Farm" Murphy.

Christian is making an effort to "farm" Murphy to some club in the Northwestern League.

"He is too good a player to turn loose," said Christian, "but I would like to place him some place where he can have steady work, and then recall him in the fall. He is a good hitter, and I believe that he can be developed into a high-class outfielder. The clubs with which I have been dickering hesitate about taking him under an 'optional agreement.'"

Murphy broke into baseball as an outfielder. He later took up infielding, and it was in the latter capacity that he joined Oakland.

He did more than his share of Oakland's hitting yesterday, and showed almost enough "pep" to get fired.

Quinlan Suspended.

Tommy Quinlan yesterday received a message from the league president notifying him that he cannot play ball for three days, and that his next pay check will be short twenty perfectly good bucks.

All these things are the penalty for words he is suspected of having spoken in the hearing of Messrs. Guthrie and Hayes in Sacramento last week. Christian thinks that President Baum must have been misinformed. He says that Quinlan committed no misdeed. Tommy himself says that he didn't even think a bad thought.

BAYLESS TO JOIN SOX NEXT YEAR, NOT THIS—SAYS HOGAN.

PORTLAND (Or.) June 30.—"There's nothing to the press article to the effect that Dick Bayless will be sent to the Chicago White Sox in the next six weeks. We couldn't afford to weaken our team right now. Bayless is the most valuable player in the Coast League right now, and it would almost be suicide to have him off our club."

That was the statement made today here by Happy Hogan, manager of the Venice club.

"Mr. Maier would rather win the Pacific Coast League pennant than $100,000 in the middle of the street," continued Hogan. "This year we have our best chance to gather the championship and we are not going to weaken the club at this stage. Bayless is just as big an asset to us as Buddy Ryan was to McCredie in 1911.

"It is cut and dried for Bayless to go to the White Sox in 1915, but throughout this year he will remain with us. He has driven in more runs by far than any man in the league and if he continues his good work we will win the pennant."

Capt. Bayless tonight picked Venice, Portland and Los Angeles to finish one, two, three in the league at end of season.

Looks Bad for Billy.

GEORGE CHIP A 10-TO-8 FAVORITE OVER MURRAY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—Betting odds continue with George Chip a 10-to-8 favorite over Billy Murray for their July 4 go, which is likely the price that will be maintained until the match. Murray's rather disappointing workouts in the gymnasium are largely responsible for the price that has been established, although the confidence of Los Angeles fight fans, together with the fact that Chip knocked out Petroskey, has tended to destroy confidence in the future success of the Californian.

If appearances count for anything, George Chip doubtless deserves to be rated the 10-to-8 favorite he is held over Fighting Billy Murray. The New Castle (Pa.) middleweight had his inning at the Olympic Club at the noon hour today and his work was so distinct an improvement over the performance of Murray that he gained many friends for himself. Chip showed action and life in the ring, which Murray did not.

Found One at Last.

JACK ROOT TO REFEREE THE CROSS-WATSON BOUT.

SAN DIEGO, June 30.—Jack Root, ex-heavyweight fighter, was today selected to referee the Leach Cross-Red Watson boxing contest to be staged at Athletic Park July 4.

Cross and Watson both put in busy sessions in their training camps today. Leach boxed nine rounds in all, three with Danny Cullen, two with Kid Dalton and four with Patsy Reilly. Watson boxed two rounds each with Solly Burns and Jem Percy, but put in eleven rounds' work at skipping rope, shadow boxing and bag punching. Both are practically at weight. They are to make 135 pounds at 10 o'clock.

Few bets have been registered, with Cross on the long end.

Some Watson money, at 2 to 1, is open, while Cross' backers refuse to give better than 10 to 6.

Cross and Watson are both optimistic of winning. A friend of the brick-top was telling what a hard hitter Watson was today, when Cross interrupted him and inquired as to the whereabouts of Red's private graveyard. This brought a good laugh from the crowd at Cross's training quarters. He is located at the San Diego Rowing Club.

The local ball yard is fast getting to resemble a regular fight pavilion, and final work on the seats is expected to be completed Thursday. The seating capacity will be about 8000.

Seat reservations are coming in fast. It is possible arrangements will be made for a special fight train from Los Angeles. Two automobiles advertising the local fight were to invade Los Angeles Wednesday.

Promoter Gritton today closed with Eddie McAuliffe in Los Angeles to box George Thompson ten rounds here July 10.

ELEVEN RUNS IN ONE LUMP.

Sacs Smear Three Heavers in the Fourth.

Pete Standridge Is the First Victim.

Leifield and Tozer Aren't Much Better.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—Sacramento mangled three San Francisco pitchers, Standridge, Leifield and Tozer, today and gathered in the opening game by a score of 17 to 4.

The Seals were sailing softly along with a three-run lead when the fourth inning commenced. Then something else commenced. Coy started it with a two-bagger and when the smoke of slugging had cleared, the Sacs had eight hits and eleven runs in their column for the inning. The Wolves kept on pounding the ball for the rest of the game. Score:

JOE AZEVEDO REFUSES OFFER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND, June 30.—Joe Azevedo, Oakland lightweight boxer, announced through his manager, James Rohan, tonight that he would not accept an offer by Promoter Thomas McCarey of Los Angeles to box Jie Rivers in the southern city July 4 in place of Al Wolgast, who has broken his arm.

"We wouldn't get into Los Angeles until Wednesday and would have only a couple of days to get Azevedo in trim for the fight, so we decided not to accept McCarey's offer," said Rohan.

Shows Nerve.

BOMBY WELLS COMES BACK IN A SPECTACULAR FIGHT.

LONDON, June 30.—Bombardier Wells, the English pugilist, knocked out Conlin Bell, an Australian boxer, in the second round at the Olympia tonight. The contest was for the heavyweight championship of the British empire.

Wells, by his victory, won $10,000 and regained some of his lost prestige, for while it was recognized that so far as science was concerned, he was in a position to meet any heavyweight, his frequent defeats led to the opinion that he lacked the stamina and nerve necessary to make him a first-class fighter. But the form he displayed tonight against the rugged Australian champion has again caused him to be numbered among the "white hopes."

RUSHED HIM.

In the opening round Bell used rushing tactics, making play for the Bombardier's weak spot, his stomach, but the Englishman kept cool and made excellent use of his superior science, several times stopping Bell with well-directed lefts to the face.

In the second round Bell sent Wells to his knees with a swing to the jaw. No sooner was the Englishman back on his feet than Bell rushed again, expecting to finish him, but the Bombardier landed a terrific right to the point of the jaw, sending Bell to the mat, where he remained until counted out.

Wells's victory was cheered by the big crowd for several minutes.

The preliminary was a twenty-round bout between Harry Stone of America and Johnny Summers of England. It was a fast contest, but ended in a draw. Stone had defeated Summers twice previously.

Among the crowd that filled the vast arena were many fashionably-attired women, who displayed great interest in the fighting and were quick to applaud any fast exchange of blows.

KILLIFER CASE FINALLY OVER.

Still Belongs to Phillies, Declares Court.

Federals Are Hit a Very Hard Blow.

Injunction Is Denied by Supreme Judge.

CINCINNATI, June 30.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals here today affirmed the decision of United States District Judge Sessions in the case of Catcher William H. Killifer, Jr. Judge Sessions had refused to grant in injunction asked for by the Chicago Federal League club restraining Killifer from playing with the Philadelphia National League club and the case had been appealed.

Killifer, who was under reservation to the Philadelphia Nationals, signed a Federal League contract and jumped to that league. Later he reconsidered his action and went back to the Philadelphia National League team. The Chicago Federals then sought an injunction restraining him from playing with the Philadelphia club, but in a decision rendered at Grand Rapids, Mich., on April 10 last, United States Judge Sessions denied the injunction because, in his opinion, the Federals had not come into court with "clean hands." The Federals then asked that an appeal be allowed, and Judge Sessions granted this request.

In its appeal the Chicago Federal League team contended that Judge Sessions had erred in his decision because he did not grant the temporary injunction and because it had come into court with "clean hands."

KILLIFER ELATED, DOOIN MUCH ELATED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, June 30.—William H. Killifer, catcher of the Philadelphia Nationals, was highly elated when informed tonight that the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati had affirmed the decision of the lower court in denying an injunction to the Chicago Federal League club to restrain him from playing with the Philadelphia team.

"This is certainly a great victory for us," he said.

Charlie Dooin, manager of the Philadelphia Nationals, said: "Of course, it is pleasing news, though not surprising, for I could not see how the decision could be otherwise."

NEW SHOW FOR MOROSCO ROUNDING INTO SHAPE.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

IF HARD WORK counts for anything, then "The Money Getters," which comes to the Morosco next week, ought to be a big winner. Walter Lawrence, who is directing the production, is positively able to wear the clothes of Walter Catlet, the panatela comedian, of the Burbank stock.

Even Col. Braden has taken off his coat and gone to work, and Frances Cameron is working out a role that promises to be radically different from any she has yet essayed.

And over at the Burbank they are putting in some hard licks, too, on "The Remittance Man," the chief interest in which centers in the return to the local stage of Harrison Hunter, late with "Mrs. Smith."

Have you looked over those gowns Valeska Suratt is wearing at the Orpheum this week? Some gowns, but whether they would pass on the street is something that couldn't be decided without a try.

But the dress display is not to be one-sided, as, in a week or so, Percy Bronson will be in town with the latest for men, so that we, too, can figure out what to wear.

Although regardless of Suratt or Bronson, the proper garb is a bathing suit and a cake of ice.

Feeding the elephants at the Empress is quite some stunt, and just goes to show that nowadays the most interesting entertainment is behind the scenes.

Take the Hippodrome for example. Imagine the consternation of the ushers when they found a girl on the floor, doing twice as good work as they did.

Manager Fountain was appealed to, and though in the dark, let the matter ride, supposing that someone had framed up something on the girl. Only it turned out that she belongs to one of the acts, and now has a standing offer to be head usher at the Hip in case the show is cancelled.

If all reports are correct, Morosco is due in town today, but will only stick around for a week or two.

There is another black cat at the Burbank, so one can figure that the coming season will be a great success. Haven't figured out yet whether it is Cap Jones or Billy Ervast, who is the magnet.

Tradition has it that the Burbank always had a black cat for a mascot. First there was Polly, best loved of all, and now Zip, who is also a great favorite.

Even Zip could not shoo the newcomer away, so it was donated to the stage and has been christened Polly the second.

Dick Ferris sends word from Minneapolis that everything is fine in "the old home town," but adds, as usual, that he wants to get back.

HENLEY REGATTA WILL BE A ROWING CLASSIC.

HENLEY, June 30.—Henley is prepared for a record royal regatta, which, beginning tomorrow, will continue until July 4.

Interest in the racing, particularly in the contest for the grand challenge cup, in which four countries—United States, Canada, Germany and Great Britain—will compete for the aquatic supremacy, never was so intense. A crowd, surpassing even that present in 1912, when the King was among the spectators, is looked for.

The hotels, house boats and cottages house many Americans. Alfred G. Vanderbilt's big houseboat is again one of the attractions of the river, and is more gaily decorated than ever in honor of the American crews. The American Rhodes scholars are here in force, and along the tow path the colors of many American colleges are seen.

The Harvard and Boston crews were out morning and evening, but engaged only in starting practice. The men are showing fine condition, the warm weather, unusual in England, favoring them. While the American oarsmen are hopeful they decline to be led into predictions.

The English experts consider the Harvard oarsmen the most dangerous crew on the river and predict that Harvard and Winnipeg, another fine crew, will come together in the final for the grand challenge cup.

The Union Boat Club oarsmen of Boston, however, are expected to give a good account of themselves, and many favor them over Harvard.

Apparently there is not so much hope for the American scullers. Paul Withington of Boston, who is entered for the Diamond sculls, has been devoting himself almost exclusively to the eights. He is drawn against Tann of the Thames Rowing Club, but has not been practicing to any great extent in the single shell.

James B. Ayer, Boston, and William Tudor Gardiner of the Union Boat Club, are in good form, but by those who have been watching the trials, are considered hardly the equal of R. Dibble, the amateur champion of America, who represents the Don Rowing Club of Toronto.

BERT NIEHOFF GOES TO FEDS.

CHICAGO, June 30.—Bert Niehoff, third baseman for the Cincinnati National League club, has jumped to the Federal League, it was reported tonight. It is thought he will play with the St. Louis club.

Niehoff warmed up with his teammates at the West Side park this afternoon, but when the game was called he was nowhere in sight. He reappeared a few minutes later in a box where Joe Tinker, manager of the Chicago Federals, sat. The two remained there throughout the game.

Angels Beat Oaks.

scended to the ranks and threw up something which Page hit to left, scoring Wolter. Maggert beat out a bunt to Gardner. This was a great shock to the Oaks, they figuring that no batter would attempt anything like that with two out. Abstein, around for a second hand-out, was ruthlessly slaughtered on strikes. Christian had us completely cowed in the last three innings.

Zacher, Murphy and Mitze bunched hits on Hughes for Oakland's first run in the fourth. Tom, being a genial cuss, grooved one in the sixth, and Zacher leaned upon it for a polite homer to center. A walk and hits by Middleton and Kaylor enabled the Oaks to collect their final in the seventh.

VENICE DOG SHOW WILL HAVE MANY FINE ENTRIES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, June 30.—Friday the Bayside Kennel Club will open its bench show in the auditorium on the pier. The big show will continue for three days. Several fine prizes are up, among the most coveted being the cups offered by the Viscountess Vallerort of England, and the city of Venice.

The prizes were exhibited in San Francisco, Los Angeles, and now they will be shown here. Hobart Bosworth of the Jack London film-plays producing company, has entered his prize dog, "Snookums."

Abbot Kinney has put up three cups as first prizes in the pointer, setter and spaniel classes. There are ten other prizes in the pointer class, while twenty special prizes have been offered in the toy class.

The latest entry is that of the bulldog family, there being entries of all kinds, and nearly every breed known is to be seen at this show.

First and second prizes will be given for the best-dressed exhibition bench, and the judges for this will be newspaper correspondents of Los Angeles papers who live on this beach. Harry Lacy of Boston will be the head judge of all breeds.

CLUB PRESIDENT REPORTED DEAD.

DECATUR (Ill.) June 30.—Virg H. Sanders, president of the Decatur Three I baseball club died early today at Albuquerque, N. M., of tuberculosis.

Tennis Stars at Beach.

they stack up against Donley and Winne, two youngsters who have drawn the honorable job of sacrifices at the altar of greatness.

What would appear to be the star match of the morning is scheduled for 11:30, when Eastman and Alber meet Herd and Dawson. Both of these teams are to be classed right up in the front row and unless all signs fail there should be a great battle which is likely to cost the participants a late lunch.

At 1:30 the match, which on paper looks to be the real headliner, is scheduled when Freeman and Newell meet Browne and Wayne. The latter pair are touted by those in the know as the "hopes" of the South. Whatever that title may signify, it rests upon very capable shoulders. These two appear to form the strongest team put up by the South in a good many years.

SOME PAIR.

Freeman and Newell are just the pair to make them show everything they have in order to win. Freeman was State champion back in the days when everybody carried revolvers, and street-car conductors took Mexican money, but in last year's Southern California tournament he demonstarted that he was far from being a dead one by cleaning up no less a dignitary than Cliff Herd in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2.

Newell is a fitting partner for him, being quite a sensational player at times, and between them they should manage to keep Browne and Wayne busy for a fair part of the afternoon.

Following are the matches scheduled for today and the time at which they are to be played:

Court 1.—At 11 o'clock, Peterson and McNaughton vs. Variel and Adams; 11:30, Eastman and Alber vs. Herd and Dawson; 1:30, Freeman and Newell vs. Browne and Wayne; 2:45, Braly and Duncan vs. Pedley and Pedley; 3:00, Leach and Boyer vs. Bell and Hart; 4:00, Young and E. Rogers vs. Barker and Noble; 5:15, winner Eastman-Alber and Herd-Dawson vs. winner Rogers-Rogers and Boyd-partner.

Court 2.—At 9 o'clock, Sinsabaugh and Mace vs. Goodwin and partner; 10:15, Morris and Brent vs. Harriman and Egbert; 11:30 Rogers and Rogers vs. Boyd and partner; 1:30, winner Sinsabaugh-Mace and Goodwin-partner vs. winner Morris-Brent and Harriman-Egbert; 3:45, Johnston and Griffin vs. Donley and Winne; 4:00, McCormick and Barber vs. Hopper and Bumiller; 5:15, Shook and Bowers vs. Riddell and Ferguson.

TRIPLE TIE ENDS ENGLISH JOUST.

Alf MacKenzie won the final game of the schedule in the Majestic English billiard handicap tournament last evening, scoring 400 to 167, made by Langham, who was playing for 250. MacKenzie made high break of thirty points.

This result establishes a triple tie for third place between H. Box (250,) Hughes (400) and MacKenzie (400,) which is to be played off later. First place was taken by J. G. Wilder and second by Jack Ingram.

GILMORE PLEASED WITH FED AFFAIRS.

CHICAGO, June 30.—President Gilmore of the Federal League, who returned today from Buffalo, announced that he had fined Umpire Anderson $50 for violating a rule which provides that "old" balls must be kept in play as long as possible.

Anderson, it was charged by Kansas City players, in a recent game, kept throwing new balls on to the field.

Gilmore expressed himself well pleased with conditions generally about the circuit except that the league was somewhat disappointed at the lack of support in St. Louis.

KENNETH-MILLER MATCH AT TAFT.

The city of Taft, Cal., will have a twenty-round fight on the Fourth, in keeping with the craze all over the country. Kid Kenneth and Miller, two climbing heavies, are matched in what should be a rattling good bout.

Miller has trained hard for this bout and has been wearing out several sparring partners every day. He can hardly wait until he is in the ring with Kenneth.

The Taft fans expect a good fight and a packed house should result.

ATHLETIC EVENTS AT BIG MEETING.

At the meeting of the delegates of the Young People's Christian Endeavor Societies next Saturday on the Y.M.C.A. Field, numerous athletic events will be held.

Tennis matches for both men and women, baseball and track events are on the sports programme for the day.

The 2000 delegates should have several excellent races and a good ball game.

Democrats Fail to Exclude Liquor Question After a Hard Fight.

Portland Business Men Go on Record Against a Dry State.

For Rent" Signs on All Saloon Properties in West Virginia.

BOISE (Idaho) July 1.—Planks favoring State-wide prohibition were incorporated in the platforms of the Republican, Democratic and Progressive parties assembled in convention here today.

The Democrats were content with recommending the submission to the voters in 1918 of a constitutional amendment. The Progressives declared for that and a statutory enactment for prohibition by the next Legislature. The Republicans went on record for national prohibition, prohibition by constitutional amendment and by statutory enactment in case of failure to get the amendment through the Legislature.

Prohibition had been made the principal issue. The hardest fight on the liquor question was made in the Democratic convention, where it was finally carried by a majority of 122 to 118. Previous ballots taken on attempts to exclude the question from the platform gave the wets better results. The vote of the Republicans
